THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: So the Maritime Union and others are agitating for acceptance of the divisive Uluru Statement ('Unions lead push for Uluru proposal', The Australian, 12/6). Nothing new here! As former communist Geoff McDonald wrote in his 1982 book 'Red Over Black', nearly 70 years ago communist leaders were saying how the first step towards making Australia a communist nation would be to establish black republic areas on our continent. These included J. B. Miles, Lance Sharkey, Barnard Taft and the Aarons brothers.

And what would it mean if we went communist? Eventual subjection to an international tyranny operating through the UNO. In whose interests would that be? Certainly not those of our Aboriginals!

THERE IS NO NEW FRONTIER, WE HAVE GOT TO MAKE IT (WORK) HERE by Brian Simpson

So sung the Eagles in their 1976 song "The Last Resort." While some segments of the high tech elites are looking to abandon Earth for space, there have come warnings that this may not be possible any time soon. Space cadets will face the onslaught of cosmic rays once in space, outside of the protective magnetic shield of the Earth.

With this will come, not super powers, as depicted in the Fantastic Four comics, but cancer. Cosmic rays will severely damage the DNA of cells, and affected cancer cells may alter near-by cells, or "bystander" cells, causing mega-mutations. Merely having thicker shields and space suits may not solve the problem, given the length of time to be spent in space, let alone staying there, forever.

We are all going to have to stay on this planet and work this through to conclusion. There is no OUT! ***

PRISON NOW FOR VACCINATION SCEPTICS by Mrs Vera West

Slowly, bit by bit, freedoms are eroded in the New World Order, because good people do not fight hard enough, if they fight at all. Australian medical professionals now face 10 years in gaol for expressing doubts about vaccine effectiveness and/or safety. And, the Australian government wants people to report any such vaccine sceptics to the authorities, so that they can be locked away in a steel cage. In Victoria, on a side note, children will be able to see a doctor at least once a week to obtain Big Pharma drugs, without parental consent. See this article for some surprising corporate connections.

This gives the game away. If the anti-vaxxers are so wrong, then they should be easily refuted by cold hard logic. After all, there is no law against proclaiming that the Earth is hollow, or that the moon is made of green cheese. There are good arguments against the proposition that the moon is made of green cheese, and no reason to ban those proclaiming it. It is only controversial political doctrines which are protected by thought control laws because the establishment has something to hide. Expect that the next development will be banning all criticisms of vaccines and Big Pharma, with gaol sentences for anyone saying anything. So, let's say what we can now before THEY shut down free speech. ***

THE GAME OF MATES

Source: <https://www.michaelwest.com.au/epic-wealth-creation-and-the-game-of-mates/>

Professor Paul Frijters and Dr Cameron Murray, in their book 'The Game of Mates' have pulled back the curtain to expose 'the game of mates' who dominate our business world and the political parties, whilst skimming off $ billions from Australia's economy – all legal if not ethical.

Journalist Michael West writes:

"There is one class of people in Australia which transcends political parties, dominates the business world and is the key to getting rich. That is, mates. Working hard is good, watching Anthony Robins tapes might help, but if you really want to get ahead, say

Dr Cameron Murray and Professor Paul Frijters in their new book, 'Game of Mates', find yourself some good old mates. This is a tale of feather-nesting mates who skim billions from Australia's economy to line their own pockets. Whether it's property, mining, infrastructure or banking, the mates have their snouts firmly in it, helping themselves to a large chunk of Australia's economic pie.

Economist Cameron Murray talks about his book:

Over the past few years, the cosy corporate and political power structures of Australia have been brought under the public spotlight for all to see.

The tax avoidance of multinationals is no longer hidden. Nor is the cartel power granted to the major banks.

The privatisation of core government functions has become widely criticised and the dodgy public-private partnerships that provide free public guarantees of private returns are out in the open and are now hotly debated. As is the massive clean-up cost of Australian mine sites. It is timely then to take stock of the common features of this systematic grab for Australia's wealth.

Cameron Murray continues:

"In my new book, 'Game of Mates: How Favourites Bleed the Nation',...I take a rigorous economic lens to this problem and try and unpick exactly what it takes for well-connected insiders to siphon off the country's wealth.

