Thought For The Week: Nicolle Flint slams Liberal membership move as 'undemocratic' amid party tensions

<https://www.abc.net.au/news/2021-06-12/liberal-mp-nicolle-flint-slams-party-executive-over-membership/100211008>

Tensions in the SA branch of the liberal party have increased over recent (Parliamentary-ed) conscience votes. The party's state president has confirmed an "audit" of memberships is being undertaken. The comments come amid tensions between conservatives and moderates within the SA branch of the party in the wake of recent reform bills in SA Parliament, including over euthanasia and abortion... "If the Liberal Party is not the natural home of socially conservative people, which party is ?" ...end

A thought injection: David Ettridge and David Oldfield in 1996 entered the fledgling One Nation party as subversive moles to control the party policy and its membership with an iron glove. Oldfield at one time was an employee of Liberal minister Tony Abbott. Pauline ended up spending some time in jail as a political prisoner. Tony Abbott had been working behind the scenes, culminated by meeting disgruntled One Nation members including dis-endorsed candidate Terry Sharples. Sharples accused the party of not having the 500 members needed for registration, which opened the legal pathway for electoral fraud 'charges leading to jail'. The Liberal Party's history is one of readily 'sacrificing the individual for the sake of the group' in the pursuit of power.

Labor No Better

Former Australian Prime Minister Paul Keating in a 1996 speech denouncing Hanson said: "The great tragedy of the shamelessly regressive politics of Pauline Hanson is not so much that it is rooted in ignorance, prejudice and fear, though it is; not so much that it projects the ugly face of racism, though it does; not so much that it is dangerously divisive and deeply hurtful to many of her fellow Australians, though it is; not even that it will cripple our efforts to enmesh ourselves in a region wherein lie the jobs and prosperity of future generations of young Australians, though it will,...The great tragedy is that it perpetrates a myth, a fantasy, a lie."

This is a bit rich coming from the same Labor PM who oversaw the final tranche sale of the people's bank, the Commonwealth Bank of Australia, to financially ensnare Australians to internationalism. Whose same party platform endorses the socialist international, to bring all Australians into the communist world slave state.

WHAT CAN WE LEARN FROM INDIA? By Arnis Luks

In my research for this week I came across a particularly telling interview by Dr Tom Cowan:

The Indian Farmers Revolt: A Story of Courage and Love. <https://www.bitchute.com/video/sMRC5Siw5XIw/>

Extract... While most people would say the biggest story in the world right now is the Covid crisis, another huge but less well-known story is also happening. This is the amazing story of the Indian farmers' revolt happening near New Delhi since last March. In this week's podcast, I interview Indra Singh, who is chronicling the heart-warming, inspirational story of how the farmers in India are rising up against corporate and government oppression. It is a story of courage and love and an inspiration about the road to a future we need to create... ...end

The interview covers the treachery of the Modi government during the Covid emergency, whereby subversive laws were passed that totally shifted the Indian agri-culture towards corporatised monopoly agri-business. The referenced Bitchute video holds many Internet links to an array of articles depicting, in the end, corporate enslavement of the 400 Million farmers of India.

Ironically, Indra Singh references the 'gunboat diplomacy' of the British "East India Company", essentially controlling all British foreign policy until 1947, when as a consequence of war repayments to the USA who through 'LendLease' and other weaponry sales financed Britain during the Second World War, the epicentre of mega-corporation-control shifted from London to Wall Street. Nowadays this epicentre is closer to the Bank of International Settlements, Basel, Switzerland being the central bank for central banks.

The mega corporation - "East India Company", has also morphed into many international structures. I took a look at three mega corporations with assets under management (AUM), of equal or greater to 4 of the top 5 national economies of the world - 2020.

United States GDP – Nominal: $20.81 trillion. ...

China GDP – Nominal: $14.86 trillion. ...

Japan GDP – Nominal: $4.91 trillion. ...

Germany GDP – Nominal: $3.78 trillion. ...

United Kingdom GDP – Nominal: $2.64 trillion.

These mega-corporation fund and stock managers are purpose built to achieve profit and are becoming less and less accountable to any national laws.

This is where laissez faire capitalism takes you - to Libertarianism or NeoLiberalism. Individual Nation States, let alone individuals do not stand a chance against these behemoths, even though, in this case there are 400 Million Indian farmers attempting to resist their dominance. Australian states recently introduced Genetically Modified Organisms which will ensure the colonisation of each state by big agri-business embodied in the seed monopolies.

Blackrock Investments

Laurence D. Fink is Founder, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of BlackRock. He and seven partners founded BlackRock in 1988, and under his leadership, the firm has grown into a global leader in investment and technology solutions. As of June 30, 2019, BlackRock's assets under management total US$6.84 trillion (AUM) across equity, fixed income, cash management, alternative investment, real estate and advisory strategies.

