Christian Churches Must Oppose "Organised Evil"

BRITISH LOYALISTS MAKE SPECIAL APPEAL

We have consistently expressed the view that there appears to be no legitimate hope for the survival of what remains of Western Christian Civilization unless the Christian Church speaks with Authority on the policies of Caesar and insists that these policies conform to the Law which Christ said He came to uphold.

We are therefore pleased to republish from "Candour" of January 25 a special appeal to the Christian Churches from the founder of Empire Loyalist Movement. Mr. A. K. Chesterton:

The organised evil in the modern world has now attained such power over the conduct of affairs that unless it be met and smashed there will soon be little hope for mankind of a tolerable future.

As the British Parliament and Press both refuse to publish the truth about this evil, the time has come to make an urgent appeal to the Christian Churches to study its nature and then accept the responsibility of fighting it.

I can think of nothing more improper than for a layman to attempt to instruct a clergyman on how to discharge his mission of the cure of souls. That is very far from my purpose. What I wish to do is to draw the attention of the clergy to matters, which hitherto they may have ignored in the belief that to study them would be to go outside their own province.

"The less I have to do with politics the better," a clergyman once said to me, and as he was speaking of party politics I agreed with him. The organised evil of which I write, however, not only transcends party politics but also makes complete nonsense of them, except in as far as it uses them for its own malignant ends.

What makes my task extremely difficult is the fact that the evil masquerades as good, so that its propaganda is designed to appeal to noble minds. One of the results is that very many Ministers of the Gospel unthinkingly accept its slogans without examining them, as though they represented self-evident truths or expressed emotions, which all Christian men and women instinctively felt.

I give as an example the phrase "universal brotherhood". That seems to arouse in most people — especially in the woolly-minded, or, at any rate, the lazy-minded — an emotion that they regard as impeccable. It follows that whatever they are called upon to do in the cause of universal brotherhood they are likely to consider a Christian act. They will be horrified to be told that it might be an act of the Devil.

If I may say so — and I say it with profound respect — there was nothing woolly in the mind of Christ. He would never have confused labels with realities.

There is a saying: "The ideal is the enemy of the real". It is an alarmingly true saying in the context in which I propose to use it.

The Christian idealist, once his emotion has been aroused by a phrase such as "universal brotherhood" or "the brotherhood of man", is easily persuaded that the concept should be given practical expression in the form of World Government. He assumes as a matter of course that World Government would be good government — indeed, Christian government.

The Christian realist — that is, the man trained to examine causes before he espouses them — would not consider an emotionally coloured phrase legitimate excuse for failing to bring his full intelligence to bear upon the proposal to set up World Government. Once his intelligence was focussed on the problem he would reject as a self-evident absurdity the notion that World Government would necessarily be good government and as palpably false the idea that it could possibly be Christian government.

Yet over a hundred-and-thirty members of the British Parliament have pledged their support for World Government, and Christian Ministers have prayed for the success of the World Government cause without bestowing on it as much thought as they would give to the buying of a pair of shoes.

This disposition to allow emotion to make decisions that should belong to the intellect is to be deplored. I think in some circumstances it can even be described as treason — treason not by intent but by negligence.

The first thing to do, when asked to support World Government, must surely be to discover the identity of the forces, which seek to promote it. I do not mean the visible sponsors, the famous personages, which a cause of this kind invariably attracts. Celebrities are "two-a-penny" in the throng, which gathers around any school of thought — or rather, school of emotion — the moment it becomes fashionable.

World Government entails World Governors. Is that fact alone not enough to suggest the desirability of taking a look at

OUR POLICY

1. The support of all policies rooted in the Christian philosophy of freedom and based upon the Moral Law.
2. The preservation of Australia's sovereignty as a part of the British Empire, and the exposure of all internal and external groups which attack that sovereignty.
3. The preservation and extension of genuine local government.
4. The preservation and strengthening of all Constitutional safeguards for the purpose of protecting fundamental individual rights.
5. The encouragement of all activities designed to bring Governments under more effective control by the electors.
6. The preservation and extension of genuine free, competitive enterprise and private ownership, and opposition to all Monopoly, whether it be "private" or State.
7. The support of a financial policy which will (a) permit free enterprise to make available to all individuals an increasing standard of living and greater leisure for cultural pursuits, (b) result in no further increase to the community's indebtedness and the sound business practice of gradually reducing existing debt. Recognising that the basis of any sound economy is agriculture, the encouragement of agricultural policies, which will ensure the preservation and building up of soil fertility by organic farming and gardening; and the prevention of soil erosion and the protection of forests and watersheds.

the prospective World Governors? Who will they be?

The answer given by World Government advocates is that the Governors will be the representatives of the people of the world. There are over 200,000,000 people in the Soviet Union, nearly 600,000,000 in Red China, 400,000,000 in the Indian sub-continent, over 100,000,000 in Africa, mostly pagan.

It is therefore clear that on a democratic basis no World Government could conceivably be Christian. Is this a matter of indifference to the Christian Churches? Do they have no objection to coming under the dominion of men of other creeds?

In truth, of course, every person who really thinks about it must perceive that the idea of a World Government faithfully representing the billions of human beings who inhabit this globe is a colossal delusion. The supranational authority would function so far beyond the gaze of ordinary men that it would be altogether impossible for ordinary men to subject it to even the remotest control. Thus the question remains: Who would be the World Governors?

The real answer is that control would be the monopoly of the most powerful complex of interests active in the world. At any time in the foreseeable future the complex would be the now dominant New York Money Power.

That Money Power is not Christian. And, whatever it may be in its intention, in its effects it is not good. In its effects it is wholly evil. It is the organised evil, which I mentioned in my opening paragraphs.

How many of even the most highly educated clergymen are aware that the New York Money Power, with certain of its European affiliates, financed and very largely organised the Bolshevik Revolution?

How many of them know that it projected the Soviet Union and fed it with loans, direct or indirect, throughout the inter-war period?

How many know that during the last war it turned the Roosevelt Administration into a virtual annexe of the Kremlin and conspired at Teheran and Yalta to bring the Red hordes into the heart of Europe?

How many have as much as noted that the Dollar Empire and the Soviet Empire divided between themselves the spoils of Indo-China at the expense of the French?

How many of them attach importance to the Popular Front again formed by these Empires to destroy Britain's sphere of influence in the Middle East?

