

OUR POLICY

To promote service to the Christian revelation of God, loyalty to the Australian Constitutional Monarchy, and maximum co-operation between subjects of the Crown Commonwealth of Nations.

To defend the free Society and its institutions — private property, consumer control of production through genuine, competitive enterprise, and limited, decentralised government.

To promote financial policies which will reduce taxation, eliminate debt, and make possible material security for all with greater leisure time for cultural activities.

To oppose all forms of monopoly, either described as public or private.

To encourage all electors always to record a responsible vote in all elections.

To support all policies genuinely concerned with conserving and protecting natural resources, including the soil, and an environment reflecting natural (God's) laws, against policies of rape and waste.

To oppose all policies eroding national sovereignty, and to promote a closer relationship between the peoples of the Crown Commonwealth and those of the United States of America, who share a common Heritage.

An excellent research resource blog.alor.org - a host of regular writers contribute commentaries on events from around the globe.

thecross-roads.org - our Broadcast forums specifically relating to 'protecting and advancing our freedoms' and 'limiting bureaucratic lawlessness' with a 'tendency towards totalitarian government', by 'empowering the individual to act responsibly in their own area'. To be that voice to unify under our 'Limiting Constitutional Monarchy' as 'Representative Government', as a Public Service re-building society.

THE AUSTRALIAN LEAGUE OF RIGHTS

THE LEAGUE'S FREEDOM PROGRAM

No political movement can exist in a moral vacuum, and Australians have traditionally accepted that it is the Christian Faith that has been the foundation of our rich cultural heritage.

The League of Rights seeks to help create a body of dedicated men and women who serve, not for their own material gain, but encourages and equips individuals to independently exercise their own initiative in the service of freedom.

The State of the Australian Revolution - Arnis Luks

Inflation, like coin-clipping, is a financial weapon to erode the spending power of individuals. It does not occur by chance, nor is it subject to any natural law that cannot be changed, but is in fact a deliberate financial policy driven by those who control the financial system.

Looking at several significant indicators, being the $1.9T US budget deficit, and the increases in taxation occurring in Victoria, it becomes obvious that inflation is running at least into double-digit figures, if not as high as 20%, or more. Other indicators reinforcing financial stress being experienced on the ground, are with reports of families seeking out extensions for home loans (to become multi-generational). Some articles are suggesting that parents who may be more secure in their own homes, assist with the refinancing of their children's mortgages.

From a strategic perspective, this can put both homes under mortgage-duress leading to confiscation of both assets pending foreclosure, rather than just the one. The inflation menace reflects one branch of a many-branched-attack to achieve the deliberate breakdown of society. Compelling women unnecessarily in this age of automation and advanced control, into the workforce was another. This manoeuvres children into state-care where they can be more-readily orientated towards state perspectives/objectives with the use of sophisticated propaganda programs.

The Universal Basic Income UBI, having already been tested in certain isolated communities, is to be the financial carrot offered to an impoverished world to accept world government. The Central Bank Digital Currency CBDC is the final means of controlling while monitoring every individual, every day, across the world. The primary physical cause, or the root power base of the world's dilemmas is the weaponised financial system, designed for manipulation to bring about societal unrest, and remove any semblance of security-of-tenure for every individual, industry, organisation and nation.

Looking primarily from a moral perspective is the correct re-orientation to begin to sort out this worldwide dilemma. 'That which is moral works best'.

Our universities are riddled with activists promoting the rainbow revolution to destroy the common language. Cancel-culture, which includes a rewriting of history is to become the only propaganda message – book burning by another means. Our politicians and elite appear incapable, or more aptly, unwilling to find resolution, building further upon societal demoralisation, this being ready examples of this many-branched-approach to the breakdown of society - as policy. This isn't occurring because of sunspots, or visitors from another planet. It is occurring due to the pursuit of this policy-of-breakdown by those who would-own the whole world if they could.

Societal resilience to natural events is demonstrated each time a fire, flood, earthquake, cyclone or tsunami occurs. Society doesn't collapse when these events occur, but is being tested as to its resilience. War and famine on the other hand, are man-controlled events that can bring about societal breakdown. Ukraine, having its vital infrastructure physically destroyed, is certainly being tested, as is Palestine. Both nations have lost control of their administration, therefore, policy is being determined by others. From this perspective alone, most of the nations of the Western world have also lost control of their administration; therefore, policy is also being determined by others.

Communism did not collapse with the Berlin Wall in November 1989. Communism extended its tentacles across the entire globe. Communism is reflected by centralist policies, removing the power to decide-for-oneself on vital issues. The United Nations, being a bastion amongst others, of centralist policy, promotes only a collectivist perspective whereby they alone; the administrators of policy, will be promoted as to provide resolution for the world's dilemmas. Whether it be the massive financial debt from a rigged system, the environment, climate, covid-19, bio-security, or another world war, they alone are being routed as the only legitimate-source to provide resolution

For the world's dilemmas, when in fact this is the very opposite of what is required to bring about self-reliance, autonomy, greater individual freedoms, and, personal and national security. Is it right and proper, in the very nature of things, to allow a remote entity, another human being sitting remotely from you, being allocated the power to make decisions over your day-to-day life? This question draws out a line of thinking into what you believe to be ultimate-Truth, in other words, what your philosophy is. Do you exist in time and space just to be the playing of another human being? Or do you exist in this time and space, having been freely given this life, to recognise God as creator of all, and to explore the wonder of His creation – as you see fit?

These questions, and more, are being dealt with in this month's On Target Booklet, in the hope, the faith that 'one plants, another waters, but it is God who causes the increase'. Pray for that increase to come.

The League Prayer

Lord God Almighty, we humbly ask
Thy blessing on the work of the League.
That all activities engaged in may be under the direction of the Holy Spirit.
To this end, help us all to be
Thy faithful and obedient servants.
In the name of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