Vanguard Investments

As of 2020, Vanguard has more than $6.2 trillion in assets under management (AUM). It has the second-largest bond fund in the world, as of 2020, the Vanguard Total Bond Market Index, second only to PIMCO's Total Return Fund.

Allianz Agrees to Buy 70% Stake In U.S.'s PIMCO 1999

Allianz AG was founded in Berlin on 5 February 1890 by then director of the Munich Reinsurance Company Carl von Thieme (a native of Erfurt, whose father was the director of Thuringia) and Wilhelm von Finck (co-owner of the Merck Finck & Co bank).

Total assets under management (AUM) at Allianz Group grew 5.3% in 2020 to $2.94 trillion.

Seed – Food Monopolies - Cartels

Seed monopolies using Genetically Modified Organisms with associated patents and cartel capitalism, appeared to be given unconditional access against the new loans for state government budgets; most states and territories allowing this feudalising mechanism against our farmers.

UK Prime Minister Boris Johnson: G7 Nations Must Build Back in a Greener, More Gender Neutral and

Perhaps More Feminine Way

<https://www.thegatewaypundit.com/2021/06/uk-prime-minister-boris-johnson-g7-nations-must-build-back-greener-gender-neutral-perhaps-feminine-way-video/>

UK Prime Minister Boris Johnson kicked off the G7 summit by telling the other leaders his vision of a new world order run by Communists. The “Great Reset”

according to Johnson is both gender neutral, yet feminine. “We’re building back better together – building back greener and building back fairer and building back more equal...and in a more gender neutral and perhaps a more feminine way!”

Pragmatic Scott Morrison right to champion G7 as a democratic bloc

<https://www.theaustralian.com.au/commentary/pragmatic-scott-morrison-right-to-champion-g7-as-a-democratic-bloc/news-story/a842b8576c079bf9c47f977a46119880>

In what amounts to SOP Standard Operating Procedure of dialectics, the G7 Trading Block championed by USA are presenting themselves as the free world alternative to the RCEP Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership championed by China. The Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans-Pacific Partnership (CPTPP) appears to be the child agreement for G7. The European Union is another giant trading block, as is the NAFTA North American Free Trade Agreement. These giant trading blocks have common objectives of exerting trade power to increase market share, while stifling any influence nation-states have over trade conditions. Mega-corporations can take any nation to a settlement court should the mega-corporations perceive a loss from a national trade policy. In the end this economic exertion of influence and power leads to the greater centralisation of industrial-might which over-rules national-states and their governments – mega-corporate fascism. In this environment, the individual nation has very little say in what they may do or desire. The group (the company) is more important than the individual nation states to make profits above any type of service. We are regressing back to feudalism with mega-corporations administering the world's natural resources. At the head of these mega-corporations are central banks controlling and owning the real national assets through debt for equity swaps.

Controlling The Narrative - PopUp Political Parties With All The Markings of George Soros

I have been made aware of several new "pop-up political parties". The first thing I noted is their attempt to go national, instead of organically growing from the base of active constituents within each electorate, or even state. News services have similar reports of these "pop-up political parties" in other countries. Starting another political party with top-down administrative structure is designed to fail the individual. The litmus test - how does it (the new party) affect the individual? The structure of all political parties is from the top down, similar to the mega-corporations just mentioned. It's vitally important to consider the structure of any organisation in regard to policy initiative and directing any support. By having a set of vague and generalised set of policies, these PPPs are cleverly disguised as promising some type of better result than that which the existing political parties offer. The purpose behind them is to achieve the continuation of the existing power structure - no change whatsoever.

Preference Deals Show Their Purpose

When I reviewed the election preference deals for the last federal election within Australia, they divulged the real political alignment of each political entity. Supposedly conservative alternatives had preference deals directed towards the Greens - the Communists above other conservative groups. They were just a front to soak up the disenfranchised voters looking for an alternative. Understanding this MO modus operandi shows the true intentions of the establishment of PPPs. There are now quite a few conservative and progressive PPPs re-directing a lot of energy and support that will ultimately filter back towards the two major parties. The coalition, as current government, is bringing about the Communist world dictatorship. Should they continue to be supported as the only viable alternative to the Labor groupings also committed to bring about the Communist world dictatorship? They are no better nor worse than Labor. They are the same, and the policy objective is almost identical except through collective monopoly capitalism (the high road of the few to communism) rather than collectivist socialism (the low road of the many to communism).

A Vaccine Passport Under Another Name

COVID-19 digital certificate simplifies proof of vaccination: Government Services Minister Linda Reynolds said this “digital certificate makes proof of vaccination accessible anytime, anywhere”.

