THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: "To expand the individuality ... is the chief end of man, but growth in reality requires proper conditions, such as are almost unattainable in Occidental society, where visible activity alone is a measure of efficiency. This is evident from the common English idiom about 'doing nothing'. One of the most serious sources of human satisfaction today is the confounding of physical inactivity, with inaction. Unless we are to admit the need for 'doing nothing', we dethrone the human and make man no better than a beast of burden. Life becomes futile the moment we forget the end of existence, and permit activity for any other end, or even for its own sake. This is precisely what in ever-increasing degree, the financial mechanism imposes on us. Life becomes an empty round of doing things which are meaningless."

- Thomas Robertson in Human Ecology

THE THREAT OF RACIAL VILIFICATION LAWS: With the introduction of racial vilification into the Victorian Parliament, this means that four States, N.S.W., Western Australia, as well as the A.C.T., have responded primarily to Jewish pressure to have this type of totalitarian legislation implemented. It is anticipated that the Queensland legislation will be promulgated before the end of the month. The Victorian Opposition, which has a majority in the Legislative Council, has warned that it would have to study the Labor Government's Bill before supporting it. Once all States have implemented this type of legislation, there will be intense pressure to have similar legislation passed Federally. There are members of the Opposition, like Alexander Downer of South Australia, who have openly advocated the implementation of Federal legislation.

Some criticism of the Victorian proposal has appeared in the media, with an excellent statement by Mr. Nigel Jackson. But this has produced an attempted rebuttal by the Victorian Attorney-General, who along with others, engages in a type of Orwellian double-speak, claiming that there is threat of freedom of speech and that legitimate criticism and comments concerning racial issues will not be interfered with. But the truth is that where this type of legislation has been implemented, particularly in Canada, there has been a constant harassment of anyone expressing a non-establishment view concerning race issues, immigration or history. The latest example from Canada is a charge laid against well-known journalist Doug Collins, by an African-Canadian group which has written to the Attorney-General of British Columbia, demanding that Collins be charged with "racism" because of a recent article on the riots in the U.S.A. and Toronto. Collins points out the obvious: that multiracial societies only result in friction. This friction is then exploited.

As in Canada and elsewhere, the Zionists have spearheaded the campaign to have anti-racial vilification legislation implemented. The Australian Jewish News of June 5th quotes the President of the Jewish Council of Victoria as saying "We are delighted" about the proposed Victorian legislation. "The J.C.C.V. was involved in strong representation to Government over a considerable period supporting the enactment of anti-vilification legislation." No further comment is necessary. But we urge all Victorian readers to protest to Opposition Members against supporting such blatantly totalitarian legislation in Victoria.

BENDING THE KNEE TO MOTHER EARTH IN RIO (from David Thompson): The "Mother of all Junkets", the Earth Summit in Rio De Janiero, appears to have produced another costly international conference, and two more international 'treaties'. The long-term effect will include further psychological conditioning to solve problems (real or imagined) internationally, and another imperceptible move towards international controls.

The Secretary-General of "Earth Summit" was Maurice Strong, an avowed internationalist, world government advocate, and prominent member of the Club of Rome. Australia sent a delegation of 40 to Rio, which was criticised as excessive by Senator Bill O'Chee. Mrs. Kelly defended the delegation, as did Opposition spokesman on the environment, Fred Chaney. He noted that the Japanese are reputed to have sent 1,000 delegates!

FURTHER CENTRALISATION: Mrs. Kelly is lucky not to have done herself an injury in her hurry to sign the two new International conventions. The first is on limiting greenhouse gas emissions. There appears to have been no discussions on the quality of evidence for the thesis that man is causing global warming. This is regarded as an article of faith in the New Green Religion. The second convention is on the protection of endangered species. The League warned of this in 1989 in the booklet "Greenhoax".

While neither of these treaties are as far-reaching as the green extremists proposed, it is clear that they offer enormous opportunities for further centralised power in Australia. Saving endangered species sounds inoffensive; it is one of the green "motherhood" issues. But the Federal Government can now argue that to give effect to this treaty, it must have total control over every square inch of land and water in Australia in order to protect endangered species. Species cannot be protected if their habitats cannot be controlled.

A global environmental facility was also established, in order to fund environmental programmes. The West is expected to provide the funds.

