THE ART OF THE DIALECTICAL WAR By Arnis Luks

Communists train every day. They read ‘The Art of War’ by Sun Tzu, practice their framing/debating techniques, their dialectics, and their subversion. They receive instruction at secret training camps within Australia: (read Red Over Black by Geoff MacDonald). Putting all this personal development into practice, they only work in cells. The left hand does not know what the right hand is doing. They understand the (Douglas social credit) increment of association only too well, in a fashion in fact, better than we in the free world do. James Reed, on our blog, has placed an article: ‘The UN Wants to Censor Free Speech ... to “Protect Free Speech”’. This appears to be a nonsense statement – that is unless you understand their dialectic mind:

<https://blog.alor.org/the-un-wants-to-censor-free-speech-to-protect-free-speech-by-james-reed>

To appreciate this dialectical approach, you must read and re-read ED Butler’s ‘Dialectics’ available here:

Eric’s assessment of Yugoslav Communist (Josip Broz) Tito and the ‘good or bad’ communists is most revealing and helps those who are attempting to decipher Putin’s role in all of this, taking into account the collaboration between USA-Britain-China-Russia that is going on behind the scenes, to introduce CBDCs and Green Energy (nuclear), while exercising war-campaigns for public consumption – beer and circuses. Without under-going a thorough study of dialectics, you would not be able to decipher this approach of the good cop and the bad cop. But, once ‘dialectics’ is studied, the haze begins to lift. Know your enemy as well as you know yourself - ‘The Art of War’ by Sun Tzu: https://alor.org/Storage/Library/PDF/Art\_of\_War.pdf

The nuclear family is being deconstructed through gender-madness to assist with the bringing into being of the communist utopian family. What does that look like? – the state is everything and the individual nothing. Procreation is simply a bodily function. Relationships do not exist in this philosophy - ‘man is only matter in motion’. The children belong to the state. The Christian church, on the vital issue of the traditional family (for all humanity), is missing in action, while the world is going to hell on a highway.

Personal Development

The books recommended each week through OT must be read if there is any legitimate desire to unlock (through the pursuit of knowledge) the communist conspiracy towards world government. Only knowing that something is wrong, without being able to empower yourself and others, cannot rally further support because of lack of knowledge. Correct intelligence and intelligent assessment could counter the false dialectical-narrative of destroying free speech (for the proletariat) then being able to rebuild free speech (for the communists) – destroying in order to (build back better). This is what this statement really means.

The study of Dialectics is a discipline of itself (operating within the left hemisphere of the brain). Communists cannot, or refuse to, see the real world as we do, (operating within the right hemisphere of the brain), they only see the abstract, the utopian, which, when experienced within the real world is a living nightmare.

Dialectical Approach and Public Private Partnerships

Both Putin and Biden simultaneously marked the anniversary of the Russian ‘special military operation’ in the Donbass region of the Ukraine with increased beating on the war drums – the good-cop bad-cop two-step. The two privately run armies, the AZOV Battalion and the Wagner Group are slugging it out in the Ukraine. Simply put, a demonstration of the public-private-partnership of the New World Order.

I fuelled up the car the other day for a little over $100 for the four-cylinder and noted two policemen attending their vehicle and fuel pump. The vehicle was marked ‘police security’. These two policemen were young, well-groomed and heavily armed law-officers who had exactly the same label on the back of their probably bullet-proof vests - ‘police security’. They were dressed accordingly to what I am accustomed for ‘upholders of the law’, but were different. On closer examination they appeared to be contractors, rather than police, as I am accustomed to.

At this vital junction-of-thought between public and private, we must consider the Oath of Allegiance that the public upholder of the King's Peace must swear.

<https://www.australianpolice.com.au/the-oath-of-office-police/>

OATH OF OFFICE – POLICE OFFICER

I.....do swear – that – I will well and truly serve – our sovereign man the King – as a police officer without favour or affection – malice or ill will – until I am legally discharged – that I will see and cause – His Majesty's Peace to be kept and preserved – and that – I will prevent to the best of my power – all offences against that peace – and that – while I continue to be a police officer – I will – to the best of my skill and knowledge – discharge all duties thereof – faithfully – according to law.

