

320.56

ON 1

- NEWS HIGHLIGHTS
- BACKGROUND INFORMATION
- COMMONWEALTH AFFAIRS

The price of Freedom is eternal vigilance -

Print Post Publication Number 381667 00258

Vol.47, No.22

June 10th, 2011

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: Only an Eco-dictatorship Will Save the World! Democracy be Damned! Thanks to the Global Warming Policy Foundation we can finally See the Light!, and it shines from Germany's green government advisers. Get Ready. To save the world you must give up the right to vote. To cool the planet, you will forgo the right to have a say in the laws of your land. Why? There are gifted, anointed higher beings out there (who knew?) and they are smarter than the masses. They may not know what an 8-sigma-tree is, but they know how to control the weather.

Through their benevolence you and I will live in a bountiful land, where there will be no more floods or droughts, no more record hot days, or blizzard filled cold ones. Instead life will be perfect. Every asylum seeker shall find what they seek, every climate scientist will have their own suite, and thus and unto infinity, the glorious bliss of perfect weather will descend upon the poor and worthy people of all lands, starting with Germany.

The gifted elite who have the Vision have given up trying to convince or persuade the stupid throngs of doctors, geologists, engineers, lawyers, businesspeople and other heathen fools (like NASA astronauts) who "don't understand" their control of the atmosphere. Now is the time to force the carbon legislation into being, to take action, and help those who cannot or will not think for themselves!

"We, the new preachers of the world, are here to tell you peasants how to live:"

This is the dark communist totalitarian megalomaniac side of Green exposed... (again)

— Joanne Nova, former associate lecturer in science communication at the Australian National University.

Further reading here: <http://joannenova.com.au/2011/05/only-an-eco-dictatorship-will-save-the-world-democracy-be-damned/>

THE SPENCER CASE AND PROPERTY RIGHTS: Over the 1990s and in the early 2000 years, the Commonwealth and State governments combined to implement State native vegetation laws resulting in the involuntary sequestration of an estimated $11 billion of carbon on the land of 30,000 farmers. The carbon retained in the vegetation by the lockup, has been accounted as a reduction in emissions in Australia's Carbon Accounts to the UNFCCC. No payment or compensation has been paid to those who have lost the right to enjoy their property rights.

The basis of Peter Spencer's case is that this scheme (between the Commonwealth and N.S.W. State

IN THIS ISSUE • Thought For The Week • The Spencer Case And Property Rights • A Mortgage Class Action • What's Behind The Carbon Tax? A Conspiracy Theory View • Taxing Carbon Today, Oxygen Tomorrow • When Economic Death Knocks • The Rise Of Anti-Western Christianity • The Myth Of Bush Migrants • Immigration Nation, Deceit And The Racial Vilification Of Anglo Australia

"ON TARGET"

June 10th, 2011

Page 1 (85)

439
governments) amounted to acquisition of the use of Spencer's land effectively sterilizing it for bio-sequestration purposes. He is arguing that the legislation and the Commonwealth/State agreements on which it is based are invalid as they amount to an acquisition of property by the making of laws that acquire property on other than on just terms - contrary to the Australian Constitution.

A directions hearing of Spencer v Commonwealth of Australia was scheduled to be heard in the Federal Court, Sydney, on the 31st May but has been put back till 2nd September 2011. Peter Spencer has submitted categories of documents for discovery to which the Commonwealth must respond.

The UNFCCC had its origins in such international agreements as the Kyoto Protocol, an international agreement linked to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change. The major feature of the Kyoto Protocol is that it sets binding targets for 37 industrialised countries and the European community for reducing greenhouse gas (GHG) emission.

The major distinction between the Protocol and the Convention is that while the Convention encouraged industrialised countries to stabilize GHG emissions, the Protocol commits them to do so. The Kyoto Protocol was adopted in Kyoto, Japan, on 11 December 1997 and entered into force on 16 February 2005. The detailed rules for the implementation of the Protocol were adopted at COP 7 in Marrakesh in 2001, and are called the "Marrakesh Accords."

