GOVERNMENT MISUSE OF EMERGENCY POWERS TO CALL HEALTHY PEOPLE A CASE OF DISEASE By Judy Wilyman PhD

<https://www.vaccinationdecisions.net/the-definition-of-a-pandemic-and-government-misuse-of-emergency-powers/>

On 11th March 2020, the World Health Organisation (WHO) declared a global public health emergency based on a definition of a ‘pandemic’ that had been changed in May 2009. This new definition removed the necessity to show the severity of the disease to the population in all countries.

The original definition that had been used for many decades included the need for a new virus to be causing “enormous numbers of deaths and illnesses worldwide” before a pandemic could be declared. However, in 2009 this phrase was removed and replaced with “an increase in ‘cases’ of a disease” [1]. This is significant because ‘cases’ of infectious diseases after 1950 did not indicate the risk of a disease to the population [2].

The improvements in public health infrastructure and nutrition by 1950 resulted in 99% of cases of infectious diseases being mild or asymptomatic (sub-clinical infections). These cases are not serious, and the infection results in long-term immunity for the individual. This resulted in the herd immunity that controlled these diseases by 1950 in all developed countries. If the WHO had not changed the definition in 2009 to be based solely on cases of disease, they could never have declared a global public health emergency for a flu-like illness in March 2020. Here are the two definitions:

For Decades Prior to May 2009:

“An influenza pandemic may occur when a new influenza virus appears against which the human population has no immunity resulting in epidemics worldwide with enormous numbers of deaths and illness”.

After May 2009:

“An epidemic occurs when there are more cases of that disease than normal. A pandemic is a worldwide epidemic of a disease....”

Whilst the definition also stipulates that this should be “a virus to which the human population has no immunity”, the important point is that there must be real data (not predictive modelling) showing that the virus is a serious risk to human health in all countries. There was no real data from Australia or many other countries to support this claim of a global pandemic in March 2020.

This change to the definition allowed governments to obtain extra cases of ‘disease’ by funding hospitals to screen the healthy population. This was done with a PCR test that cannot diagnose disease or risk, and people are being classified as a ‘case’ of disease if they test positive to this PCR test – even if they do not have any symptoms.

The WHO stated in January 2021 that this PCR test is known to produce 100% false positives if it is used at a cycle threshold (CT) above 35 cycles. There is also a high rate of false positives under 35 cycles. Further, even if the PCR test could accurately identify the Coronavirus 2019 strain, its presence would not indicate that you are a risk for COVID19 disease. There are many outcomes from exposure to a virus – no disease, mild disease or serious disease.

In 2020-21 the Australian government is using this test at a CT of 40-45 cycles. So, the number of cases of this new disease called COVID19, can be reduced simply by:

- 1) Stopping the screening of healthy people with a PCR test that does not diagnose COVID19 disease and
- 2) Using the PCR test at a CT below 25 cycles for people who have disease (flu-like) symptoms.
- 3) A systematic analysis of the cause of the flu-like illness. For example, identify any other of the hundred viruses/bacteria/medications that cause flu-like illness (H1N1, rhinoviruses, coronaviruses, flu vaccine or pneumonia bacteria etc) to see if they are also present.

ARE "THEY" TELLING US WHAT THE NEXT DIRE CATASTROPHE IS GOING TO BE?

World Economic Forum’s ‘Concept 2021’ Deals with Attacks to Supply Chains

In 2019 the World Economic Forum held a simulation about reactions to a world pandemic sponsored by Bill Gates. This year ‘Concept 2021’ focuses on Internet supply chain failures.

In 2019 Bill Gates and Company held an exercise known as “Event 201”. It was put together only a few months before COVID-19 hit the United States.

"Cyber Polygon" is a unique cybersecurity event that combines the world's largest technical training exercise for corporate teams and an online conference featuring senior officials from international organisations and leading corporations.

The 2021 conference discusses the key risks of digitalisation and best practice for the secure development of digital (crypto-ed) ecosystems.

The 2021 technical exercise builds and tests the skills

It is now documented that the deaths to this new Coronavirus 2019 strain were within the range of a normal flu year in every country, and as coronaviruses cause the common cold, it would be expected that we would have some immunity to this new mutation in 2020.

Question: Why is the Australian government continuing to claim that there is a national public health emergency when this claim was based on a change in the definition of a pandemic and the ‘cases’ of this flu-like illness are healthy people who do not have any symptoms and who do not get hospitalised?