Simpletons may suppose that the attitude of the United Nations during the Suez crisis was one of genuine moral indignation. Intelligent men and women who carry out a thorough examination will reach a different conclusion.

They will discover that the United Nations is the power-instrument of the most ruthless vested interests the world has ever known — the interests I have described as the New York Money Power. The immediate objective of this Power is not to play the part of Sir Galahad towards the Egyptians or anyone else, but to smash the British Commonwealth and Empire.

Its next objective, be it noted, is to create a World Government.

Enough has been written, or so I sincerely hope, to show that Christian Ministers responsive to the appeal of such phrases as "universal brotherhood" have a very real responsibility towards the Christian world to ensure that they are not lured by a false idealism into helping to destroy Christendom.

If my facts are as stated — and for that I vouch — and if the dominant, policy-making interests are evil in their effects, which I believe to be undeniable, is it possible for any Christian clergyman to refuse to investigate the problem which I have tried to present? Can he, as a responsible leader, wash his hands of the business on the ground that it is political — or on any other ground?

The decision is naturally one for his own conscience, but it is difficult to understand how as a Christian he would be able to follow the example of Parliament and Press and allow the Churches to be carried forward by the tide. Evil which presses so closely on every aspect of contemporary life, and which threatens completely to dominate the future, offers a challenge which only the self-seeker or the coward would wish to shirk.

Another and related movement making use of emotionally coloured concepts is that which demands "freedom" for colonial peoples.

Lenin laid down the strategy of destroying the Christian nations by attacking them on their periphery — that is, by divorcing them from their overseas possessions and spheres of influence. Wilson, Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower — the chief agents of the New York Money Power — agree with Lenin. They have all given their names and Presidential office to the anti-colonial cause.

Once again idealism has been adduced as the motive, but the gentlemen on the board, let us say, of the international consortium, which now rules over the oil industry created in Persia by British brains and British money represent interests just about as far removed from any flicker of idealism, as it is possible to be. Once again Christian Ministers have supported a cause on the strength of its emotional content, without

THE HIDDEN HAND

FREEMASONRY AND THE ANTI-CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT

By

Rev. E. Cahill, S.J.

(15/3 posted)

This is one of the best books ever published on the connection between Freemasonry, Jewish International Finance and Communism, and is essential to a clear understanding of present-day affairs and the War against Christ. Fr. Cahill writes:

"The predominating influence of the Masonic Jews in Russian Communism and, indeed, in the whole modern socialistic movement is now commonly admitted."

He goes on to explain that behind national politics, behind professional politicians and showy ambassadors are "certain unpretentious, unknown men, high financiers, who are superior to the vain ephemeral politicians who imagine that they govern the world".

Writing on the PROTOCOLS OF THE LEARNED ELDERS OF ZION, Fr. Cahill says:

"The feature which gives these documents their peculiar interest, and which no amount of adverse criticism or of arguments against their genuineness can explain away, is the startling accuracy with which the recent developments of the anti-Christian and Masonic movement are described almost in detail. The documents were certainly published more than a quarter of a century ago. How is it that they seem to indicate or clearly foreshadow events and social developments, which have taken place during the last fifteen years; and to trace these phenomena to their causes? The obvious explanation would seem to be that the documents, whatever may have been their origin, are based upon accurate knowledge of the Masonic conspiracy; and that the revelations that they purport to contain of the aims and methods of the Masonic Jewish leaders are substantially true."

Fr. Cahill's book contains a wealth of information on the secret society known as the Illuminati whose rites are based upon the Jewish Cabala. He shows how Illuminati members have filtered into the high degrees of Freemasonry and so control the actions of thousands of men who do not understand the purposes for which they are being used.

And one thing is abundantly clear from the many documents quoted: the Communist Manual on Brain-washing, at present used to train specially chosen Communists in the art of DEGRADATION, is nothing more than the plan of the Illuminati brought up to date.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR SOCIAL CREDIT FAMILIES TO MEET

Annual Barbecue on Saturday, Feb. 9

The Annual Social Credit barbecue, held at the lovely property of Mr. W. J. Carruthers, corner of Canterbury and Marlborough Roads, Ringwood, provides all Social Crediters with the opportunity to meet together with their families. The children can enjoy themselves just as much as the grown-ups.

It is guaranteed that the standard of this year's barbecue will equal that of past years. We know that all those who have been before will be there again. But please pass the word around amongst friends and help swell the attendance. The bigger the attendance, the bigger the financial profit, which will be used to help our 1957 campaigning activities.

After much consideration, the organisers have decided that the entrance charge for adults shall be the same as last year: 10/- per head. However, children between 6 years of age and 16 years will be charged half price this year. Supplying food is one of the biggest costs of the barbecue and it is felt that some charge was necessary to help defray the cost of food for the children.

There will be no charge for children under six.

Guests may arrive from 5 p.m. onwards. Those requiring directions for reaching Mr. Carruthers' property should ring our office at MU 2834.

BOOK THE DATE NOW:
SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 9.

Give the whole family an enjoyable evening and swell our fighting funds at the same time.

Money Power Supports Communism

The following report from the American publication, "Human Events", provides further evidence of how the International Money Power, operating from the U.S.A., is helping the Communist conspiracy:

"Following the Hungarian uprising, Soviet Russia unloaded sizeable amounts of gold on the European market. The London 'Times' reported: 'The Soviet Union's increased sales of gold to the West have immediately posed the question of whether Russia is preparing to underwrite Hungary's commercial debts.' The London 'Financial Times' noted: 'Russia is faced with the necessity of giving economic aid to countries like Poland and Hungary . . . 'Whatever currency Russia got for the gold, the fact is that the U.S. policy of accepting gold from any source and giving dollars for it eases Russia's path. We are the residual buyers of all gold; our statutory price determines the world price. The New Deal dollar devaluation put U.S. currency and products on the bargain counter for the entire world. Both the silver and gold programmes subsidized world production of these metals then and still do.

"In wartime we refused to buy 'tainted' gold plundered by the Nazis. But gold bearing the hammer and sickle mark is still treated as untainted. No wonder — it is remarked — that Red Russia continues to be a major gold-mining country, digging up with slave labor the stuff with which to undermine capitalism."