Interview featuring Peter Spencer's lawyer here... http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=X6pyl00Alhg&feature=player_embedded

A MORTGAGE CLASS ACTION: We have been asked to inform our readers of a Class Action against the Banks is currently being developed, to give Justice to Home Owners. As Mortgage Fraud is exposed again and again in the U.S.A. it is time for Australian courts to stop protecting banks which have ripped off their customers. The Borrowers Class Action aims at exposing any misrepresentation or fraud by lenders who fail to disclose the true nature of the financial relationship they call lending. 'Securitisation', practiced by all Aussie lenders, voids their rights to claim against home-owners. But they do claim and they lie in court. It is time to challenge this behaviour and get JUSTICE for Aussie Home Owners.

To join the Class Action send your name and contact info, with the name of the lender and the bank you deal with, to ourbankclassaction@gmail.com

The MORTGAGE CLASS ACTION will challenge banks about the validity of their actions in regard to loans. All Australian banks have serious issues to answer regarding how they create and maintain loans.

Note that once the MORTGAGE CLASS ACTION has been filed each participant should be able to file for an injunction, putting a hold on any action by their bank until the MORTGAGE CLASS ACTION concludes.

A successful filing in this MORTGAGE CLASS ACTION may cause laws to be changed to block similar actions. We hope this is not the case. Only those listed in the MORTGAGE CLASS ACTION filing will be able to take part. No late entries allowed. Cost of the retainer for each participant is approx $2,000.

Register your interest and get more information by sending your

- | | | |
|------------------|------------------|--|
| • First Name | • E-mail Address | • Name of Bank (Note the lender and bank may be different) |
| • Last Name | • Mobile Phone | • Current Foreclosure position (are you in foreclosure?) |
| • Street Address | • Landline Phone | • Ability to commit to retainer |
| • State | • Name of Lender | |

Send this information to ourbankclassaction@gmail.com

Note: There are no guarantees, but the initial group is happy they have found good legal support.

WHAT'S BEHIND THE CARBON TAX? A CONSPIRACY THEORY VIEW by Peter West:

What households face under a $30-a-tonne carbon price on households is $863 a year. But that is the beginning, not the end. There will be a transformation to a floating cap-and-trade emissions trading scheme within 3 to 5 years. That will enable the elites to really put a squeeze on the average punter, regarding food, energy and everything. But why, why destroy the Australian standard of living? My hypothesis is that Australia, once more, is being used as a testing ground. If this works on the Aussies then it will work on the rest of the West with some fine-tuning. The tyrannical financial elite already control the world but (and I borrow here from the philosopher Kierkegaard) frequently get bored. Like spoilt, mentally deranged children, the evil ones enjoy destruction for destruction's sake, just like some children enjoy burning down schools. Thus, in a moment of ennui they dash off a memo to one of their servants, a president or prime minister, with new tricks to perform. Then they sit back and munch on endangered species, such as Nordics, and enjoy the show.

TAXING CARBON TODAY, OXYGEN TOMORROW by James Reed: When I was a kid I read a comic about an alien invasion of Earth. The aliens got around to monopolising water resources and selling water for $1 a bottle. Absurd, I said at the time. And yet $1 for a bottle of water is "cheap" as overseas firms own "our" water. We are to go further than that alien invasion with the Red Lizard Julia Gillard's carbon tax. Almost everything will face this tax because most things are either made of carbon or somehow interact with carbon. Think fuel, food, clothing. The soaring costs of electricity alone will cripple working families and non-working families.

Gillard said during the last election that there would be no carbon tax, then after announcing it, said that she didn't say it. But that's the price of electoral survival depending upon the Greens and Rob Oakeshott and Tony Windsor, who must be thrown out at the next election. And the Greens...or a better name, the "Reds". This is not an environmental party at all. If it were it would oppose immigration. Instead it supports every sort of new class, politically correct agenda available.

Labor has been told by the Elders of Labor that they must win back voters from the Greens by tackling climate change, supporting "gay" marriage and courting the migrant vote (The Australian, February 25, 2011, p.1). My god! - what more could this party do apart from giving migrants absolutely everything? Perhaps Julia, Kev and the rest of the gang could start by giving away their personal wealth? Go on, set an example for the rest of us!

WHEN ECONOMIC DEATH KNOCKS by Peter West: People who have never been very ill do not understand that after a point of suffering and sleep loss, after enduring pain and decay, death is not to be feared, but is to be welcomed. The same applies to societies. Michael Stutchbury, "Cheap Liquidity in U.S. Fuels Global Inflation Alarm", The Australian, March 1, 2011, p.12, is (in my opinion) a densely written, but interesting piece about the pessimistic predictions of former Reserve Bank economist Warwick McKibbin. McKibbin has some runs on the board for predicting that Australia would be spared much pain from the September 2008 financial crisis.

