AT 'SANTA'S PLACE', MORNINGTON by Nigel Jackson

They are burying the story, stealing it away,
 Or so it seems initially at Santa's Place,
 Where vast profusion of lax Christmas cheer
 Adorns the serried shelves in dark eclipse.
 It's all about that fat red man whose smile
 Invites to self-indulgence and whose sack of gifts
 Calls to the worldly eye. The jingling sleigh
 Rushes us wildly onwards to enjoy a high
 With partying throngs; and then it's wine, beer,
 Spirits, gluttonous attention to the feast, crackers
 Cunningly snapping open petty jests,
 Insipid verbal tricks. Giving of presents
 Has become the major rite; and family life
 Is celebrated only on an earthly plane.
 Such acid thoughts flash through my mind
 As I pass among forests of decorations,
 Baubles seductively gleaming, ballerinas,
 Jesters grinning and cloaked in festive red,
 A soldier and his drum, some railway trains.
 The red-nosed Rudolph, holly berries,
 All the paraphernalia of invading sect.
 The scattered angels are outnumbered here.

Jemima and Penny are agog, however,
 Escorting me up some creaky wooden stairs
 Made of the timbers of the Ark, perhaps,
 To find new treasures in a fresh display
 Of summoning luxury. At five and three they glow
 With eagerness to view more charms and beauties.
 So, we reach the upper room – and an epiphany!

I suddenly find myself at the nativity!

Still higher, on a dais is set the familiar
 Group,
 sculptured almost to our life size
 And
 commanding instantly my whole attention.

The three wise men –or kings – advance,
 One on his knees, proffering precious gift,
 Whose bearded face is wise, serene, obedient.
 An angel with a trumpet waits and watches well.
 A little shepherd whom he's called keeps to the side
 Humbly. Joseph, a tall guardian, looms
 Above seated, smiling, gracious wife,
 Mother of the newborn comer lying in the crib
 And shining with mysterious otherlight for all.

Their gazes are all pinpointed on this child
 In symphony of watchfulness and expectation.
 A Great Light has come into the world, breaching
 The darkness mankind labours in. I see
 With joy an icon stronger than mightiest thunder.
 Here is the story that is central to our Christmas time!
 Divine light breaks upon the morning of the world.
 Those shared gazes, ley lines of the soul.
 Combine with power to tell of miracle and rule.

KNOCKING AT THE FRONT DOOR OF DICTATORSHIP by Arnis Luks

Socialist Prime Minister Scott Morrison is planning to utilise a bait and switch technique to subvert our constitution, 'switching about' federal and state responsibilities in the arena of the national cabinet decision-making. The bait and switch of responsibilities include education, skills, and possibly aged care as items being introduced onto the agenda for 2021.

Under the search of "upholding our constitution" I came across The New Times Vol. 18, No. 11, 30th of May, 1952. In this 1952 record, the conservative Menzies government was imposing socialist centralising policies upon the states. Central banking is featured as a vital tool of both capitalism and communism. At that time across state borders, conservatives were rallying against further erosion of our federal constitution, in particular the financial emasculation of the states by the Loan Council, violating pre-1949 Liberal party policy.

(2015) Scott Morrison, who was the then minister for Social Services, introduced the "no job no pay, no job no pay" regime. He is also responsible for the current imposition of medical martial law within Australia. He is not a misguided, ill-advised individual, but rather a ruthless and determined totalitarian. The façade he puts on, with various photo opportunities to market this persona to an unsuspecting public, do not do justice to the collectivising of the Australian people he is responsible for. Malcolm Turnbull used the same bait and switch technique with the Murray Darling Basin "Water Act 2007", making it a federal function, when clearly it has always resided (within the 'limiting' words of our constitution) as a state function. Premiers from various states are also doing the bidding of the United Nations which is a public-private conglomeration of, in this case, vested medical interests posing as a political entity. The UN is an industry tool - inter-national corporate fascism. Alger Hiss, exposed as a Soviet agent whilst working for the US administration, established the UN as the peak policy directing group for the New World Order. It has been dominated by collectivists since its inception.

With the imposition of licensing in order to obtain meaningful work, governments have handed police-ing of nay-sayer's across to industry. Much discussion within the national cabinet has been around mandatory vaccines for school attendance and overseas travel.

<https://www.theaustralian.com.au/breaking-news/wa-border-decision-for-nsw-coming-next-week-but-victorians-unlikely-to-be-affected-by-outcome/news-story/48b165bf32adce61236f3a9fcd0242a2>

In my youth, a trade was a noble pursuit for energetic young males. Nowadays the issuing of a licence and operating within the bounds of several parliamentary Acts is the standard requirement to work in any given area. Before entering my teenage years I was already involved in the building industry, helping my dad as he generally worked alone and was happy for the company of a small hand that only a child could give. My elder brother has a similar tale of assisting our dad at work. This was not to be my principal vocation but certainly a significant part of my employment across five decades. At one stage, as I was never an indentured tradesman, my state-issued-licence evolved to include the full and unrestricted work of an indentured tradesman. My concern with this expanded national cabinet reform agenda to include 'skills', is that a licence to perform work will now have expanded conditions placed upon it. These conditions will limit your ability to function freely in your own community - the ability to obtain meaningful work without some government/corporate (public/private) pre-conditions involved.

