THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: "Courage is that virtue which champions the cause of right." - Cicero, famous Roman statesman-philosopher.

TOTALITARIAN THREAT IN THE WEST: Following the lead of the N.S.W. Liberal Government, the West Australian Labor Government is attempting to implement legislation which, while purporting to eliminate "racial hatred", is designed to intimidate Australians against discussing immigration and the problems created by multi-culturalism. So far from stating that they will oppose legislation which threatens the traditional rights of the Australian people, the West Australian Liberal Party says it is promoting its own "Racial Fairness Bill".

Zionist spokesmen have welcomed the W.A. Labor Party legislation, as they did when the N.S.W. Liberals implemented similar legislation. In welcoming the W.A. legislation, Council of Western Australian Jewry Mr. Doron Ur said he would have preferred group libel legislation. "I have been calling for group libel since May 1971, when I made a submission to the Australian Law Reform Commission. I was very sorry it did not succeed. However, the Jewish community will be pleased that something is finally happening." A number of Zionist statements make it clear that it is hoped that both the N.S.W. and W.A. legislation can be used against the League of Rights.

The far-reaching implications of the W.A. legislation, entitled (INCITEMENT TO RACIAL HATRED) BILL 1989, may be judged by the following extract from the Second Reading speech on October 26th: "The code amendments which create the incitement to racial hatred provision provide penalties for the possession of racially inflammatory written or pictorial material for publication, distribution or display. This offence makes a person who has in his or her possession written or pictorial material which is threatening, abusive or insulting with a view to its being published, distributed or displayed by themselves or who so publishes, distributes or displays it, guilty of an offence if he intends to incite hatred or any identifiable group thereby.

"The second code amendments deal with the display of racially inflammatory written or pictorial material which is not intended to incite racial hatred but which is displayed to the public will have serious deleterious effects.

"In terms of these offences of causing harassment, alarm, fear or distress, the Bill makes provision for a person who has in their possession written or pictorial racial inflammatory material which is threatening, abusive or insulting with a view to its being displayed or who actually displays this material, guilty of an offence if the said display intended to or is likely to cause serious harassment, alarm, fear or distress to any identifiable group."

The Bill makes provision for horrendous penalties with imprisonment up to two years and fines of $2,000. A senior Perth barrister expresses the opinion that "Only by introducing full-blown totalitarianism can the objectives of the minister be attained". This type of legislation paves the way for what has happened in Canada. The famous Zundel case was the result of a Jewish woman reporting to the government that she was greatly offended because Zundel had circulated a brochure which suggested that the claim that 6 million Jews were systematically gassed, mainly in Auschwitz, Poland, was not true. This resulted in the Crown prosecuting Zundel with costly court actions costing the Canadian taxpayers hundreds of thousands of dollars. Written history is being constantly revised, with the result that some people feel offended as their views are challenged.

We have often said that hatred is a self-destructive force and serves no useful purpose in human affairs. Australians who are becoming increasingly alarmed at the emerging programme to Asianise Australia, and who object to this programme, are not expressing "hatred" of Asian people. It is true that National Socialists like van Tongeran in Western Australia have expressed hatred of Asians in their posters. van Tongeran and supporters have been arrested under the existing laws. The Common Law provides adequate protection for any individual, irrespective of racial background, who feels that his natural rights have been violated.

If the Western Australian "racist" legislation is passed, there will be pressure on other States to pass similar legislation. Already this is being mooted in South Australia. This type of legislation has no place in a free Australia and should be rejected in every possible way. The League of Rights is in the process of issuing a formal statement on the matter.

ON HATE, VENGEANCE, AND GUILT (Eric Butler filed this report on the eve of leaving Canada for the U.K.):

"At long last the first War Crimes court case in Canada got under way in Toronto on November 15th. The outcome of this case may well decide what will happen in Australia and elsewhere. Imre Finta, 77 year-old former Hungarian, is charged with robbing, kidnapping, and forcibly confining Jews in wartime Hungary. One of the most astonishing aspects of the charge is that after 45 years, the precise number of Jews allegedly confined by force in July, 1944, is given - 8,617!