However he now predicts a commodity and Asian property bubble bigger than the U.S. Subprime property bubble. That bubble almost destroyed the sacred global financial system. There has been a steep jump in the price of commodities such as food and oil prices have surged. This is in part due to Chinese demand but a bigger factor is crazy US monetary policy where the Federal Reserve is literally printing money and running official interest rates close to zero. Cheap liquidity "is feeding into emerging markets, attracted in part by their higher interest rates. As part of the Washington-Beijing currency war, China is resisting U.S. pressure to allow the exchange rate to strengthen. By effectively pegging the renminbi to the dollar, China is importing an ultra-loose American monetary policy that is feeding into asset prices such as for Asian property prices, commodity prices and generalised inflation." Australian export prices are likely to fall in the new world inflation and import prices rise. According to McKibbin: "As interest rates go up, a whole bunch of assets and balance sheets can get crunched, so I am not optimistic it will work out well". Indeed, such is the price paid for internationalising the economy and tying our fate so closely to the global financial system.

THE RISE OF ANTI-WESTERN CHRISTIANITY by James Reed: For those of you who think that I rave too much about the race/immigration/multiculturalism/civilisation-doom problem please consider this. The issue is discussed in "The Rise of Anti-Western Christianity", at Alternative Right.com, March 1, 2011. Third World Christianity is changing Christianity and as pointed out by Philip Jenkins in The Next Christendom, due to immigration and population expansion, Christianity will soon be largely a religion of Africans, Asians (to a lesser degree) and Latin Americans. African versions of Christianity filter in many traditional African beliefs. Christianity does not exist in a cultural and ethnic vacuum and will change when the numbers change. Thus by 2025 about 75% of Catholics will be non-Western, being mainly African and Mexican. There will be a few Anglicans in 2050 with Nigeria being the new centre of Anglican Christianity, not England. In South America the mestizo, or mixed blood is celebrated in Catholicism against "the racial arrogance of the pure-blooded elite". The Alternative Right article says: "Snake handlers and faith healers may be the new norm for Catholicism as for Pentecostalism."

This is one reason why the race survival issue must now become our No.1 issue. I know economics is important but what does the economy, the age of leisure and all that matter if the West and the Northern European people (Nordics) cease to exist? I doubt whether the post-West world will embrace social credit, or care.

THE MYTH OF BUSH MIGRANTS by Peter West: Can you believe it? The National Farmers Federation wants Julia Gillard to send migrants to the bush (The Australian, April 19, 2011, p.5). And the rural unemployed and Aborigines may be surprised to hear that this is because of a shortage of workers in the bush! Tax incentives and infrastructure investment would, according to this modern cargo cult, bring these magical migrant beings to the bush where they could...well, work their magic, giving Australia "bold new solutions" and long-term prosperity.

The National Farmers' Federation has the same cargo cult view of migration as the rest of the Establishment, but at least it realises that migrants won't leave their city enclaves just because of a few employment participation programs. The investment costs to get the migrants into the bush may well outweigh any benefits coming from them. Far better to invest in jobs and training for our own unemployed Aboriginal populations in the outback. No migrant should go to the bush for a job while an Aboriginal remains unemployed.

IMMIGRATION NATION, DECEIT AND THE RACIAL VILIFICATION OF ANGLO AUSTRALIA by James Reed: The SBS television series Immigration Nation: The Secret History of U.S. has been well criticised by Mr. Patrick McCauley at Quadrant Online, 7 March 2011: <http://quadrant.org.au/blogs/qed/2011/03/sbs-tv-a-case-of-racial-vilification>. He invites people to email him with their concerns and proposals about what to do: mccauley@wimmera.com.au.

I would suggest that a racial vilification action be taken, and the title of his piece which uses the phrase "racial vilification" suggests this. If you agree contact Mr. McCauley and thank him for his good work.

"ON TARGET" is printed and published by The Australian League of Rights, 145 Russell St., Melbourne.
Postal Address: GPO Box 1052, Melbourne, 3001. Telephone: (03) 9650 9749, Fax: (03) 9650 9368.
Subscription $45.00 p.a.