"BRAIN-WASHING"

Secret Communist Textbook

(4/3 post free)

This synthesis of the Communist manual on brainwashing is one of the most shocking documents ever made available on the worldwide conspiracy against Christianity. The manual is used to train secretly chosen Communists in psycho-politics which is defined as "the art and science of asserting and maintaining dominion over the thoughts and loyalties of individuals, officers, bureaus, and masses, and the effecting of the conquest of enemy nations through 'mental healing'." In other words, the aim of psycho-politics is TOTAL DEGRADATION of all people, except the "Chosen Few" of the world bureaucracy who will rule over the rest.

The lectures instruct Communists in the corruption of youth and the exploitation of immorality; they explain to "operators" how to hold sane people in insane asylums without civil rights; how to use the frightful electric shock treatment and brain operations for Communist ends. And an introductory chapter to this book, written by Mr. Eric D. Butler, shows that all these vile arts and sciences are being used, HERE AND NOW, and that a certain type of psychiatry is nothing more than a disguised agency for World Communism.

This terrifying document, whose authenticity has been tested by enquiries in many parts of the world, displays an almost superhuman and devilish insight into the foibles and weaknesses of human beings. It boasts of how income tax was slipped into capitalist countries many years ago as a means towards their ultimate destruction; it shows "operators" how capitalist countries, given over to materialism, will co-operate eagerly in their own downfall.

"The Capitalist does not know the definition of war. He thinks of war as attack with force performed by soldiers and machines. He does not know that a more effective if somewhat longer war can be fought with bread or, in our case, with drugs and the wisdom of our art." It is important that Christians do all in their power to get copies of this hair-raising book into the hands of as many Australians as possible, as quickly as possible.

Social Credit And

"The Eisenhower Doctrine"

It is only necessary to study some of the American opposition to "the Eisenhower Doctrine" for the Middle East to realise that only the Social Crediter, with his understanding of the basic flaw in the present system of finance-costing can fully grasp how the international Money Power is being so successful in its campaign to enslave the world.

Many patriotic Americans have stressed the various dangers of "the Eisenhower Doctrine"; that it gives the President dictatorial powers contrary to the spirit of the American Constitution; that big "give away schemes" have not increased American prestige abroad; and that it will intensify the growth of Big Government and bureaucracy in the U.S.A. Some also realise that it will not stop Communist penetration in the Middle East. But none of this opposition can possibly be effective while Americans accept their present economic and financial rules.

If full employment is accepted as the main purpose of the production system, and if it is insisted that no individual has any right to purchasing power unless he first works, irrespective of whether the work serves a useful or necessary purpose, then every industrialised community must strive to export more than it imports. It is an indisputable fact that only the vast American "give-away" schemes since the war — "Marshall Aid", etc. — have prevented a major economic collapse in the U.S.A. Under present financial rules American industry, as it becomes more efficient, progressively distributes less purchasing power to meet the total prices of the goods for sale. Where automation is introduced, there is only a trickle of purchasing power issued to individuals. Clearly, therefore, disaster can only be averted by the creation of an ever-increasing volume of new financial credit for distribution to individuals through capital works, both private and public — and, of course, through big export schemes.

American businessmen, and many others, see in the "Eisenhower Doctrine" another means by which the economic system in America can be kept functioning intensively by the granting of huge dollar loans for the "reconstruction" of the Middle East. They may not, for example, like Mr. Nehru's Socialist policies, but they welcome big dollar loans to Mr. Nehru because these loans never leave America, but are merely book credits, which Mr. Nehru can use to buy American production. The new credits are spent in the U.S.A. and help maintain full employment.

The real controllers of policy in the U.S.A., those controlling financial policy, are therefore able under present financial rules to exploit the American people and use them in their plans either to enslave the Middle East economically or to allow it to fall to the Communists. We readily admit, of course, that there are plenty of Big Business groups in the U.S.A. who do not look beyond how to devise methods of defeating British and other European business groups. But the real enemy is the Money Power. No matter how well intentioned, American patriots cannot defeat this Power unless they challenge present financial and economic policies.

Communist Penetration of the Roman Catholic Church

Bishop O'Gara's Sensational Address

The League of Rights' "Intelligence Survey" is THE ONLY PUBLICATION, religious or secular, to publish in Australia the sensational address in the U.S.A. by the Most Reverend Cuthbert O'Gara, C.P., exiled Bishop of Yuanling, and a victim of the Chinese Communists' prison camps for 22 months, who charged that American Roman Catholics were being conditioned by the Communists. He gave examples of Communist penetration and influence in the Church.

Amongst those who heard Bishop O'Gara in "awesome silence" were the Apostolic Delegate in the United States, members of the Hierarchy, 400 priests and 2,000 nuns. Copies of the "Intelligence Survey" containing Bishop O'Gara's address are available. — Price 4/-, post free.

Bishop O'Gara's address should be read and studied by members of all Churches, because it indicates the manner in which the Communist conspiracy is weakening and subverting Christianity from within.

Communism and The Race Question

In the fight against Communism and allied movements, it is important that Christians be armed with information as to the 'parentage' and financial backing of organisations active in the political, social and economics spheres.

One such organisation, which has been getting a lot of publicity in the secular and religious press, is the National Association for the Advancement of Coloured People, which is waging a vigorous campaign in the United States for "racial desegregation".

Many well-meaning people have been praising the NAACP without realising that it is a Communist-front organisation run by Communists, Communist-fronters and International Financiers.

To keep the record straight the Victorian League of Rights has issued an 8-page pamphlet documenting the pro-Communist leadership of the NAACP and showing the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court to end 'segregation' in American schools was a pro-Communist manoeuvre carried out by men very much under the influence of Justice Felix Frankfurter who is one of the leaders of the world conspiracy against Christianity.

FURTHER NOTES ON THE KAHAL SYSTEM

The Kahal System, as system, has not been sufficiently publicised, despite the fact that it is an 'organisation' by which a few rich Jews exercise control over Jewish communities and also, in many ways, over the gentile world.

A correspondent in Europe who has made a study of Jewish institutions, writes:

"In all this the gentile shows the highest magnitude of stupidity, part of which is due to his ignorance of the Kahal System. This system, as it used to be in the Russian ghetto, was introduced into England by Disraeli, when he bypassed the House of Commons to get Suez Canal shares. The same system was introduced into the United States by President Wilson, either from natural meanness or manipulated by Col. House, when he signed the Federal Reserve Banking Act. The Kahal System, as distinct from either British or American constitutional government, is rule by an irresponsible group of rich men, who keep a number of their fellows at or near starvation level, or in some way, as underdogs, so that they will do anything to earn a quick dollar, pound or ruble . . ."

