THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: "Galileo demonstrated that it was not true that the sun revolved round the earth. The earth revolved round the sun, upon whose 'energy rays' organic life on this earth depended. Douglas demonstrated that it was not true that the Banking System revolved round society's economic activities. Social economic activity, as at present 'ordained' revolved round the Banking System, upon whose 'finance credit rays' its economic, political and cultural life depended. The Banking System was no mere 'wealth depository', but a finance credit manufacturer'. From one angle, an 'energiser', from another it was a 'controller' of social activity. Did not St. Paul have human society in mind when he instructed the faithful to 'submit to all authority'? 'Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God; the powers that be are ordained of God.' Paul was ever respectful of the Roman State and its Pax Romana, believing it to be 'not a terror to good works, but to the evil...a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.'

Clifford Hugh Douglas in "Economic Democracy" demonstrated that a 'hidden power' concealed in a Finance Credit Monopoly, controlled the policy of the present 'powers that be' and that this hidden power could in no sense be considered a 'minister of God for good'."

TAKE THAT EINSTEIN! by James Reed: The Australian, November 7th, 2005, has an article on page 3 which reports that an Adelaide physicist, Reg Cahill, is conducting experiments which he believes will show that Jewish physicist and so-called "super brain" Albert Einstein's theories of relativity are wrong. The theories are regarded by the establishment, which is possessed by an Einstein cult, as confirmed by all available evidence: Cahill and many others argue that this is a myth. Cahill, unlike earlier critics, has secured a $60,000 Australian Research Council grant to prove Einstein wrong. Cahill is quoted as saying "I've been treated with utter contempt."

No doubt the professor is not fully aware of what he is challenging. I'm not a science-minded person, but I came to understand the role of Einstein in the "Grand Plan" by reading a paper on the League website (www.alor.org/) entitled, "St. Albert Loses His Halo: The Establishment Myth of the 'Genius' of Albert Einstein" by Peter J. White and Adam Cartwright. Somewhat technical but clearly written papers like this are useful for us all because they enable us to put into place the pieces of the puzzle without an enormous amount of first hand research. It was good see that the League writers were on the right track, certainly as far as physics goes.

WANTED, ALIVE: BABIES: by James Reed: An article in The Weekend Australian Magazine, November 26th-27th, 2005, deals superficially with the problem of the "birth dearth" – that Australia and most other Western countries have a birth rate significantly below replacement. MP republican Malcolm Turnbull believes that this is a problem which even the sacred god-given tool of immigration can't solve. Apart from fundamentalist Muslims, most migrant women join the consumer madness of our so-called culture and soon reproduce less.

Anglo women, the group first infected and most deeply infected with feminism/women's liberation, breed even less than everybody else. The rule is simply this: to reduce fertility move women into the workforce. Technically this is known as the "demographic transition thesis" and it has been adequately confirmed in the West. Consumerism and spending money on clothes and cosmetics replaces reproduction.

Even among freedom movement people, discussion of this issue is something of a "hot spud". It is true that in surveys 75 per cent of women want to have children – but that is still consistent with a below replacement level birthrate. A majority of women with one or two children would also have liked more. But taking all of this into account our fertility rate would only barely be above replacement. The real problem goes beyond even the breakdown of marriage. That is merely a symptom of a deeper disease. The root cause is that in this respect women have lost their way. The system requires compliant workers and no man is ever as compliant in the workplace as a woman.

Women's traditional role of social conformity and norm reinforcement, is now being used against us, as men increasingly face replacement in employment.

Women flood university courses, outnumber men in everything except some sciences, and even there affirmative action policies grind away to reduce male numbers. Male suicide rates have skyrocketed in recent times. Feminism has always had as its agenda the destruction of manhood which is the reason why feminists and the homosexual lobby have been such convenient bed-fellows. Consumerism and shopping have become their new religion.

The birth dearth is thus tied to the general conspiracy of White racial genocide. It is part of the grand plan to wipe our kind off of the face of the earth.

