THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: Never waste a good crisis: In the halls of "power politics" and in global "money management" circles, this is a well known though seldom articulated rule of action. It is claimed that no less a politician than Niccolo Machiavelli once said, "never waste the opportunities offered by a good crisis". Perhaps he did. If so, he was not the first to say it or to urge those he served to act upon it. The bending of opportune crises for political ends is as old as politics – or crises. A cursory glance at history can unearth hundreds of examples of this practice...

Ignoring the appalling destruction of life and property and playing on the heartbreak, despair and natural mental fragility of those swept up by this catastrophe, this Japanese crisis is being played for all it can contribute. And it can and is contributing a great deal – to those who are increasingly desperate to divert attention to the man-made problems of the world.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE LIE by John Brett: The following is an excerpt of a letter one young Australian wrote to Julia Gillard PM: "My name is Brittany Stuart I'm 17 years old and shortly I will be 18 and legally allowed to vote, along with many others. But what is the point in me voting when some aspects of the government are taking our say away from us, which will eventually lead to our future. Let's say something recent as the ETS and the Carbon Dioxide tax? I'm well aware of this as I re-call you said something along the lines that you wouldn't bring this in BUT you lied to your fellow Australians, not only the older generations but the younger ones as well..."

John Brett responded to Brittany: I was once asked how could I know when somebody was lying to me? I still cannot be sure when lying is on a person to person basis, like a salesman at the door with a money back vacuum cleaner if it does not work as described. Of course the key to discerning this type of person to person lie, is the ability to foresee the consequences of any action arising from the lie. But this requires experience and a measure of intuition, tempered with the lessons of the lies you have manufactured yourself along the way. The consequences of indulging in this personal lying affects only a few people for a short time, while the compulsive liar eventually destroys his own credibility and ultimately his sanity. As someone observed, "The lie is both murder and suicide". In any case, we all know from our own experience that we tell a lie in order to instigate or prevent action or a reaction, "I didn't pinch Mary on the bottom", or "I didn't take Mary's ice cream". The lie is a device to deceive; it is man made always associated with action, mostly negative action, hence its dynamic quality by invention and application.

Psychological force is subtle and mostly subliminal. That is, it is concealed. The lie is the major and now dominant political force in everyday use. It is disguised at the same time it is revealed by having been renamed "politically correct". The word "correct" gives the catch phrase all of its credibility, almost the very opposite to its intent – a lie. The credibility that becomes attached gives it coinage and assures it of continuity. Its effect can be negated to a degree by always referring to it as PCL, a "politically correct lie", not just PC. This brings it very close to being oxymoronic.

The complimentary opposite of the Lie is the Truth. If there is no truth there can be no lies as vice-versa. Truth is passive. It stands alone without malice or intent or accomplices or continuous repetition. It exists outside of man's invention and corresponds to reality, and words about it should reflect its reality.

Our culture, through 2,000 years of experience, once instructed us by example and education the bedrock importance of knowing both and discriminating between the two. They became visible and identifiable as virtues and vice. The two had their cultural roots in the New Testament, as revealed by Christ.

The original education by Christ is recorded in the Gospel of John, chapter 8-44 in these translated words:-

"Your father is the devil and you choose to carry out your father's desires. He was murderer from the beginning, and is not rooted in the truth; there is no truth in him. When he tells a lie he is speaking his own language, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But I speak the truth and therefore you do not believe me".

The truth of what Christ was revealing was vindicated weeks later when the powerful liars of the day did in fact murder him for telling the truth. He was not confronted with the truth at his trial, only false accusations. The action that flowed as a consequence from his tormentors lies, was his crucifixion. The Truth and the Lie down the centuries ebbed and flowed with all their consequences until suddenly in the 19th century there began an explosion of revealed scientific truth that was to change the world forever. By the end of the 20th century man had left the earth to journey beyond to the moon and elsewhere and now after discovering the Atom, the building block of all matter, he can now move and manipulate single atoms themselves. (10 million atoms placed side by side would just cover this full stop.)

Meanwhile whilst being mesmerized by this staggering revelation of truth in so short a time, the invented collective lie has achieved a feat of the same magnitude as the revealed scientific truth of the age. Amongst the great discoveries of the scientists were new mechanisms that allowed them to control imparted information. Newspapers, Radio and TV were to flood our minds with more information than could be assimilated in two lifetimes. A lie could be generated and amplified at any desired speed to any destination. Constant repetition gave it increasing force until in the minds of the beholder it became believed as "truth".

The first great national exponent of this new mass hypnotism, which relied for its potency on the omission or exclusion of any conflicting truth, was the German scientist Dr. Joseph Goebbels', who right at the outset told his confederates, "If you tell a big enough lie and keep repeating it, people will eventually come to believe it".

This worked so well it led the German nation to its destruction, not recovered to this day. Dr Goebbels was not experimenting on the German people; he was entirely familiar with the success of the lie in sending millions of Russian souls to their death together with the destruction of their nation. He knew how well it worked; all he had to make sure was that the truth was omitted. "What the eye doesn't see, the mind doesn't grieve".

We are now told that any lie emanating from an institution of authority, such as the Church, the Government, the Bank, UNO, Universities or even the local council, will have between one quarter and one third of the population wanting to believe what they have been told. Nothing, even the passage of time will not have them dissuaded from the original lie. "Global warming is an absolute truth to one quarter of the population".

