Thought for the Week: "If all mankind, minus one, were of one opinion, and only one person were of the contrary opinion, mankind would be no more justified in silencing that one person, than he, if he had the power, would be justified in silencing mankind."

- John Stuart Mill

SOUTH AFRICA IN THE FRONT LINE: When following the "peace" agreement negotiated by Dr. Henry Kissinger, South Vietnam became another victim of Red Imperialism, Alexander Solzhenitsyn tersely commented that the Third World War was over, and that the West had lost. It was late in the same year, 1975, that the Soviets thrust their way into Angola, Southern Africa, using client Cuban troops.

Solzhenitsyn commented again: The Fourth World War had started, and would decide the future of the world. The South Africans moved militarily to meet the Soviet threat. The result? South Africa was censured at the United Nations! This condemnation of South Africa, not the Soviet Union, was chilling evidence of those Dark Forces which have as their objective the destruction of Christian Civilization.

Every matured student of psycho-political war knows the chilling significance the mounting international campaign against South Africa, with the media playing the same treacherous role it has played time and time again in the service of the forces of world revolution. There have been honourable exceptions, but generally the media, particularly television, is making it clear it wishes to see South Africa defeated. While not disputing that there are violent activities in South Africa, we know that the media are presenting a grossly distorted picture. The media constantly refer to Nelson Mandela as if he had been sentenced to prison for merely seeking "justice" for Africans. The truth is that Mandela was found guilty of being a top agent of a Communist movement planning to overthrow the South African government by force. Mandela was lucky not to have been sentenced to death. Dr. Allan Boesak, a clergyman of Cape Coloured background, is presented generally as a "preacher of fire" also primarily concerned with "justice". Boesak is a radical who has spoken under the flag of the Soviet Union. Boesak's revolutionary associations have been so well documented that there is no excuse for the media misleading people.

The anti-South African stance of Australia's Anglican Bishops, along with other Christian clergy, is heartening news for Moscow, which must never cease to marvel at the large number of Lenin's "useful innocents" there are to unwittingly serve their strategy. And Moscow must also be delighted that Mr. Malcolm Fraser is also being backed by the UN to help "solve" the South African crisis. On the eve of leaving for South Africa, his first visit - Mr. Fraser called a press conference, at which he offered the profound observation that "If black South Africa does not have support from the West, they'll go to the Soviet bloc. It would be our own fault if that happened." Mr. Fraser did not say which blacks he was talking about, probably because he does not know. He offered the same dangerous nonsense about Rhodesia, claiming that unless white rule ended, the Communists would take over. Fraser played a major role in the Rhodesian betrayal, the end result being Comrade Robert Mugabe, who has just extended the state of emergency for the fifth year since he came to power, while the North Korean trained 5th Brigade continues to kill innocent civilians. He has withdrawn the passport of his political opponent Joshua Nkomo.

Unless we are greatly mistaken, Malcolm Fraser will not change his attitude following his visit to Southern Africa. Former West Australian Premier Sir Charles Court has pointed out that having spent seven years making a mess of Australia, Malcolm Fraser should stop meddling in the affairs of South Africa.

The rapid escalation of the international campaign against South Africa should shock even the most complacent Australian into a realisation that the hour is much later than they have realised. The West is now in the eleventh hour.

Special "Intelligence Survey": Moving quickly to encourage a nationally informed and coherent campaign on the South African issue, the League of Rights has produced a special issue of "Intelligence Survey". It is packed with vital information which must be selectively distributed as quickly as possible. A front-back article by Mr. Eric Butler provides a background picture by one who knows South Africa intimately. There is a thoroughly documented exposure of the role of sections of the Christian Church in furthering the anti-South African revolution. There is a brilliant in-depth survey by well-known South African journalist, Mr. Ivor Benson. There is an item about the South African Anglican reform movement, which is seeking help from disturbed Anglicans everywhere. And there is a splendid commentary on apartheid by the late Roman Catholic Archbishop Whelan. Should be compulsory reading for all Christian clergy.