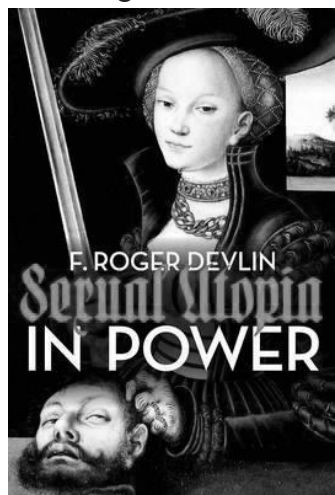

The game of grey corruption we are seeing – which is unethical, yet often very much legal – is a play for an unearned part of our shared wealth that takes place deep in the halls of Australia's largest companies, and in our parliaments."

*And silly you, you thought that by hard work and the right attitude you would work your way to the Top!-ed 'Game of Mates' available here: <http://trove.nla.gov.au/work/223393957?selectedversion=NBD59855161> ****

SEXUAL UTOPIA AND POWER by Mrs Vera West

Alt Right intellectual F. Roger Devlin, penned an important essay published in The Occidental Quarterly in Summer 2006: "Sexual Utopia in Power." In 2015, the essay was expanded into a 192 page book, and published by Alt Right publishing company, Counter-Currents: <https://www.counter-currents.com/sexual-utopia-in-power/>.

The book traces the breakdown of morality and sexual roles which began in the 1960s, and the disaster which it has brought for social life today.

All of this is not new to us, but Devlin goes further, challenging the typical conservative response to the crisis, which strangely has much in common with feminism in blaming men.

Instead, Devlin looks at the sins of women, such as female hypergamy (the act or practice of a person marrying another of higher caste or social status than themselves), infidelity, narcissism and deceptiveness. This is unusual because conservatives seem to have swallowed hook, line and sinker, the feminist world view, that women can do no wrong. Men are fearful to call out women, and Trump's dealings with various female journalists is an example of this. Perhaps the lack of testosterone in many men has led to them becoming de facto women:

<http://www.rooshv.com/>

the-decline-in-testosterone-is-destroying-the-basis-of-masculinity.

If we are to penetrate to the roots of our decline, and save what is left of Western civilisation and rebuild, hard thinking about uncomfortable questions will need to be undertaken. Heterosexual monogamy is incompatible with the equality of the sexes, Devlin shows.

Preserving traditional marriage will involve a vast cultural counter-revolution reversing all that has been thrown up from the 1960s. The elites will not give up easily on this, and that is why they are pressing on relentlessly to destroy every traditional institution as quickly as possible, going to places that we would not have thought possible, a few years ago. ***

AUSTRALIAN UNIVERSITIES:

BRANCHES OF THE CHINESE COMMUNIST MILITARY by James Reed

Hey, that's the sort of paranoid conspiratorial title readers have come to expect, and love, from me. But, the title is only a paraphrase of "Aussie Unis Boost Chinese Military," The Weekend Australian, June 10-11, 2017, p.1.

The story here is universities are supplying the Chinese military with technological leadership and knowledge which China needs for advanced military and industry superiority. The claims have been made by public intellectual Clive Hamilton. Here is how just some of this works, courtesy of your tax payer's dollars, according to The Australian:

"For instance, last year the ARC awarded a $400,000 grant to Adelaide University for a research partnership with the Beijing Institute of Aeronautical Materials, which is part of the Aviation Industry Corporation of China. Government-owned AVIC is the major supplier of military aircraft to the People's Liberation Army Air Force.

As Mr Hamilton and Mr Joske say, "when the PLA unveiled its first aircraft carrier, the Liaoning, it was loaded with Shenyang J-15 fighter jets built by AVIC".

The Adelaide University project is intended to help develop materials and devices that, the ARC's proposal says, "are comfortable, quiet and energy-efficient" for use in aircraft, motor vehicles and ships. The authors point out: "It will also enhance the PLA Air Force's capacity to improve the performance of its most sophisticated warplanes."

An Adelaide University spokesman responded: "The project is funded entirely within the rules of the ARC and holds the prospect of delivering more durable rubber products that have greater tolerance to wear and temperature variation. The carbon-infused rubber might find future use in improved tyres, seals, insulation, shoes or even playground mats. The University of Adelaide maintains ownership of the intellectual property, which will be available for licence to potential users worldwide."

Mr Hamilton and Mr Joske say the research team for this and other projects funded by the ARC includes personnel in Australia and China with close links with Chinese institutions that routinely undertake significant military-industrial projects."

This is just an example of only one such program, but my following remarks will be addressed to the new class sector of Australia, in general, not one specific institution.