I can hear it... there goes Reed again... but consider. Europe will have a Muslim majority by 2070 or earlier. The Western nations will fail in this order: France, the Netherlands, Spain, Germany. Islamisation will increase when Turkey with 67 million Muslims joins the EU. The elites will make more money, quicker, and speed up the process of White racial genocide. What fun they have.

By the way... those women objecting to my line of thought should consider the inevitable consequences of an Islamic Asianised world and their "liberation" and "rights". All that Anglo Saxons have given them will be washed away by the Arabic sands. From a historical perspective, Western Feminism will be seen as the best friend of Islam.

If we are to survive, "our side" needs to consider discussion of some topics which prudery and cowardice have put off limits. The fate of Western civilisation may hinge on whether or not the petticoat parliament can be put back in its God-given place.

THE DAVID IRVING STORY by George Kadar, American Free Press Reporter: "These Holocaust deniers are very slick people. They justify everything they say with facts and figures." Chairman, New Jersey Commission on Holocaust Education (Newark Star-Ledger, 23 Oct. 1996, p 15)

Irving will spend Christmas in Austrian jail in isolation: David Irving was arrested in Austria on the 11th of November, 2005. Since the beginning of his arrest Irving was kept isolated from the outside world. For the first six days the Austrian government did not notify the world about his arrest. The news came out into the open when Irving's own web page presented it. Based on the best available information, Irving crossed the border to Austria from Switzerland and he was planning to deliver a lecture at the Olympia, a university fraternity group in Vienna. The subject of the lecture was: "the secret negotiations between Adolf Eichmann and the Jewish leaders in Budapest, Joel Brand and Rezső Kasztner, the so-called "trucks for Jews" deal, and British knowledge of the scheme from code breaking" (From Irving's own web site.)

While travelling with a car he and the guests at the student club both recognized that plain clothes detectives were hanging around, so Irving started to drive toward the Southern border and he was arrested on the roadside near the town of Hartberg in the Province of Styria.

Irving believes that he was tracked by the police, prior to his arrival: "Despite precautions, the Austrian political police are believed to have learned of the visit by wiretaps or intercepting e-mails."

Almost totally isolated from the outside world: After the arrest he was taken to Graz and a few days later to Vienna where he is held at 11 Landesgericht Strasse almost totally segregated from the outside world.

On the 18th of November I called the offices of Judge Dr. Peter Seda who is prosecuting Irving. The clerk gave assurances about a permit to visit Irving. When I arrived on the morning of the 23rd of November the written permit was issued by the prosecutor's office but I was not permitted to see Irving by the deputies, in the same building. Their excuse was that Irving already received a visitor for a thirty minutes visit that week.

Judge Dr. Seda is a veteran champion for the cause of the Austrian Jews. He is on record for tracking 'internet thought criminals' for at least ten years for "anti-Semitic expressions", "denial of the Holocaust" and "spreading revisionist literature". He is also a choice of the local establishment for politically sensitive cases: He handled the Austrian investigation into the poisoning of Victor Yushenko, then a candidate in the elections of The Ukraine, who was poisoned and was treated in Vienna. (2004) Judge Dr. Seda seems to be a dream come through for the not too popular Jewish community in Vienna.

Irving was already forbidden to travel to Austria, Canada, Germany and Australia. Germany fined him $6,000 in 1992 for stating that the Auschwitz gas chambers were a hoax. He lost his apartment in London when he lost a trial against Deborah Lipstadt a Holocaust advocate and the judge labeled him "an active Holocaust denier". He was already arrested in Austria in 1984. The present charges were generated after two speeches in the country in 1989. (Vienna and Leoben) The arrest was received as 'great news' by the international cabal of Jewish organizations: Shimon Samuels from the Simon Wiesenthal Center, Lord Greville Janner the Chairman of the Holocaust Educational Fund of England, David A. Harris executive director of the American Jewish Committee, The South Poverty Law Center, ADL, etc.

Only BBC's legal affairs analyst Jon Silverman expressed some concern: "He remains a showman and may well relish the opportunity to grandstand before a wider audience if put on trial."