It should be remembered that Rothschild was behind Disraeli, and that agents of the Rothschild had been operating in the U.S. for some years before Wilson. Belmont, of the American Conservative Party was a Rothschild agent back in the eighteen-sixties.

Another correspondent, who has examined keenly the history of the past hundred years, writes from London:

"The Jews are so often boisterous and pushing that our parents kept away from them and neglected their history. Being unwarned against Jewish institutions, their oligarchic tyranny, even in their own community organisations, we English failed to notice what Disraeli was up to; and Americans are, on the whole, more casual and less informed than we are on such things . . ."

There is evidence here in Australia that some Jews who want nothing more than a relatively peaceful life, according to Australian standards, pay into the funds of a vicious Jewish organisation, simply because (as they themselves have expressed it) they dare not refuse.

In his book "FACTS ARE FACTS", Benjamin Freedman says: "The Talmud today virtually exercises totalitarian dictatorship over the lives of so-called or self-styled 'Jews' whether they are aware of that fact or not." Freedman quotes from an article by Rabbi Morris N. Kertzer, (published in 1952) in which the Rabbi stated:

"The Talmud consists of 63 books of legal, ethical and historical writings of the ancient rabbis. It was edited five centuries after the birth of Jesus. It is a compendium of law and lore. It is the legal code which forms the basis of Jewish religious law and it is the textbook used in the training of rabbis." Freedman's book contains a number of extracts from the Talmud, which give some idea of the (by European standards) unhealthy outlook of Jews influenced by this "textbook used in the training of rabbis".

Some ramifications of Jewish communal networks are to be seen in The Jewish Communal Register of New York City for the year 1917-1918, a photostat copy of which has been published in the United States by Elizabeth Dilling. At least four international bankers are among the thirty-seven men listed as the community's Executive Committee. An indication of the influence of the Kahal System in Russia before the revolution is given by L. Fry in "WATERS FLOWING EASTWARD". She quotes from "THE BOOK OF THE KAHAL" by Jacob Brafmann, a Jew who became a Christian and wrote apparently with the idea of warning gentiles about the tremendous power of the Kahal System inside Russia. Another indication of Jewish communal life is to be found in "ZIONIST NETWORK" by Jack B. Tenney of California.

In his excellent book "I TESTIFY", Robert Edmondson quotes from the old English monthly "Hidden Hand" (issue of September, 1920):

"In our last issue we published in the 'Spectator' letters a Protocol of a century ago. La Vieille France has gone one better. The Revue des etudes Juives, financed by James de Rothschild, published in 1880 two documents which showed how true the Protocols are in saying that the Learned Elders of Zion have been carrying on their plans for centuries."

Edmondson (whose "I TESTIFY" is, by the way, the best documentation available on the filth that was America under Roosevelt) then quotes this "Rothschild Protocol" extracted by "Hidden Hand" from the Revue des etudes Juives:

"On January 1, 1489, Chemor, Jewish

The Suppressed Truth About Cardinal Mindszenty

We have just received from England limited supplies of a pamphlet, which tells why Cardinal Mindszenty was imprisoned. Reports now being spread throughout the world tell only half the truth.

The brave Cardinal made clear his opposition to Communism, but he also made it very clear that he understood the truth about Jewish influence in Communism. He stood solidly against the anti-Christian attitude of the Jews.

This pamphlet quotes from Communist and Jewish sources to show how Cardinal Mindszenty's attitude towards the Jews was an important factor in his imprisonment.

NEW YORK

THE GENERAL PUBLIC will remain mere animal to be milked if it cannot grasp the difference between fixed charge (rent or interest) and a share (dividend) of something produced.

This is part of what Rothschild meant when he or they wrote that the public will "never understand that it is contrary to their interest". That is, it (the general public) will forever remain under some kind of central thumb unless it gets to understand that local control of local affairs is mere illusion unless it is based on local control of at least part of its own purchasing power. Either power directly to issue tickets, or a voice in the printing of them somewhere else NOT run by a set of idiots or irresponsible enemies.

EISENHOWER

The pragmatism or cowardice of American journalists prevents them from speaking much evil of Roosevelt, though a few now pick on Truman. Eisenhower, in his inaugural address, glorifying the Hungarian revolt, did get as far as mentioning "grinding poverty" as something the whole world is trying to escape from. It will have been observed that he scrupulously refrained from any mention of debt.

However, this much must be said of Ike, in contrast to most American newspapers: a high percentage of his general statements blast Roosevelt and all his tendencies. Americans are so scatter-brained that this pretty well escapes notice. Few, if any, of them ever apply these general statements to particular acts of the late F.D.R., lord of mendacity and prince of the broken word.

SWEDISH POETS

Poets in Sweden (or some of them) are interested in the world around them; they see no special virtue in picking of daisies. Bonniers in Stockholm has issued an anthology of sixteen Swedish poets, collected by Bo Setterlind and denouncing the Hungarian tragedy.

MEASUREMENT

The relative strength of the forces of darkness here in America, against the faint gleams of light, may be gauged by the following: the billions filched from the populace by the Roosevelt-Dexter White policies, gold purchase, purchase of silver etc., as against the last open forum for free discussion of ECONOMIC IDEAS. This forum, called "Social Progress" is a four-page sheet, 9 x 6, printed in Kansas City. It carries plenty of nonsense, pink and otherwise, but its columns are, more or less, open. The issue for January 4, 1957, carries an interesting item:

"In addition to being one of the best years for business, 1956 has also set a record over other post-war years for bankruptcies. In the first ten months of last year there were 10,705 business failures. About one-fifth of the failing firms had been organised in 1955, and nearly all were classified as small business . . ."

PROGRESS IN BARUCHISTAN

Even a periodical in New York, Harper's, groveling along at the level of Gunther, Toynbee, Chester Bowles, Adlai and the Alsops, has got round to admitting that the U.S. National Bonds are a hoax, i.e. that the interest is nullified by depreciation, i.e. the lowering of the purchasing power of the irresponsibly controlled dollar. They might have learned this from Goullart, but it's a bit much to expect a U.S. editor or contributor to have read a book like Goullart's. We suppose that the above admission is a sign of genuine advance in the aged stronghold of propriety and obscurantism.