As Australia has been cucked, deracinated and exists as just a set of consumers bounded by a coastline, aiding the Chinese military who may soon destroy those who aid them, makes perfect sense. A raceless, faceless, globalist set of elites can only be governed by the law of money. Why would the Australian government fund projects which deliver technological advances to China's military might, the article asked: "Our Taxes May Help Finance Chinese Military Capability," The Weekend Australian, June 10-11, 2017, p. 19. Because we do not have an "Australian" government as such, only a colonial state that rules us for their masters. It is not our government, and we are not citizens, merely slaves.

Wouldn't it be nice for the slaves for bloody once to revolt against this? We can start with closing down the universities, which have become occupied territory and serious national security risks. ***

WILL FRUIT KILL YOU? by Mrs Vera West

As I say before making any health comments, I am not qualified in anything, and only giving my unfounded opinion, so if you have any medical problem, go see a doctor, and be sure that conventional medicine will put you on the right track. Sure.

I am somewhat anxious having read an article by the respected Dr Mercola who argues that studies show that daily levels of fructose, greater than 74 grams had an impact on blood pressure levels. The breakdown of fructose leads to increased uric acid levels, and uric acid inhibits nitric oxide levels in the blood, which suppresses nitric oxides' effectiveness in dilating blood vessels. As well, sugar consumption results in excess insulin and leptin production which is also a risk for diabetes.

Being medically unqualified, I am not sure what to make of this. My own personal response has been to cut right down on fruit, and almost everything else. Call it the starvation diet because there does not seem to be any food which is not problematic in some way.

For example, people with irritable bowel syndrome are now recommended by some authorities to avoid a whole range of otherwise "healthy" foods, including some grains and fruits.

First sex goes, then food goes, as one by one, life's gentle pleasures are swept away by the Grim Reaper's yard broom. In the end, you too are swept into Life's rubbish bin, but at least as Christians we have faith that our immortal soul survives bodily dissolution. Gee, it would be pretty depressing if that was not so!

SHAKING THE FOUNDATIONS OF HUMAN ORIGINS

by Brian Simpson

The politically correct “Out of Africa” position for the evolution of the human species was recently shaken by the discovery of fossils with human-like teeth in Bulgaria and Greece, dated to 7.2 million years.

I have written about this previously, pointing out that it shatters the standard hypothesis that mankind arose in Africa, and also that Europeans were a late arrival on the evolutionary scene, and consequently must be backward.

Now there is news which further challenges the received hypothesis about human origins, with fossils found in Morocco being regarded by some scientists as the oldest Homo sapiens fossils, at 350,000 years old.

If this proves to be so, and the fossils are genuinely Homo sapiens, and some scientists, to be expected doubt this, this shoots down the idea that humans are only 100,000 years old, and that that is an inadequate time for racial characteristics to develop.

I look forward to more sacred cows in human prehistory being slaughtered in the time to come. ***

OUR POLICY

To promote service to the Christian revelation of God, loyalty to the Australian Constitutional Monarchy, and maximum co-operation between subjects of the Crown Commonwealth of Nations.

To defend the free Society and its institutions -- private property, consumer control of production through genuine competitive enterprise, and limited decentralised government.

To promote financial policies which will reduce taxation, eliminate debt, and make possible material security for all with greater leisure time for cultural activities.

To oppose all forms of monopoly, either described as public or private. To encourage all electors always to record a responsible vote in all elections.

To support all policies genuinely concerned with conserving and protecting natural resources, including the soil, and an environment reflecting natural (God's) laws, against policies of rape and waste.

To oppose all policies eroding national sovereignty, and to promote a closer relationship between the peoples of the Crown Commonwealth and those of the United States of America, who share a common heritage.

I WAS NOT SURPRISED by Peter West

I was not surprised to read that “Despite there being many illegal migrants and failed asylum seekers from North Africa and the Middle East, last year the Berlin government has overwhelmingly deported only migrants from the Balkan states”. For, after all, the future of Germany is to become part of the Islamic caliphate, aided and abetted by Merkel.

I was not surprised to read that Merkel was in Mexico, saying that walls are bad, bad, bad, because, presumably, borders should not exist. She did not condemn Israel's wall, which is working fine. After all, the future of the United States is to be, the Disunited States of Greater Mexico.

I was not surprised to read that sex attacks at Swedish festivals have risen 1,000 percent in 2016. After all, this has nothing to do with mass migration.

I am not surprised about anything, any more. *****