SO HELP ME GOD.

A contractor is simply a hired enforcer, and no more. The fidelity towards his own people, who may not even be his own, and also to God is at a distance. No doubt the military are in a similar position. Little wonder why the very Christian Commonwealth is marked for destruction.

This age of public private partnerships, and the role and purpose of government appears to have morphed (in the haze of Covid) into the New World Order. Government has been subsumed within corporations (transnational in nature). This is not unprecedented if you have been paying attention while reading the OnTarget.

...Head of Stratfor, 'Private CIA,' Says Overthrow of (former Ukraine Leader-ed) Yanukovich Was 'The Most Blatant Coup in History' Dec 20, 2014

The Dutch East Indies company and the British East Indies company both maintained private armies and navies. They were also authorised under licence to produce their own money and any other civil structures that may have been required such as industry, husbandry, administration, courts and bureaucracy.

Unfettered corporatism is taking over, or already has taken over the function of government. Mussolini would have been proud.

The World Health Organisation and the World Economic Forum rule by decree and are answerable to no one. Describing this Truly as 'anarchy of the administration of government' demonstrates the close relationship between Libertarianism (as the anarchistic branch of management) ruling over the 'collectivist branch of the proletariat' (Marxism). Stated thus, which I believe is a True and correct assessment of where we are, illustrates the syncretism of the dialectic. This is 'Dialectical Materialism' in Action - the philosophies of Marxism (collectivism) and neo-Liberalism or Libertarianism (as unaccountable administration – both taught at the London School of Economics and Science). And both supposedly in conflict against each other, when in point and fact, they work towards the common goal of advancing communism across the world.

extract... Anatoliy Golitsyn was an ex-KGB officer who spent 15 years in Soviet intelligence work, which put him in contact with high-ranking Soviet officials. He defected to the West in 1961. Golitsyn wrote two books that outline in painstaking detail the Soviet's "grand strategy" against the West and the non-communist Third World: New Lies for Old (1984) and The Perestroika Deception (1995).

<https://archive.org/details/NewLiesForOld>

<https://archive.org/details/AnatoliyGolitsyn>

What makes Anatoliy Golitsyn stand out is the uncanny accuracy of his predictions. Mark Riebling wrote in his spy book 'Wedge: The Secret War between the FBI and the CIA', "[O]f Golitsyn's falsifiable predictions, 139 out of 148 were fulfilled by the end of 1993—an accuracy rate of 94 percent."

<https://archive.org/details/WedgeFromPearlHarborTo911>

Further warnings Golitsyn tried to impart to the West in the 1960s included his predictions that the Berlin Wall would come down, East and West Germany would be reunited, and the Warsaw Pact would be dissolved. The goal of all these tactics was to create a "neutral, socialized Europe." All of these predictions have come to pass. We now see a "neutral, socialized Europe" in the form of the European Union (EU). Soviet dissident Vladimir Bukovsky once referred to the EU as the "pale version of the Soviet Union."

One of the most important revelations by Golitsyn had to do with the Sino-Soviet split. For many years there has been a widely accepted belief in the West, that there was a serious rift between Red China and the Soviet Union. The goal of this deception was to promote the idea of an "ideological" split between Moscow and Beijing so that the West will "play the China card"; that is, blindly rush in and build China into an industrial and technological giant to counter the USSR.

In 2018 Russia and China had the largest cooperative war games ever. Xi has even referred to Russian president Vladimir Putin as his "best friend". This just goes to show Golitsyn was absolutely right about the split being false. It is no accident; the leader of Russia is a "former" KGB agent.