BROOKLYN TABLET

The Brooklyn Tablet whose editorial policy unfortunately consists in evading the problems of MONETARY ISSUE and the tax system (as distinct from mere complaints about the size of taxes) contained on January 5, one cheering item. The Rev. Gordon Maher has got into the somewhat selected section for letters from readers, a statement that the School of St. Vincent de Paul is encouraging the study of Latin. With regard to fluoridation, the Tablet is not very clear about a distinction between the voluntary and the compelled.

—J.B.

LONDON

It might clarify our thinking if we would, once a week, call our minds back to the basic oppositions, such as the homestead versus the communal farm, or eugenics (or the kind of intelligence used in stock-breeding) versus the mongrelization urged on us by the Jews in UNESCO. There is also the opposition, basic opposition, of the State as a channel of advice, based on correlated information versus the constriction pushed onto the U.S. by Roosevelt's gang or onto England by socialists under socialist banner and Fabians under conservative banner (Macmillan etc.)

LUIGI VILLARI

Out of the ever-present flood of printed matter has come to your correspondent's notice a book on Italian foreign policy, which is not being received enthusiastically, either here or in the United States. It is "Italian Foreign Policy under Mussolini" by Luigi Villari, published by Devin-Adair, New York, price 6 dollars.

English-speaking readers should be grateful to Villari for digging out a bright note from Mr. Churchill to General Franco, dated June 22, 1941, which followed a warning from Franco that Russia was Europe's enemy and that if Russia was let into Germany she would get the latter's scientific know-how. Churchill replied:

"I hope I can prove to you that your fears are devoid of foundation. You say that Communism constitutes the only real danger for Europe . . . it will actually be Russia who is forced more than other nations, to devote herself to large-scale reconstruction and who for this purpose will have need of England and the U.S. I venture to prophesy that, after the war England will be the greatest military power in Europe. I am sure that England's influence will be stronger in Europe than it has been before since the days of the fall of Napoleon."

Villari points out that this exchange of letters was omitted from the English edition of von Papen's Memoirs. On p. 292 Villari has an interesting comment on Benedetto Croce:

"It will be remarked that during the First World War Croce's sympathies were openly on the side of Germany and Austria. In the Second World War he shifted to the side of the western powers. In a public address in Rome he openly stated that he had been glad to see his country defeated, since that defeat had insured the downfall of fascism. He afterwards ingenuously admitted that he had believed blindly in the promises of London radio, that if the Italians got rid of Mussolini and Fascism, they would be treated with the utmost generosity, and that he had been painfully surprised when he found that not one of these promises had been kept."

LITERARY DIGEST

THE WORK OF EZRA POUND

By Eustace Mullins

To those persons who still believe that the poetry of Ezra Pound is too complicated for them, I recommend the first three lines of Canto 89, from his new book, "Section Rock-Drill", containing Cantos 85-95, published by New Directions, 333 Sixth Ave., New York, for $3.00 per copy.

These lines are as follows:

"To know the histories
to know good from evil
And know whom to trust."

Interspersed between these deep and unfathomable sentiments, which are almost as complicated as Yogi Berra's batting average, are two Chinese characters, which are guaranteed to drive most Americans back to their comic books. They simply mean that these ideas were not originated this morning.

Why does Ezra Pound make every other poet writing today sound like a society woman playing at verse making? He has no malicious intent to do so. It is simply that he is writing about something.

Ezra Pound is forging an instrument of wisdom, which can help man come out of his self-induced stupidity. Without Pound's work, modern civilization is more than a bad joke it is a tragedy.

Ezra doesn't comment on "the enormous organized cowardice" merely because that cowardice has allowed him to languish in a modern dungeon, stark and soul killing, for the past 11 years. He only points it out as an underlying motive for almost all political activity in these United States. Fear has replaced greed as the most pressing motivation of the American people. Their bellies are full, and now they worry about who will take their gruel away from them. Ezra knows that there have been civilizations before whose peoples got their bellies full. Some of them left monuments, some did not.

In examining history, Ezra found certain factors present in most wars, famines, revolutions, and other crises. (This is not an anti-Semitic statement.) The Cantos not only present these factors, they explain them, where they come from, why they appear, and what effect they have on the people.

In all this work, Ezra is moved only by his passion for beauty and his passion for truth. These are dangerous forces, which have gotten many men hung, burned, or disemboweled throughout the ages. Ezra has been subjected to the modern treatment, incarceration at the mercy of psychiatrists, who complain that he is "discursive". This was actually named in the indictment, which committed him to St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Washington, D.C., only a stone's throw away from the marble tombstones of our freedoms on Pennsylvania Ave. For the benefit of those who do not understand the crime for which Ezra has spent 11 dreary years in the hellhole, "discursive" means that he talks.

Despite all this, Ezra can still write in these latest Cantos of "Moon's barge over milk-blue water", a line which any of his milkshop contemporaries would give their right arms to be able to put on paper (Mr. Cummings of course is excepted from these remarks). Pound can say, "Not love but that love flows from it," which is a pretty good summation of the works of John Donne, who didn't know how to put it. Pound can say, "Yes, my Ondine, it is so god-damned dry on these rocks", showing that he is not entirely unaware of the problems of earthly existence.

And, even after 11 years in the hellhole, during which there has not been one miniscule effort of any consequence in these United States to free him from a confinement which, if the country survives, will always be a black mark against this people, Ezra Pound can write,

"And there is something decent in the universe

If I can feel all this, dicto millesimo

At the age of whatever."

HOW RED IS THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT?

The answer to this question is to be found, in part, in Elizabeth Churchill Brown's new book "THE ENEMY AT HIS BACK" which has just been published in the United States. The answer, and the facts which support this answer, do not make very pleasant reading for those who support the Christian way of life.

It is clear beyond doubt from this important publication, with its devastating facts, that there are Communists still holding key positions in the American Government, who are able to erect an impenetrable Iron Curtain whenever some investigator begins to probe after them.

In this book Elizabeth Churchill Brown documents every step she takes. She quotes from Congressional Hearings; from government reports and memorandums; from biographies and private letters; and what emerges is the story of a great nation eaten from within — with its vital insides eaten away by Communists, to a stage where American armies, fighting for their lives, can be deprived of supplies by their own government; where members of Congress seeking answers to important questions can be told, in language hardly less blunt, to go jump in the Potomac River.