Some of my relatives are now required to have vaccinations to visit their parents in aged care, or to work in their chosen field. With this medical tyranny we are experiencing under the fraudulent COVID-19 banner, the ever expanding vaccination schedule will eventually be mandatory. There are now 12+ vaccines that have already been 'mandated as coercive' policies for children as well as for adult employment and welfare benefits from government programs. These can be expected to be added to the adult e-health card for mandatory use in the near future. The medical industry has promoted this policy achieving exorbitant profit as a consequence. COVID-19 has not caused anywhere like the carnage that which occurred with the Spanish Flu in 1918-1919. Are we experiencing a medical coup d'état in Australia, an imposition of medical martial law and not even suspecting what is actually going on?

Coup d'état, also called coup, the overthrow of an existing government by a small group. The chief prerequisite for a coup is control of all or part of the armed forces, the police, and other military elements. A coup is a change in power from the top that merely results in the abrupt replacement of leading government personnel, without greatly altering a nation's fundamental social and economic policies, nor does it significantly redistribute power among competing political groups.

By this definition we are experiencing a medical coup d'état in Australia - medical martial law.

National Cabinet voids Parliament and the Executive

Our constitution has been disregarded with the formation of the national cabinet that essentially rules by decree. This has done away with all Parliaments and their Executives - executive being ministers and the lead bureaucrats answerable to their parliament/s. Parliaments are now a bygone formality of pretence, to pass laws to support the national cabinet policy.

<https://www.afr.com/politics/federal/yes-minister-bodies-culled-in-big-reset-for-federalism-20201028-p569dp>

Forty-one ministerial forums have been culled from the new national cabinet as part of the major reset of Commonwealth-state relations designed to put political leaders and ministers back in charge and streamline decisions. Gone from the old Council of Australian Governments (COAG) are ministerial groups overseeing a large array of portfolios including consumer, housing and homelessness, industry, sports, culture, multicultural, forests and fisheries. A group of nine ministerial groups has also been taken out of the national cabinet process, to meet only for specific, time-limited and agreed purposes. These include agriculture, attorneys-general, planning, food, community services and northern development.

The COAG review found "ministers have been very enthusiastic about meeting via Zoom and WhatsApp". The overhaul of the peak governmental decision-making system came after a review of the old COAG arrangements by Peter Conran found it had become "a slow, bottom-up framework for intergovernmental co-operation that too often resulted in lowest common denominator outcomes".

<https://www.pmc.gov.au/domestic-policy/effective-commonwealth-state-relations>

Mr Conran is the former director-general of the West Australian Department of Premier and Cabinet and a former Commonwealth cabinet secretary. The review was led by senior Prime Minister and Cabinet officials, Yael Cass and Sacha Edema.

The American people are also experiencing a coup d'état.

<https://drrichswier.com/2020/11/17/united-states-european-command-conducted-the-operation-to-take-control-of-computer-servers-in-germany/>

The main players, like ours in Australia, are obscured; depending on your political point of view, only one side is a problem. The other side - are doing all the wrong things, whereas we are doing all the right things, when in actual fact both sides are part of the problem, and neither side offers any realistic answer against totalitarianism. To the Democrat (left), Trump is deranged and subverting the election result. To the Republican (right) the fraud of the election is obvious and the courts, even though the majority of judges are appointed by Republican conservatives, are not upholding their Constitution. My lay-view: it smells of a rat with some of these court cases having immediately failed. Their purpose is to cause disillusionment amongst conservatives. Possibly to justify in their minds a move towards USA martial law. We have found posts about Clinton and Trump while going back to the 2016 election fraud that are worth re-reading. Trump and Republicans are not clean on this issue of election fraud, having all used it to their advantage in the past. The CIA appears partly responsible for the 2020 electronic voter fraud (in the battleground states) from their server farm in Frankfurt, Germany. <https://www.sgtreport.com/2020/12/situation-update-305th-military-intelligence-battalion-is-kraken/>

We understand the seizure of the CIA servers in Frankfurt has pitted American servicemen against American servicemen with some fatalities recorded. Sidney Powell is presenting video evidence of the Dominion voting machine manipulation, recorded in real time, as the votes were switched or added or both. There is also the examination of the seized servers from Frankfurt and the forensic examination of the Dominion voting machines to come. The 14th December for counting Electoral College votes will come and go. In the process of electing the president and vice-president is the official counting of those electoral votes by congress - joint sitting of both houses due 6th January.

ON TARGET

Congress may or may not accept the Electoral College votes as legitimate with the massive anti-fraud campaigns through the courts and alternative media outlets. There is also the funding of anti-freedom groups by the George Soros' controlled Open Society Foundation, with direct links to the electronic voting systems used for this election. There is much to clean up in USA.