The special "Intelligence Survey" is part of an intensified survival movement by the League.

Bulk orders: 6 copies for $3; 12 copies, $5; 50 copies, $15; 100 copies, $25. Order from Box 1052J, GPO Melbourne 3001, or from all League bookshops.

THE NATIONAL WEEK-END: The celebration of the 50th Anniversary of "The New Times" coincides with the development of events which makes the 1985 National Week-End the most crucial in the history of the League. National Director Eric Butler says that the issues to be discussed, and the programme he will be putting forward, are so serious that he believes it is the duty of every actionist to make every endeavour to be present. "We are in a life and death situation" he says. The National Secretariat will meet all day on Friday, October 4th, to fashion strategy and tactics to be placed before the National Action Seminar on the Sunday.

It is hoped that Mr. Eric Butler's long-awaited reply to Phillip Adams will be launched at "The New Times" Dinner on the evening of October 4th. Eric Butler will also be sharing with hard core supporters for the first time what really happened during the period Phillip Adams claims Mr. Butler was pro-German and pro-Japanese. An historic Dinner with display of material never before previously shown. Dinner tickets: $20 single, $38 married couple.

The National Seminar on Saturday, October 5th, will be an absolute "feast", starting with Mr. Bruce Ruxton, who will have something special to say about Australia's defence and South Africa. Dr. Rupert Goodman, former Reader in Education at University of Queensland, will be taking the battle right up to the anti-flag campaigners. And then there will be Mr. Barry Tattersall on the education front, where the battle is becoming fiercer. Bill Daly of New Zealand and Jeremy Lee will complete the programme.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF NUNAWADING BY-ELECTION: We have, as a result of a number of field reports, been able to prepare a comprehensive report on the recent Nunawading by-election in Victoria. The basic issue was not a party one, of Premier John Cain versus Liberal Party leader Jeff Kennett, but concerned a basic principle of whether a government of any party label should be subjected to some checks upon its powers. During the Victorian State elections the League of Rights was the only organisation to widely distribute an in-depth examination of the history and value of the bi-cameral system of government, with Upper Houses or Senates acting as a balance against elected lower houses. An independent organisation took the League's material and used it in a brochure which was used to saturate the Province of Nunawading just prior to the election. That brochure helped to ensure that the natural and healthy instincts of sufficient electors found expression in a vote against the Labor Government's desperate bid for a majority in the Victorian Legislative Council and thus a complete monopoly of power. We know that some of our friends in the Call to Australia were disappointed that their vote was not higher. But one Christian Pastor, completely sympathetic to the CTA candidate, also a pastor, said it all when he said the basic issue was so serious that no chances should be taken and that he had to give his first preference to the Liberal candidate. He was not FOR the Liberal candidate, or the Liberal Party, but was AGAINST a Cain Government, heavily influenced by the Marxists, having a monopoly of power.

The Marxists understand what was really involved, pointing out in a special statement on the Nunawading by-election referred to the "bigger and wider issues of great importance to the working-class movement and to all progressive-minded and democratic people".

The Marxist approach to the by-election, issued by the Socialist Party of Australia, revealed once again the fear of League influence: "In the whole process of shifting Australia's politics to the extreme right, a behind the scenes role is played by the League of Rights, an organisation putting forward policies of an openly fascist character".

League of Rights influence continues to grow because, thank God, the instincts of large numbers of Australians remain sound. But it's the League's information and knowledge which is proving decisive. The Nunawading by-election result was a major victory in the struggle to preserve a Free Australia for the future.

THE SURVIVAL ASSOCIATION: Many supporters would have seen an advertisement in The Australian (29/8), headed - "Why Are Certain Truths Restricted?" It was signed by "Alan Gourley", of The Survival Association. A most recent note from Mr. Gourley to us informs us that a new publication will be published by the Association later this year. It will follow on from "How To Avoid The Looming Catastrophe" ($5.00 posted) - but will be of a more specific nature. We'll advise when ready.