All this sounds incredible and yet all these things have happened in recent years. Congressman Francis E. Walter, Chairman of the House Committee on un-American Activities, says of Elizabeth Brown's book that it "picks up the Communist line in Moscow and follows it to the United States assembly line of Communists, fellow-travellers and dupes in our government. For the first time the American public will have a clear-inside view of how Communist strategy influenced U.S. policies."

Notes on the Jewish Kahal System

Rabbi of Aries, in Provence, wrote to the Grand Sanhedrin, which had its seat at Constantinople, for advice, as the people of Aries were threatening the synagogues. What should they do? This is the reply:

" 'Dearly beloved brethren in Moses . . . As for what you say that the King of Frances obliges you to become Christians: Do it, since you cannot do otherwise; but let the Law of Moses be kept in your hearts . . .

" 'As for what you say about making attempts on your lives: Make your sons doctors and apothecaries, that they may take away Christians' lives.

" 'As for what you say of their destroying your synagogues: Make your sons canons and clerics that they may destroy Churches.

" 'As for the many other vexations you complain of: Arrange that your sons become advocates and lawyers, and see that they always mix themselves up with the affairs of State, in order that by putting Christians under your yoke, you may dominate the world, and be avenged on them . . .

"Signed V.S.S.V. FF., Prince of the Jews, 21st Casleu (November), 1489."

We are still waiting for a calm, scientific examination of various documents relating to the 'Elders of Zion'. The only honest enquiries so far, it seems, have been a few carried out by unofficial historians, and in all cases, as far as I know, these enquiries have been for various reasons limited and hardly scientific. The general intellectual world seems content to accept the word of liars, or, like the pusillanimous Maritain, to act as parrot for a power, which is perhaps too real for an intellect, atrophied by years of general conclusions arrived at without real knowledge of sufficient particulars.

A Catholic Priest's Australia Day Message

We have much pleasure in publishing the following Australia Day message from a Catholic priest to his congregation:

This weekend should be a great occasion for every Australian, Old and New. Just as Christmas, when we commemorate the Birth of Christ, is a great occasion for all Christians, so, too, January 26th, when we commemorate the birth of Australia, should be a great occasion for all Australians. But for most of us it is merely a long weekend when we don't have to go to work and we can devote all our time to the beach and our favourite games. The reason for this is that we have no real love for our country, no pride in our heritage, no vision of a future destiny. The immediate answer to this criticism is that the Australians are not given to flag-waving or sentimentalities, but this is just another way for saying that Australians couldn't care less; it is simply an excuse for doing nothing.

We have a land unsurpassed anywhere for beauty, colour, and mineral wealth. It has been created, civilised, and developed by men of heroic mould. It has received and is still receiving refugees from Ireland, England, and Europe, and has been made into a land of freedom. Its soldiers have a record of valour unexcelled in the entire world, and they have saved for us the British and Christian traditions. But these traditions are gradually slipping away from us and we don't mind because we don't value them. We are poisoned by a lying propaganda, lulled into a sense of security by a foolish trust in the United States, and betrayed by spineless, irresponsible politicians.

Australia is our country and it is up to us to make it a real nation. To do so we must know our country, its needs and their remedies. We must accept its past as our heritage and hand on that heritage to those who come after us. We must love our country and dedicate ourselves to making it great. For us, Australia comes first, and we must see to it that our Government speaks and acts only in the interests of Australia. Let no flag take the place of the Australian flag, and never let it be displaced by the flag of the United Nations. We need no Godless, anti-Christian United Nations. The only collective security we need is the collective security of the British Commonwealth of Nations. And now that England has sunk as low as she can go, and her new Prime Minister is even a greater menace to her future freedom than the man he succeeds, it is up to us to raise our voices and do what we can to save England and to save ourselves. But to be effective we must first break through the slick jargon of our politicians, get behind the lies of the daily press, and learn what is really going on in the world. Then together we can make Australia a beacon of light, the light of Christianity and of individual freedom, for these two are inseparable. We can and will bring this about but only if we make love of country inseparable from the love of God, because it is to God that you and I and Australia really and rightfully belong.

The Iron Curtain Over America

By Colonel John Beaty.

This book is a "must" for every student of international affairs. It is one of the most important books published since World War II, but, like similar books which have been appearing in America over the past few years, it has received no mention whatever in Australia by leftist book reviewers for the "Capitalist" press.

The author of "The Iron Curtain Over America" is not only an outstanding American scholar; his work with the American Military Intelligence Service during the last war enabled him to learn at first hand of the manner in which the Zionist-Communist conspiracy was being furthered under cover of war.

Colonel Beaty deals objectively with the history of the Jews, with particular reference to the fact that the ancestors of most Jews of today were Khazars, originally a people from Central Asia, and had never seen the Holy Land. He writes most penetratingly on the Jewish invasion of the U.S.A. and the subsequent Jewish impact on America's foreign and internal policies.

After outlining the treacherous, pro-Communist activities of Jews in the U.S.A., Colonel Beaty asks — and answers — the question: "Does the high ratio of appointed persons of Eastern European or contacts in United States strategic positions reflect the will of the U.S. people? If not, what controlling will does it reflect?"

"The Iron Curtain Over America" proves conclusively that not only was the Second World War organised, but that it was deliberately prolonged, and only concluded when the controllers of the Zionist-Communist conspiracy had achieved their major objectives. Detailed evidence is provided of the manner in which the truth about this conspiracy has been kept from the American people.

Colonel Beaty's conclusion is that America, and other Western nations, can only survive by first defeating "the enemy within." He points out that this first step is essential before a more realistic foreign policy can be implemented, one which would obtain the friendship of all anti-Communist nations and which would seek to widen the gulf which already exists between the Moscow gangsters and their unhappy victims.

It is not surprising that Zionist organisations in the U.S.A. have been campaigning vigorously against Colonel Beaty's exposure and that pressure has been applied to the press to prevent any reference to the book. Even Church "leaders" have been used to smear Beaty. But his book continues to contribute to the general awakening in the U.S.A., an awakening which Australians unfortunately know little about.

They accept as a matter of course that it is a good thing to give colonial peoples freedom, just as they take for granted that colonial peoples en masse clamour for such freedom. Both beliefs are wrong.