There were several revisionist historians, scientists, free speech advocates arrested, prosecuted recently indicating a worldwide crackdown on those who refuse to tow the party line on the Holocaust.

Ernst Zundel and Germar Rudolf were both arrested in the US and extradited to Germany to face lengthy prison sentences. Both of them were married to American citizens and Rudolf also had a child from this marriage. For the deportation of Rudolf, Deborah Achim field officer takes the credit proudly on the web page of ICE. (Department of Homeland Security's US Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE)).

A Dutch court extradited Siegfried Verbeke to Germany, one of the founders of the Belgian Vlaams Blok Party. (Vlaams Belang) Vincent Reynouard, Jerome Bourbon, Camille-Marie Galic, Rene-Louis Berclaz, all Europeans, all in jail or under indictments for heresy.

A member of the European Parliament Dr. Bruno Gollnisch lost his immunity and possibly will go to prison for simply stating that historians should have the right to debate the Holocaust issues. His fairly innocent statements on the protection of free speech were used against him by a future political opponent who plans to run against him: Justice Minister and later Transport Minister Dominique Perben. Gollnisch is second in line behind Le Pen' at the National Front.

Laws against the Holocaust denial: There are already eight countries with laws against Holocaust denial: Austria, Belgium, Czech republic, France, Germany, Israel, Lithuania, Poland, Slovakia, and Switzerland.

A most dramatic development on November 1st, 2005: ALL 191 nations of the UN – unanimously and without a vote – adopted an Israeli-drafted resolution declaring January 27 the "International Day of Commemoration in memory of the victims of the Holocaust". The resolution "rejects any denial of the Holocaust as a historical event, either in full or part". The UN resolution is providing unheard, exorbitant privileges to a miniature minority group on this planet. This was Israel's first successful draft resolution in the history of the UN! The resolution also mentions a mysterious American citizen by the name of Willis A. Carto as the only responsible party for the present dramatic circumstances who started the revisionist movement about three decades earlier.

Meanwhile the news of Irving's arrest spread faster than wild fire around planet earth. Thanks to electronic communications within hours everybody received the news. Irving is a very popular historian and a forceful writer. On the 22nd of November the first demonstration took place in Ottawa, Canada, at the front of the Austrian Embassy. Chances are that we will see far more if Irving is kept in jail for a longer period of time and every indication is that this is the case.

Irving denied bail: On the 25th, Friday, there was an important hearing for Irving in Vienna. The prosecutor decided to formally charge him and they also denied his bail offer of $10,000 to $20,000. The decision indicates that those who are pulling the strings from the background want to lock up Irving for a longer time, possibly for years.

David Irving's attorney Dr. Elmar Kresbach in Vienna stated on the 25th: The court refused to release Mr. Irving on bail because he can easily go to England and England will not extradite him. The case will go to a "jury trial" with three judges and eight citizens as jury members. The trial will last probably a single day and the citizens' only and most likely role will be to rubber stamp the decision. The trial will take place in January at the earliest and Irving will be sitting in his isolated jail cell in the meantime.

Irving 'correcting' himself? Attorney Dr. Elmar Kersbach also issued statements in the name of his client that his prior beliefs are "not really worthwhile to hold up" and "Irving is correcting himself". It is difficult to see Irving backing away from his prior statements like: "more women died on the backseat of Edward Kennedy's car at Chappaquiddick than ever died in a gas chamber in Auschwitz". In civilized countries it is a common practice to disregard all testimonies that were coerced under pressure, torture, threat of violence, etc.

Threatening a 67-years-old man with a prison term that would last for the rest of his natural life, that is what I would consider the ultimate threat.

Anything stated or signed by Irving under these circumstances while cut off from the rest of the world and his supporters – is meaningless. Irving has written close to thirty books and his value as an original researcher is undeniable. From the beginning of his career he traveled around the world to seek out original documents, sources. He interviewed a large number of people who were never touched by the "court historians". He realized early on that there was a huge void in the history of WWII that was not exposed or touched by others because of fear. He did fill this void, the job is mostly done, there is nothing that can be done about it, his work cannot be destroyed.