"Finta is also charged with manslaughter in the deaths of two named people, and persons unknown on three trains used to transport them out of Hungary.

"Finta, a former Hungarian police captain, is being defended by the fearless barrister, Mr. Doug Christie. Christie has visited Israel and Hungary, taking evidence concerning the Finta case, and has been working day and night in an attempt to come to grips with the mass of material the Crown is attempting to introduce into a case which, it is anticipated, could take six months to conclude. The trial is before a full jury of 12 and as this report is being written the process of selecting the jury is taking place.

"Once again Doug Christie is cast in the role of a David battling a Goliath in the form of the Zionist terror-machine, operating through the Canadian Government.

"I understand that Finta has already exhausted himself financially, although receiving some support from fellow Hungarians. Christie is defending Finta on a matter of principle, not for financial gain. To a great extent he is relying on the support of freedom-loving people across Canada.

"A study of the Jewish press suggests that there is a note of apprehension creeping in, although the call for vengeance, masked as merely a plea for justice, still continues. And, of course, there is the never-ending campaign to create a guilt-complex among Christians everywhere. A feeling of guilt, particularly concerning what allegedly happened in the past, is one of the most deadly of the perversions afflicting Christians. Large numbers of people, including the British people themselves, came to feel guilt for what the British colonial developers allegedly did.

"The problem of guilt was brought home to me in a recent meeting, when a highly intelligent man of German background was discussing with me the likely impact of the recently published Other Losses, which documents for the first time how at least one million German prisoners were deliberately allowed to die of starvation and disease in the American-controlled camps at the conclusion of World War 2. The German-Canadian told me that he had come to Canada as a young man imbued with a deep guilt-complex concerning what his fellow Germans had done to the Jews. He had this guilt complex in spite of the fact that he never saw any evidence to support the hollow stories of masses of Jews being transported to Poland to be gassed. He lived on one of the main railroads to the East, witnessed the transport of troops and equipment; but nothing similar to that which Zionist propaganda claims. But nevertheless, he felt that the dreadful events must have happened. He knew about the American death camps after the war, having lost a close relative, but felt that perhaps this was some form of justice.

"He was only freed from his own feeling of guilt when he came to Canada and met an English ex-serviceman who exposed him to the truths he had never heard before. But, he warned, back in Germany his own relatives remain the victims of guilt, and do not want to fade the truth.

"In the last analysis, it is the Truth which makes men free. As Doug Christie battles to defend his elderly Hungarian client, he serves the cause of Truth. The Finta case will be watched with keen interest right around the world." (end of article by Eric D. Butler).

BRIEF COMMENTS: Prime Minister Hawke's guest list for his birthday party makes interesting reading. Sir Peter Abeles, multinational transport Czar, and Mr. Isi Leibler, Zionist leader with extensive business interests such as Jetset Travel, were among those invited. In spite of the economic plight of the nation, Bob Hawke will have the support of some of the most powerful men in Australia as he makes his election bid during the first part of next year. And his new-look wife Hazel must be rated as one of the Prime Minister's greatest assets. The Peacock-led opposition will have to improve their performance if they are to win what normally should be a certain victory.

We remain convinced that immigration could be made a major issue at the next elections. A real Opposition would not only be highlighting the social disintegration which a continuation of the present policy must produce, but should be widely publicising the enormous financial cost to the Australian taxpayers. Foreign Affairs Minister Senator Evans has recently admitted that the Vietnamese programme alone has cost $700 million. There are vast indirect costs such as special education facilities, and a wide range of organisations to deal with special social services. Interpreting is also costly, as demonstrated in every court case where non-English speaking migrants are involved. But the Opposition led by Andrew Peacock will not raise the immigration question for fear of being called 'racist'.

BASIC FUND: We are pleased to report a surge in contributions to the Basic Fund. In these difficult economic times for most people, this tells its own story: our supporters, more and more, are deepening their understanding of our Nation's plight. The Fund now stands at $39,671.