Another KGB defector, Jan Sejna attended KGB General Mironov's subcommittee. At the meeting they recommended the following long-range deception operations, requiring the accomplishment of several tasks to subvert and disarm the west physically and mentally:

- (1) Penetrate the intelligence services of the West with “moles”;
- (2) Convince Western intelligence services of the authenticity of fake intelligence offered by “dangles” and thereby gain promotions for “purveyors of a false disarming narrative” by penetration agents who will inevitably become the leading figures in Western intelligence;
- (3) while taking control of the intelligence game on the ground, promote the idea that “ideology is dead” in the communist bloc;
- (4) promote the idea of an “ideological” split between Moscow and Beijing so that the West will “play the China card”; that is, blindly rush in and build China into an industrial and technological giant to counter the USSR;
- (5) promote fake dissident groups and dissident celebrities in the Soviet Union and its satellites;
- (6) establish controlled opposition movements in bloc countries;
- (7) prepare to organize, through agents in the dissident movements, anti-communist revolutions throughout bloc
- (8) promote the idea that a future Soviet leader is, in fact, a “liberal reformer”;
- (9) break up the Warsaw Pact and collapse the Soviet Union in a “controlled” fashion;
- (10) groom stealth communists as candidates for high office in America and Western Europe. These would present themselves as “moderates,” but would operate as “penetration” agents dedicated to facilitating critical aspects of the strategy; namely, economic sabotage and reduction or diversion of U.S. military resources.

Even Russian leadership talked about this deception, here is an excerpt from Gorbachev’s speech below: GORBACHEV’s speech at the 70th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution (1987): “Gentlemen, comrades, do not be concerned about all you hear about Glasnost and Perestroika and democracy in the coming years. These are primarily for outward consumption. There will be no significant internal changes in the Soviet Union, other than for cosmetic purposes. Our purpose is to disarm the Americans and let them fall asleep. We want to accomplish three things: One, we want the Americans to withdraw conventional forces from Europe. Two, we want them to withdraw nuclear forces from Europe. Three, we want the Americans to stop proceeding with Strategic Defense Initiative.” ...end extract

False Conservative Movement

In discussions with others this past week, it became apparent that nearly all conservative movements have been infiltrated or severely compromised from within. I note some are talking about schools while CBDCs and WHO health orders are being set up to circumscribe (restrict within limits) every nation state. The nation state is becoming increasingly redundant under this world government (WHO issuing directives without accountability to be implemented by each nation state) - anarchy. Seeing wrong in only the other side of any narrative, you cannot comprehend the dialectic method. Both US and Russia are not so opposed as we may think. They are working together - dialectically. The massive human suffering of the Ukraine does not provide any concern in this pursuit of the world communist slave state. The ‘ends’ (the world communist slave state) justifies the ‘means’ (revolution, wars, genocide or whatever else is required). That virtually every national government is pursuing this policy appears almost unfathomable but is an accurate assessment of where we are. The Truth will set you free. What is Truth? Pilot asked the Christ.

John 10:10 The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy. I am come that they may have life, and may have it more abundantly.

The further away from Godly things we travel, the closer to hell we come. The book of Revelations and other prophecies are to warn us of what will happen if we fail to hear and seek His Kingdom. Asking the state to allow schools to choose their own teachers is of little consequence when we will all be slaves and the world collective state will decree without accountability what a communist education will look like. The conservative leadership is deliberately leading Christians and/or Conservatives into the long grass of no real concern – come join the conservative political parties while we all go to hell together. Better we each take up our own cross and locally bring about His Kingdom on earth as in heaven, than we hold out hope from leadership that would deliberately lead us astray.

“This country is not going to be saved from the top because that is where all the rot is. It is too deep. It is going to be saved from the grass roots”. Eric Butler never tires from saying this. He is recorded on every podcast and broadcast introduction saying exactly that. We cannot hear it too often.

“This country is not going to be saved from the top because that is where all the rot is. It is too deep. It is going to be saved from the grass roots”.

Creating Money Out Of Nothing

Understanding the role of money bringing this about is critical to a correct analysis. If you shy away from this subject of the power of money that usurped the power of the King, you will never grasp the mechanisms used towards today’s world government. Last week I set many titles for further reading and we need to continue to unpack a little further to understand the whole.