In the US, rather than allow a build up of dissent leading onto civil war, the American people must find resolution to the impasse of obvious election fraud and form stable government which will uphold the law while this mess of corruption is cleaned up to counter the fraud potential for future elections.

One small light in the current darkness, is the increasing interest in civics, both in USA and Australia. How are our government/s meant to work and how does the Constitution manage this electoral fraud predicament? We came across another informative website with a detailed white paper on the USA electoral college time line based on both, past precedence and their constitution here:

We also uncovered an historical article about the call for electronic voting for Australian from both major parties - bah humbug here: <https://blog.alor.org/index.php/catastrophically-compromise-australia-s-electoral-system> And also the 2013 Joint Standing Committee Report recommended against e-voting because it was vulnerable to hacking and could "catastrophically" compromise the Australia's electoral system: <https://alor.org/Storage/Library/PDF/Joint%20Standing%20Committee%20on%20Electoral%20Matters%202013%20-%20Electronic%20Voting.pdf>

Australia would do well to look deeply in their own back yard on this very issue of both electronic and mail-in election fraud. Warnings go back several years to these articles as well: http://www.computerworld.com.au/article/604722/nsw-evoting-system-under-fire/?utm\_medium=rss&utm\_source=googlenewseditorspickfeed&google\_editors\_picks=true and also here: <https://rumble.com/vb5ve9-princeton-professor-hacks-voting-machine-in-seven-minutes.html>

The answer for Australia and USA to make their way out of this muddle is firstly to uphold their constitution, for their political representatives to uphold their primary function which is: to represent their electorate in the parliament. And the secondary function is: to hold the Executive accountable in the parliament.

Individuals, communities and nations can deal with most things provided they can maintain their freedoms. Medical martial law circumvents hard won freedoms, possibly for generations to come. We ignore this very real and current threat at our peril. ***

NEW ZEALAND JETTISONS WHAT IS LEFT OF FREE SPEECH By Bruce Bennett

New Zealand moves now to further tighten its hate laws following the mosque attacks, although it is unclear how this prevents anything, but, it makes the ruling elites feel "safe." In reality, crazies who intend to commit horrible crimes really do not worry about speech control. Still, it looks like one is doing something, anything.

<https://www.nzherald.co.nz/nz/christchurch-mosque-attacks-jacinda-ardern-promises-to-close-gaps-in-hate-speech-legislation/RMBXJZ6BFMJHZAIY7YLTBY7ZHU/>

"Prime Minister Jacinda Ardern's hope for political consensus regarding hate speech law is looking doubtful as the Royal Commission of Inquiry into the Christchurch terror attack reignites the debate.

The 800-page report includes a recommendation to create a new offence under the Crimes Act, making it illegal to intentionally stir up hatred against racial or religious groups.

<https://christchurchattack.royalcommission.nz/the-report/>

In a speech in Parliament on Tuesday, Ardern promised to work with all parties to try to close "the gaps in hate speech legislation".

"I know this is a contentious area, and we will work with determination to try form that consensus if we can."

But soon after, National leader Judith Collins told reporters Ardern would have to provide "a very compelling reason" to win her MPs' support.

"This is the pattern for how the Anglosphere will discard the freedom of speech and move into a new era of authoritarianism. ...

The Crimes Act will make it "illegal to intentionally stir up hatred against racial or religious groups." But who will determine whether or not this hatred was stirred up "intentionally" or not? Who can judge anyone else's intentions? This is just opening the door to governing authorities being empowered to silence anyone they wish, under the pretext that he or she is stirring up hatred. So, it's starting New Zealand on the way to becoming a totalitarian state. ...

The contradictions and illogic of all this are glaring, but they won't stop Ardern from destroying New Zealand as a free society." ***

THE LEAGUE'S FREEDOM CAMPAIGN

No political movement can exist in a moral vacuum, and Australians have traditionally accepted that it is the Christian Faith that generated our heritage of representative government. While the League maintains a small full-time staff primarily motivated by Christian service, it is the extensive network of volunteers from all walks of life who form the backbone of the Movement. The League of Rights seeks to help create a body of dedicated men and women who serve not for their own material gain, but as custodians of those truths and values which must form the basis of all successful efforts to defeat the enemies of human dignity and freedom. The League encourages and equips individuals to independently exercise their own initiative in the service of freedom.

OUR POLICY

To promote service to the Christian revelation of God, loyalty to the Australian Constitutional Monarchy, and maximum co-operation between subjects of the Crown Commonwealth of Nations.

To defend the free Society and its institutions -- private property, consumer control of production through genuine competitive enterprise, and limited decentralised government.

To promote financial policies which will reduce taxation, eliminate debt, and make possible material security for all with greater leisure time for cultural activities.

To oppose all forms of monopoly, either described as public or private.

To encourage all electors always to record a responsible vote in all elections.

To support all policies genuinely concerned with conserving and protecting natural resources, including the soil, and an environment reflecting natural (God's) laws, against policies of rape and waste.

To oppose all policies eroding national sovereignty, and to promote a closer relationship between the peoples of the Crown Commonwealth and those of the United States of America, who share a common heritage.