All of what was happening in the Soviet Union, Germany, Cambodia, Iraq and China and currently Afghanistan, was concealed from us during its progress by our own media and publishers. Their cry is, "There are no collective lies" in our "free" nation, as millions of refugees flocked here from the lands of the lies. But all the time the lies became bigger and bigger around the world, encompassing the vanquished and previous victors until finally in 2009 every nation on earth was to meet in Copenhagen to agree by treaty to the biggest, most outrageous lie ever invented.

The solution to a man-made lie that the world was perishing because of excess man-made Carbon Dioxide, was to be the handover of all legitimate democratic and other government to a new selected world government which was to be the only way to solve this non-existent problem.

Again the dynamic for repair is to be finance, that invisible power, as it was in the beginning. The power of this lie can be gauged by its ability to silence almost every contradictory voice and fact in the world. The opposition to the lie and all else about this new world order has been suppressed by people who we can never trust again, though we will be allowed to vote for some and buy newspapers from the others, as we please.

It is diabolical and has left us speechless and powerless, just as happened 2,000 years ago in that little country where Truth first obtained an audience, at a sacrificial price to the messenger. The current messengers of our fate will be exalted and revered by the sponsors who pay them so well. Can we "Forgive them for they know not what they do"?

'NO CARBON-TAX' RALLIES: LOU COOK REPORTS:

Dear Reader, Julia Gillard has thrown down the gauntlet to all Australians and it is past time to take up the challenge. Here it is accepted! I commend the attached files for your earnest consideration and then to share them with others.

The battle is just beginning but it will not end with Gillard's departure... the rest of the elected representatives at all levels of government, must be made aware that "this is not your world" and "your seat belongs to the people"... abuse it and YOU ARE GONE!! Come on... sock it to them; if you don't then they will tax your life away!

Oooooooo this is getting exciting: ABC TV News (finally) has done a huge coverage of the Canberra NO CARBON TAX rally. 4,000 people have travelled across Australia (during working hours) to rally on the Lawns in front of Parliament House Canberra. ABC aired the whole of Tony Abbott's speech, as many Parliamentarians, and a huge atmosphere of excited and happy people flanked him. We will probably see more of the other speakers later.

This has just begun. We must give out the information emails/flyers etc., that tell the Truth about the Wind Farm Industry, (it's cost and effectiveness). Information here... <http://www.carbon-sense.com/> Also, the truth about CO₂; and the exposure of the whole sorry mess and mistake, and those who are leading it. PM Gillard and her Left-Green Entourage have staked their reputation and careers on the fact that people do not know simple facts about CO₂, and various methods of electricity generation.

Facebook sites with folk joining in their hundreds: Yes; and there are Sites on Facebook etc. springing up, that have members joining in hundreds; with excellent comments. The movement is growing exponentially; in addition to the established ranks who organised the previous Monckton and Watts Tours. Even though today's rallies are in business hours, many who are free, are travelling interstate to give their support.

If Christopher Monkton's events can be outside working hours, we will get huge numbers who earnestly want to protest against Gillard's Mammoth Con Job (of Libyan proportions). Monkton could find that his mission in Australia is the biggest thing since the Billy Graham Crusades of the 1950s filled the Melbourne and Sydney Cricket Grounds. Gillard likes to talk tough in Parliament; waving her finger at the Opposition and saying "Bring it On". Well Julia.... we might just Do That, with the help of millions of Australians.

PS: this radio interview was recorded nine days ago on 2GB: http://www.2gb.com/index2.php?option=com_newsmanager&task=view&id=8360 Angry Anderson is an Australian TV personality who for decades has championed the causes of the least privileged.

Does anyone know how many protesters attended the GetUp Rally?

IT IS GADDAFI'S TURN TO BE THROWN TO THE WOLVES! Readers will remember we harked back to an OT 1987 article to seek the motives behind the anti-Gaddafi attacks. (<http://www.alor.org/Volume47/Vol47No8.htm#1a>) 4th March 2011.

We quoted former president of the Soviet Union, Mikhail Gorbachev – now a darling of the world ruling elite – who warned that the Libyan leader could be chased out of his own country if he did not "begin to bend to the will of the people". Now we are to believe that out of the goodness of their hearts the warmongers of America along with their British and French counterparts, have, 'just like the knights of the Crusades' (as described by Russia's Putin) gone to the rescue of the Libyan people – bombing the hell out of them in order to rescue them!

The question must be asked: Do these latest moves also serve 'the Zionist strategy' as did the 1993 Clinton 2AM missile attack on Baghdad? At the time, that great student of history Eric D. Butler (OT, Vol.29 No.26 1993) reminded us: "Generally forgotten is that the air strike against Gaddafi in 1986 was justified by the allegation that Gaddafi was plotting to assassinate President Ronald Reagan, and that his agents were responsible for the murder of American servicemen in the then West Germany. It was subsequently revealed that the terrorists responsible for the West German killings were almost certainly based in Assad's Syria. But Assad, previously isolated internationally, was miraculously rehabilitated when the American policy makers required his support against Saddam Hussein.

And what of the report that Gaddafi was 'miraculously rehabilitated' by our own wise 'leaders' at the time? Eric continued: "And now, tucked away in only a few papers, is the report that arch villain Gaddafi has also been rehabilitated, with the Federal Opposition Spokesman on Foreign Affairs, Mr. Andrew Peacock, announcing last week that the Opposition was endorsing the Government moves to lift commercial restrictions on Libya, pointing out that they had little effect on Gaddafi. The Government has decided to restore trading relations because it was felt that the 1986 restrictions were "outdated" and were now working against Australia's economic interests."

A good summary: Libya, Serbia, and Iraq... Libya: Become U.S. President, Declare War! http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=QxkJ8p1GS3U&feature=youtube_gdata_player