The nationalist movements in the Colonies have not been mass-movements. British officials in Kenya are employing — without much success — every device of modern propaganda to persuade Africans to put their names on the electoral register: the Africans could not care less. The present Gold Coast Government, about to be entrusted with independence, was elected by less than one-tenth of the people eligible to vote.

Then there are the effects. The Prime Minister of Eastern Nigeria has been adjudged guilty by a British tribunal of corrupt practices. The Prime Minister of the Gold Coast and his Party henchmen have been personally identified with the Cocoa Purchasing Board scandals. Trinidad has been turned down as the capital of the proposed West Indian Federation because a British Commission reported to the effect that it stank of corruption. Corruption is the norm in West Africa. It has regained its immemorial ascendancy wherever the British have withdrawn in Asia. Often it is accompanied by terrorism.

Does not the Minister of the Gospel who applauds the grant of independence to colonial peoples without stopping to think of the consequence say in effect: "Evil, be thou their good"?

The international politico-financial forces, which provide the real drive in the campaign against "colonialism", are not concerned with the welfare of the Asians and Africans. Instead, they are following the line laid

Communist Agents Amongst Hungarian Refugees

Further to the front-page article in our last issue, in which we drew attention to the fact that the Zionists were directing a large scale exodus of Jews from Hungary, and that amongst these were Communists, a report from America stated that a number of Communist agents posturing as Hungarian refugees have been sent back to Europe from America.

Local New Australian authorities on Communism claim that there should be more effective screening of refugees before they leave Austria.

down by Lenin of destroying the Western nations by attacking them at the periphery, and this is none the less true because more of the driving force comes from New York than from Moscow. We have seen how close the liaison between the capital of the Soviet Union and the capital of the Dollar Empire can be.

There is also the direct attack on the sovereignty of the historic European nations, aimed at depriving them of the power of deciding their own destiny and placing it at the disposal of a cosmopolitan junta.

Here again genuine idealists come crowding into the arena to do battle for a cause offering slogans with an emotional appeal. The planners of the attack let me again emphasise, are not idealists. They are ruthless power-masters.

Their concern is to destroy national sovereignty, and with it the sense of nationhood because of their knowledge that behind national frontiers is always the potentiality of a revolt against their political and financial masterdom. They regard opposition to their will as intolerable.

This force, controlled by men whose features are rarely known to the general public, is an organised evil of unprecedented power and influence. Although I have only had space here to outline the case against it, supporting evidence is available in abundance. Is there any clergyman who, after reading what I have written, does not feel profoundly disturbed at the thought that so much, which he has learned to regard as good, may in fact be wicked?

Is there not at least a case for him to investigate with the full force and clarity of his intellect? And if investigation should lead him to the conviction that what I have stated is true, should he not boldly proclaim that truth and so give the people of Britain the leadership without which they must assuredly be lost?

Jews as Soviet Agents

The new spy trial in the U.S.A., arising out of the F.B.I.'s discovery of a Soviet spy ring, which has been operating for thirteen years, again draws attention to the fact that a big percentage of Soviet agents are Jews. Although Jack Soble, his wife, Myra Soble, and Jacob Albam, are referred to in press reports as former Lithuanians, they are Jews who originally came to America from Lithuania.

COMMUNISING PROPERTY OWNERS

By John Brummitt in "Voice" (England)

Consider an inconspicuous statement in "The Daily Telegraph" of August 7, 1956. There are no banner headlines and no prominent position.

"The Marchioness of Bristol has been allowed £232,000 by the Treasury for handing over her home, Ickworth, near Bury St. Edmunds, together with most of its art treasures and about 600 acres of valuable woodland, in part payment of death duty.

"The property, with 23 cottages and its 1,790-acre park, is being passed on by the Government to the National Trust.

Lenin explained the success of the Russian revolution by attributing it to three factors: —the ignorance of the Russians, the cleverness of the Jews, and Chinese torturers. The introduction of Communism here has been delayed because not all population is ignorant and the natives of these islands are second to none in native ability.

The blueprint for the operation is not a secret document as one might expect. Here is the outline as given in 1848 by Karl Marx (real name Mordecai): —

"We have seen that the first step in the revolution by the working class is to raise the proletariat to the position of the ruling class . . .

"The proletariat will use its political supremacy to wrest, by degrees, all capital from the bourgeoisie; to concentrate all instruments of production in the hands of the state . . .

"Of course in the beginning this cannot be effected except by despotic inroads on the rights of property . . . in the most advanced countries the following will be pretty generally applicable: —

"1. The abolition of property in land and application of all rents of land to public purposes.

"2. A heavy progressive or graduated income tax.

"3. Abolition of all right of inheritance . . ."

It is not necessary to have a Communist government to implement these plans. All governments are infiltrated these days, and all British governments of recent years have permitted the march of Communism labelled something else. Our present difficulties are complicated by the fact that the Labour Party is in favour of these measures whilst professing to oppose Communism, and the Conservative Government is passing these measures whilst professing to oppose the Labour Party. The advice that a tree should be known by its fruits was good advice.

It is nearly a century from 1848 to 1933 but in that year we had Mr. Israel Moses Sieff saying: "The planned economy which the nation needs to meet the demands of the twentieth century must clearly involve drastic inroads upon the rights of individual ownership of land as at present understood."

It should be noted that whole phrases are borrowed without acknowledgement from the Communist Manifesto, that Mr. Sieff was speaking as Chairman of Political and Economic Planning, an off-shoot of the Fabian Society, and that a large number of government officials were present and subscribed funds.

Then in 1939 we had the war on which it seems Mr. Sieff had relied for panic atmosphere and the drastic inroads upon private property swung into action in a big way, all in the public interest of course. Ten thousand farmers were evicted from their farms. One who resisted with a shotgun was overcome by soldiers. The process of conditioning the population to the idea that expropriation by the state is normal had begun.

Now in 1956 expropriation is quite usual and the War Agricultural Committees are still here eleven years after the cessation of hostilities, but with a trifling modification in nomenclature. Lady Garbett has just been evicted from her farm and house. I have not heard a single person comment on it.

But there are points about the Lady

Communitising Property Owners

Bristol expropriations, which should be noted. Ten thousand acres of agricultural land had to be sold. These were being farmed satisfactorily or the War Agricultural Committees would have taken action. The crops and harvests must have been delivered to the people of these islands who enjoyed the produce of the land without being conscious of any necessity to own the land. We await a demonstration that we have benefited in some way from the change of ownership.