Return To 'Freedom With Responsibility'

Any effective hope of a realistic political outcome must start with a single issue or single policy objective that can be agreed upon. Not a mishmash of vagaries, but a specific policy outcome that others can agree on within your local electorate. If you don't have that you don't have any clear direction forward. The policy outcome could be endorsed and supported across sympathetic party-member-lines to build momentum - an agreement across the political spectrum. A movement for policy outcomes instead of a mishmash of vagaries from a fully controlled (by the money-power) party machine.

The recent effort to stop the introduction of any type of "vaccine passport" is a timely example. This limited policy objective can be agreed by pro-vaccine and anti-vaccine freedom-loving peoples alike. The rich and the poor are not ostracised against each other, nor the old and the young in the pursuit of this one objective, essentially a VETO against government policy. It's the policy objective that is the key, that individuals can agree upon and unite to achieve - that all are to remain 'free enough' to exercise their own medical choices as they see fit.

Exercising a political vote once every three years doesn't cut the mustard. It is not enough if we are to regain our ancient freedoms. The political parties were designed to be subverted since their formation 100 years ago. They will always be a tool of the money-party deliberately controlled from the top down.

Lessons Of History

The expansion of the voting franchise over the past 100 years, went from the propertied class to include all males, then all females, and then a reduced voting age from 21 to 18, with a desire to further reduce the voting age to 16. Representational government has not improved over this past 100 years. In Australia, if anything it has regressed. The vote outcome is based more on bribery than good policy. The electoral campaign consists of many promises of which very few are actually realised.

The Tavistock Method of Brainwashing and Social Psychiatry

With modern marketing and research, a good share of individuals within each electorate are continually monitored to ensure the electorate is endorsing one or the other major party platform 'sufficiently' through preferential flows. The electoral campaign is tailored to adjust the voter's point of view until either of the majors achieve the desired result. If the potential outcome for either of the two is seriously challenged, you will see them unite to destroy any real opposition. Pauline is the past example, to place her party 'last' by both of the majors. Why would the supposed conservatives place her last except to guarantee a joint conservative/labor result.

Virginia mom who survived Maoist China eviscerates school board's critical race theory push

<https://www.foxnews.com/us/virginia-xi-van-fleet-critical-race-theory-china-cultural-revolution-loudoun>

A Virginia mom who endured Mao Zedong's Cultural Revolution before immigrating to the U.S. ripped a Virginia school board at a public meeting Tuesday over its stubborn support of the controversial Critical Race Theory.

“I've been very alarmed by what's going on in our schools,” Xi Van Fleet told the Loudoun County School Board members. “You are now teaching, training our children to be social justice warriors and to loathe our country and our history.” She likened Critical Race Theory, which critics deride as a form of “neo-racism,” to China's Cultural Revolution, a Mao-led purge that left ... millions dead from 1966 to 1976.

If a group of people were to pursue policy outcomes in-between election cycles, they would have a very real opportunity to build momentum and to change the current result 'now' rather than give false hope during an election cycle. Are you sure about what you want? I get the distinct impression that these new conservative and progressive groupings will align with the existing money-party - no real difference while promising many things. The Australian Christian Lobby and Family Voice are auto-aligning towards conservative parties as every other conservative group does. And yet it is an actual conservative party who now refuse new members; who introduced abortion till full term, euthanasia, religious intolerance and of course the denigration of our cultural history through education (Critical Race Theory); and also supported-by-inaction not our's, but Mao's ABC. The conservatives and labor together are imposing an intolerant Maoist cultural revolution over Australia. Can it be put any more plainly or obvious than that?

Another PopUp Political Party

The 'StandUp' PPP presents itself as a counter to 'GetUp', directing policy through collective monopoly capitalism (libertarianism) rather than collectivist socialism - dialectical-peas-in-a-pod with the same end objective, capital controlled feudalism of the masses.

In ancient Greece crossed battle axes hung above the entrance of civic halls to reinforce effective representation. A mechanism of influence is needed (without the violence). Something like constant polling, letter-boxing, personal social media, mechanisms to ensure compliance, or if not, sufficient pressure for removal - RECALL. The mainstream media guided by the Tavistock Institute needs to be countered by an active and informed local media. Keeping the electorate fully informed is a vital and valid beginning. BASIC FUND

David Sorensen from Stop World Control recently reported to his supporters. He began with, "This is not the time of big organizations fixing the world. It is a time where brave and passionate individuals rise up in the gifting and strength they have received, to serve humanity. We all have a gift that we can use to help towards the deliverance of our world from evil."

This is also the message from the League to its close supporters and those who have only recently discovered our work. We urge each one to accept responsibility to 'deliver our world from evil'. We look for financial support as well as active support in the political sphere.

To achieve these goals, the League provides a wealth of information in the form of journals, videos, forums and books etc all of which assist in gaining knowledge which can then be employed to action with Personal Political Initiative. We have the team working solidly to achieve the tasks but it is reliant on funds. To ensure the work continues, please consider supporting the Basic Fund. Thanking you in anticipation.