TALLIES

When the crusaders first left their homelands in Europe for the Holy Land, they took with them almost the entire circulating supply of gold and silver coins. (any such thing as a gold standard instantly went up in smoke-ed) This left western nations, England in particular, with no money (precious metals-ed). In the year 1100 A.D. Henry I, 4th son of William the Conqueror, ascended the throne of England. Finding the treasury empty (of precious metals-ed) and his needs great, he cast about for a source of income. Having wise advisors, he soon hit on a plan. The plan, with a few refinements, remained in effect for the next 726 years - and can be reinstated tomorrow. He issued "tallies".

A tally was a stick about nine inches or so long with each of the four sides about 1/2 inch wide. On two of the sides, the value of the "tally" was carved into the wood. On the other two sides, the amount was printed in ink. The tally was then split in half lengthwise. One half remained in the treasury and the other half was given to soldiers for their pay, to farmers for wheat, to armorers for armour, and to labourers for their labour. At tax time, taxpayers were required to bring in one half of a tally to pay their taxes. Woe unto the man who did not have the required number of tally sticks. As a consequence, these intrinsically worthless sticks of wood were in great demand. Gold and silver coins were fine if you travelled abroad for a crusade or something, but at home if you did not have your tax-tally at tax time - you were done.

Upon receipt of a tally the treasurer would immediately match the presented half with the half stored in the treasury. THEY HAD TO TALLY - which is what gave it the name. Counterfeiters lost their heads! Actually, it was practically impossible to counterfeit a tally. The wood grain had to match - the notches had to match - and the ink inscriptions had to match. This could only come about if both pieces came from the same split tally stick.

There you have it! An inexhaustible source of revenue for the government. The means were available to make tallies as long as there were trees. There was a demand as long as the government required the tallies for taxes. The system flourished as long as tax-evaders and counterfeiters were punished, and they always were. For 726 years the system flourished.

Interest In England

Government "tally money and usury money" cannot exist side by side. Tally-money makes usury-money look bad because it stays constant, while usury-money expands and contracts. The advent of usury-money spelled the death of the tally.

The process started in 1694 when the Bank of England was chartered. This new type of interest-bank was permitted because of a promise made by the Pretender (Cromwell - spelt Cauin) to his financial backers before he became a King, and before he had access to the privilege of issuing the potentially inexhaustible supply of wooden money. When the Pretender became King (Lord Protector - ed), he kept his promise to his usurer bankers. The days of tally-money were numbered.

At that time there were about 14 million pounds in tally-money in circulation. In 1697 when the capital of the Bank of England was increased, 160,000 pounds of this new money was paid for with tally-sticks. The irritation of having usury-money and tally-money circulating at the same time ended when Parliament abolished the use of tallies for taxes in 1783. Circulation of tallies continued in the back country of England until 1826.

In 1834 the treasury tallies were burned by allies of the Bank of England. The furnaces which heated the House of Lords were used. The fire blazed up and burned down both houses of Parliament. Tallies were thought to be extinct until a casual discovery in the Chapel of the Pyx in 1909 uncovered 1,300 more Exchequer Tallies. (The Pyx Chamber is one of the oldest surviving parts of Westminster Abbey. - ed) You can now see them in British museums...end of extract

For 726 years the financial system in Britain functioned for the benefit of the nation – without any gold backed currency. The sordid history of Cromwell and his money lenders culminating in the Dutch led invasion, has produced the undoing of the English Parliament, the usurping of the power of the King (government) and placed the entire political powerbase firmly into the hands of merchant bankers – the City of London.

The call for a Central Bank Digital Currency CBDC is to place this political power permanently into their remote and unaccountable hands, brought about by 'creating money out of nothing' until they are owed everything including government itself.

Every individual, every institution, every nation will all be monitored and controlled with this CBDC instrument. George Orwell and Aldus Huxley, even in their wildest imaginations, would never have envisaged such a pervasive instrument of surveillance towards totalitarianism. You see, the people who wish to monitor everything we do are not angels, nor saints, nor benevolent. They are the same type that has inflicted death and suffering against literally the entire world to achieve their purposes this past 400 years. ***