Since the Marchioness surrendered her house she presumably ceases to live there, and a certain amount of interest attaches to the identity of the new tenants. Or will the place pass to a Caretaker as the visible representative of the proletariat, and one more home cease to serve the purpose for which it was built, and descend into the museum class so that what belongs to everybody is clearly seen to belong to nobody?

The Marchioness is presented in an unfavourable light in not being poor like the rest of us. One would have thought that she had some claim to distinction in bearing the responsibility for administering so much land, evidently to the satisfaction of the War Agricultural Committees, and could rightly rank as a public servant of more than ordinary merit, but it is the hirelings who have put a period to her service who are paid as public servants officially.

Many persons of the baser sort will be found to support the Treasury's action in pillaging her property. To such persons the fact that it would be easy to provide them with all they require without raiding those who are more fortunately placed, is a fact without interest or significance.

Any moneys confiscated by the Treasury and paid into the Bank of England merely serve to reduce the National Debt of £30,000,000,000, which we are said to owe (to whom?). That is to say that the moneys extracted from the Marchioness benefited nobody at all but were merely taken out of circulation and destroyed. "Every repayment of a loan to a bank destroys a deposit." There could be no clearer demonstration that our financial system is prostituted to a political end. That political end is the annihilation of private property.

When all the big property-owners have been liquidated the Treasury will have to begin on the smaller ones. It is not imaginable that the Treasury could ever be sated. The National Debt will always conveniently be there waiting to be paid off. Taxation and expropriation have advanced together. How delighted Karl Marx would have been.

U.S.A. and U.N.O.

In a bitter, savage attack on the United Nations and the U.S., the editor-in-chief of the "Sunday Express" (Mr. John Gordon) recently blamed "Nasser-loving Mr. Dag and his big boss Eisenhower" for the continued blockage of Suez.

"They thought that once Britain had been slapped down the pacification of Nasser would be an easy business," Gordon said.

"But what happened?"

"Nasser, swollen to cinerama size, blares boastfully over his radio that, as he has vanquished the two greatest Powers in Europe, he is no longer bound by agreements he made with the United Nations.

"The Canal, he says, apparently with Hammarskjold's approval, can be cleared only on his terms—and he is not in a hurry to see the job started."

Mr. Gordon said that if Col. Nasser refused free passage of the Canal to British ships the interests of the American oil monopolies would be served admirably.

Britain would have to pay more dollars for American oil.

Mr. Gordon continued: "Poor deluded Mr. Eisenhower now finds himself in a dilemma, having to ask Congress to give him power to do what he lambasted Britain for doing—use his troops to attack an enemy, if he thinks it necessary, without asking anyone's permission.

"I hope the thought of it isn't spoiling his game this weekend on the Augusta golf course, where America's Government now seems to be permanently established."

WITNESS

By Whittaker Chambers

Price 27/6, post-free.

It was the evidence of ex-Communist secret agent, Whittaker Chambers, before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, which caused top Communist espionage agent in the U.S.A., Alger Hiss, to be indicted and convicted on a charge of perjury. Not only the American people but many people in other countries were startled by the disclosure that the official who advised President Roosevelt, helped draft the disastrous Yalta Agreement in 1945, and who was the first Secretary-General of the United Nations Organisation, was a Communist agent.

Before being finally convicted, Alger Hiss, aided by some of the most influential people in America, fought back against Chambers, who was subjected to a whispering campaign described by one prominent American writer as "one of the most repellent in modern history". Chambers replies to this campaign in one of the most important autobiographies of our times. Not only does this book deal exhaustively with the Hiss-Chambers battle before the Committee on Un-American Activities and the Courts; it is a moving human document which explains how Chambers first became a Communist, his work in the secret Communist apparatus, how he met Alger Hiss and worked with him, and how eventually he came to repudiate Communism.

Near the conclusion of his book, Chambers makes one of the most important observations yet made on the Hiss-Chambers case: "No feature of the Hiss case is more obvious, or more troubling as history, than the jagged fissure, which it did not so much open as reveal, between the plain men and women of the nation, and those who affected to act, think and speak for them. It was not invariably, but in general, the 'best people' who were for Alger Hiss and who were prepared to go to almost any length to protect and defend him. It was the enlightened and the powerful, the clamorous proponents of the open-mind and the common man, who kept their minds shut in a pro-Hiss psychosis, of a kind which, in an individual patient, means the simple failure of the ability to distinguish between reality and unreality, and, in a nation, is a warning of the end."

"Witness" must be read and studied by those who want to know the truth about Alger Hiss and his part in the Communist conspiracy in the U.S.A. Every student of Communism and international affairs must have this work on his shelves. No one with an unbiassed mind can read it without realising that Hiss was undoubtedly guilty of the charges made against him.

I TESTIFY

I Testify, by Robert Edmondson (31/-, post free).

This is one of the most important Anti-Communist books ever written. It is the result of twenty years of intensive research. In 300 excellently detailed pages. Edmondson unmasks the origins, organizers and promoters of Communism-Socialism-Marxism in the United States and Europe, withholding no punches.

"I Testify" includes more than one hundred confessions "from the horse's mouth". The author shows that Jewish Communists and Socialists direct the Eisenhower Administration just as surely as they directed the Truman-Roosevelt regimes.

Within these pages the reader will find an exclusive diary-account of the flagrantly illegal procedures of the 1942-47 "Mass-Sedition" trial in Washington. This account tells of more than seven years of vile smears, persecution and court-prosecution of patriotic men and women by powerful Reds using the facilities of the American Federal Government

Edmondson analyses and unveils the false face of "Anti-Semitism"; he quotes extensively to show that not only was Russian Bolshevik Communism established by Jews but that they still guide the Kremlin.

Before the second world war millions of Americans were reading Edmondson's tual bulletins on Communism.. He was considered so dangerous to the international usurers that a number of prominent Jews, including James Paul Warburg, approached him personally in an attempt to make him divert his energies into less fundamental aspects of the fight against Communism.

What is the purpose of industry?

Are important political problems essentially religious?

What is the Christian concept of freedom?

These and many other fundamental questions are answered in this thought-provoking booklet.

This booklet can be specially recommended to all those desirous of introducing responsible citizens to the Social Credit approach to the problems of the day. It should be placed in the hands of all clergy.