Mrs. Kelly agreed to this, and it is expected to cost Australia an initial $10 million. The Fund will be an arm of the World Bank, and will help finance subsidised technology, aid, debt relief, and "debt-for-nature-swaps" in the Third World. This provides the eventual form of proposals put to the Colorado 4th World Wilderness Conference by some of the world's most powerful bankers in 1987. While the greens might be scathing about Rio, the internalists will be well satisfied.

NEW RELIGION OF FEAR: Children were encouraged to take messages to Rio from other children around the world. The threat of "the bomb" of the 1960s and 70s is replaced by the threat of global environmental disaster. Constant fear and constant guilt in damaging Mother Earth must contribute to rising suicide rates. Children are the primary victims of the psychological warfare, and the first to submit to the New Green Religion. The Christian Church is silent, itself a victim of the green-guilt, rather than carrying Christ's message of hope for another generation.

BRIEF COMMENTS: There was a time when the influence of the Christian value system ensured that men generally took it for granted to respect and, when necessary, to protect women. But the equality dogma, women's "liberation" and an erosion of the traditional value system, have created a social climate in which women are the most victimised by a rising tide of violence. Not surprisingly organisations have been emerging offering women courses in all kinds of self-defence. In some States in the U.S.A. women are encouraged to join pistol clubs. Rape assaults decrease where such clubs operate. In Australia, guns are "out". But there are other self defence programmes offering. In an invitation from one of these organisations, we are told:

"With violence in society becoming more prevalent by the day we feel it is increasingly necessary for people to learn to look after themselves. As women bear the brunt of a great deal of this violence it is particularly vital for them to learn effective Defence. In the short term these Self Defence skills are their only answer" (emphasis in original).

But what about the "long term"? Western Civilisation is disintegrating because it has been torn from the roots which once nourished it, with the individual forced into an economic environment fuelled by the will-to-power. The will-to-power is masked by exhortations for everyone to become more "efficient" and "competitive". "Education" seeks to condition the young to become technical barbarians in order to survive in an economic jungle.

A recent press report states that the Commonwealth Bank had given the N.S.W. Labor Party five years to reduce a $9.1 million debt. Details of a package deal was outlined at the recent N.S.W. State Labor Conference, where Federal A.L.P. President Stephen Loosley stepped down. He had been widely criticised in the A.L.P. for the debt situation. The fact that the Labor Party, both at the Federal and State levels, has increasingly become dependent upon the banking system to finance its activities, will explain why the Labor Party declines to criticise the debt system.

As the Zionist lobby desperately seeks to keep the War Crimes trials alive in Australia and Canada, and seeks to ensure that John Demjanjuk is not freed by the Israelis now that the charges against him have collapsed completely, it is appropriate to recall one of the best publicised events of the Second World War: the mass killing of 14,000 elitist Polish officers, allegedly by the Germans. The infamous Katyn Forest massacre was widely publicised as an example of German war crimes and stressed by the Soviet at the Nuremberg Trials. But the Germans had denied being involved and Red Cross and representatives from neutral countries were invited by the Germans to examine the mass graves, charging that all the evidence indicated that it was the Soviet which had been responsible for the mass killing. Prominent Poles denied the Soviet claims and a growing number of investigators after the war came to the conclusion that the Soviet had been guilty. But in 1946-47 Germans were executed for being allegedly responsible for the murder of the Polish officers, the cream of the Polish Army. But the doubts about the affair grew and in April 1991 Gorbachev officially apologised to Poland and admitted that the K.G.B. was responsible for the killing of the 14,000 Poles. The man who actually organised the mass killing of the Poles, on orders from Stalin's Government, is now 89 and lives in Moscow. There is no suggestion by the Zionist lobby that this man should be charged with a major War Crime.

THE TERROR OF THE COMPUTER: We must admit that we, ourselves, did not fully grasp the role that the computer is currently playing in what is known as Information Technology.

We particularly refer supporters to the world-shaking political coup in Moscow during August, 1991. The Communist society is (was!) a pyramidally structured one: the most strict control of information was concentrated at the apex of the pyramid. Nothing "came down" to the base of the pyramid, by way of information, that was unintended. The computer changed all that - a new communications network had come into existence: viz. personal computers, faxes, telephones. The Russian people were instantly informed of the coup, and the coup was aborted. Probably new computer technology destroyed Communism or, more accurately, allowed it to be destroyed.