For further information about how the medical profession can create the appearance of an increase in a disease through increased surveillance of the population here is my article titled ‘A New Strain of Influenza or a Change in Surveillance?’ written in 2009 to describe the false swine-flu pandemic. https://www.vaccinationdecisions.net/wp-content/uploads/2014/02/ACNEM_Journal_Dec09.pdf

Event 201 simulates an outbreak of a novel zoonotic coronavirus transmitted from bats to pigs to people that eventually becomes efficiently transmissible from person to person, leading to a severe pandemic. The pathogen and the disease it causes are modelled largely on SARS, but it is more transmissible in the community setting by people with mild symptoms...

SELF GOVERNANCE OR WORLD GOVERNMENT

By Arnis Luks

Base Erosion and Profit Sharing

<https://www.oecd.org/tax/beps/beps-actions/>

Developed in the context of the OECD/G20 BEPS Project, the 15 (BEPS) actions set out... equip governments with domestic and international rules and instruments to address tax avoidance, ensuring that profits are taxed where economic activities generating the profits are performed and where value is created.

80 Central Banks Looking at Crypto-Currencies

<https://www.thegatewaypundit.com/2021/07/currently-least-80-central-banks-around-world-looking-digital-currencies/>

Crypto-Currency - A World Financial System

The key to understanding the proposed digitised- (crypto)-economy including international taxation is to firstly recognise that the proposed crypto-currency under review by 80 central banks across the world is traceable to the nth degree on each and every individual of the entire planet. Every penny you spend, every transaction you make will be traceable directly back to you, and linked to your measured carbon footprint. It is the ultimate surveillance tool - what you buy, when you buy and where you buy - even for sovereign governments -

BUT ONLY IF 'THEY' AGREE

The justification, there is always a justification, is to corral those mega corporations' profits with their myriad tax avoidance schemes. Of course it is. The 15 BEPS Actions highlight how tax avoidance has been achieved in the past, and under this proposal to circumscribe any avoidance, a world structure to administer the problem will be implemented, with of course a world bureaucracy.

They, the mega-corporations, would already have their bases covered and within these proposed solutions to be rolled out (only after ten years of preparations), would resolve these issues - of course it would-not! The tax for mega-corporations begins above a 10 per cent threshold of profit. The taxation horse will have bolted, but the crypto-surveillance-state will have been implemented.

https://www.afr.com/policy/

tax-and-super/a-remarkable-time-in-tax-history-20210704-p586r1

That our current federal and state governments are abrogating their constitutionally determined duty and responsibility to administer and mint our monetary systems does not even enter into the discussion by those who would commit treason against the Australian people. All roads lead to a world communist dictatorship, with the digital (crypto) 'carbon-linked' currency issued from a world central crypto-bank, issuing crypto-numbers from cyberspace based on an hypothetical carbon-value.

The proposed international tax framework, including reporting, is further abrogation from both the Treasury and the Australian Taxation Office of their primary public duties. No question of abandoning 'private rulings', nor closing the Australian Tax-Law loopholes exploited by mega-corporations or favoured persons. Just more bureaucracy, but now at a world scale - a demonstration of deductive reasoning. Propose a solution and massage the 'selected facts' to suit the purpose of the policy.

Global carbon pricing too important to leave to governments

<https://www.afr.com/policy/energy-and-climate/global-carbon-pricing-too-important-to-leave-to-governments-20210707-p587nt>

Peta Credlin is again consistent, by continuing on with the theme of more and more government to fix an issue that government interference has created in the first place. I can still hear the echo of 'get big or get out' from the former leaders of the National Party, Doug Anthony and John Anderson to their former constituencies along with the National Farmers Federation NFF - the farmer's union. Betrayal everywhere you turn.

Remember leadership? We need it now

False Calls For A Benevolent Dictator

There has been many calls from within the USA to bring back Donald Trump. I think this is an error of great magnitude because it will lead to the benevolent dictator scenario of trusting him with more power, when too much governmental power is the issue in the first place. Our leaders and MSM are proposing the same scenario and want you to become entirely dependant upon them as benevolent dictators, while degrading our infrastructure - energy, water, food, finance and our cultural inheritance.

The Answers Are Always Found To Be Local

People need to work out their issues for themselves and locally, to think about 'what the underground did to survive during occupation'. To narrow your sphere of influence down to only those that can rely on, or who are willing to engage in meaningful dialogue and also demonstrate independence of thought and self-reliance.

Each week I look at the ramifications of policy to give as much heads up as I can to our readers. The World Economic Forum's 'Concept 2021' exercise of supply-chain-collapse is this week's case in point. If that really is their plan of a supply chain collapse with the supermarkets shuttered, are you ready for the long siege?

Years ago ALOR speakers were doing this very theoretical exercise with small groups to assist those who needed to rethink their position, and help put things in place earlier rather than later. There are many things that you can do, and there are many websites that give you some well thought through ideas. But if the web is also down, what information do you have at hand that is useful in regard to self reliance? Should you wait any longer to act? The most important consideration is the local community. This is usually not more than a handful of very close friends and family in your close proximity.

I put it to you that the larger plan of the 'Great Reset' is to separate society into warring groups so as to control everyone within this chaos - vaccinated against unvaccinated, old (with assets) against young (who have no future), male against female, race against race, colour against colour. The war of dialectics across the world.

Shape Your Own Destiny - You Are The Underground

Now that our political class have handed the very real assets of our nation over to the 1% of the 1%, what resources have you readily available for the long term. The correct answer, your stock-take if you like, looks something like your immediate part of ship. The land that you have access and control of, the nearest water supply, alternatives for energy, off-grid cool-room or fridge-freezer, long-term food stocks. You see what I mean. Think ahead. Plan for both short and long term.

This current winter may be the last real opportunity to plant out those fruit trees you have been meaning to. In Adelaide, the Rare Fruits Society will be holding their Annual Grafting Night Tuesday July 27th, whereby root stock and grafting material are for sale for as little as $12-14.00 per tree. Don't say you cannot afford it at that price. Register with : secretary@rarefruit-sa.org.au

Potatoes: We plant out potatoes to nearly all available unused land. They require little attendance, and once harvested, those few left behind generally will re-seed.

Triage as a Mindset

Once your own homestead bases are covered, you can then look outside your close circle of influence towards your neighbour. 'Teach a man to fish' is a profound and true statement. If you empty out your larder rather than teach someone how to be self reliant, you will both run out quickly. Protect your part of ship as the first priority, and only then assist your neighbour as they are prepared to help themselves. The first-aid 'triage priorities' illustrates this point exactly.

Share Your Surplus

My wife will occasionally place a basket of surplus produce on the kerbside for passers-by to collect. This small gesture of not wasting our surplus can build community spirit in times of distress. It also allows a bit of pressure relief for the homeless. The ongoing Venezuelan crisis reports of folk going only one of two main ways - to serve self at the exclusion of all others, OR to protect self, but also give liberally as you are able towards those in need. By choosing to do the latter, you are building up the social cohesion. If we do go into a dark winter then this is the only way to rebuild with any lasting promise. These comments may appear stark, but they are actually quite practical in the hope of facing down what may be coming our way. Venezuela was one of the most productive nations of South America before being collectivised. Now they cannot feed themselves, power is unreliable, water only for several hours per day. The centrist government has brought this about so the resources of that materially wealthy nation can be exploited by both China and Russia, with no change of policy by presidential leadership change. Even the opposition leader - Juan Guaidó is an American puppet.

The perceived greater threat for them is USA. This may sound odd, but it is exactly how dialectics works. We see the reverse scenario presented to Australia.

Watching a video last night highlighted the almost total control of the European economy by major US banking interests established after WW II. The EURO was the prelude to what we are now witnessing with world crypto-currency being implemented as we speak.

No world government can occur without a world economy and a world currency for the sake of taxation.

Local Marketing Options

Many years ago, in my youth, I helped to facilitate the running of the Common-Weal Credit Association. It was basic, using cheques and a nominated keeper of the books to balance accounts. A big part of any local system like this is 'gifting of surplus', rather than just counting; balancing out at the end of each major cycle or season. This becomes an act of love towards your neighbour -

"do unto him as you would have him do unto you"

David Sorensen from Stop World Control recently reporting to his supporters; began with, "This is not the time of big organizations fixing the world. It is a time where brave and passionate individuals rise up in the gifting and strength they have received, to serve humanity. We all have a gift that we can use to help towards the deliverance of our world from evil."

This is also the message from the League to its close supporters and friends, and those who have only recently discovered our work. We urge each to accept personal responsibility to 'deliver our world from evil', as you can, locally first, and then move out.

Dreams Can Be More Real Than You Think

I had a dream last night about the encroaching surveillance state - smart meters, internet of things, crypto-currency, monitoring everywhere. In the dream I needed to make a cup of freshly ground coffee. Once made, in real time the carbon-tax was withdrawn from my crypt-account, payable to this world government for the pleasure of them monitoring every move I make. ***
