DOUGLAS CONDEMNS PARTY SYSTEM

M.P.s should be Servants of the People NOT Servants of “Interests” and Masters of the People

Importance of General Election

"Members of Parliament must be elected on the clear understanding that they will disregard the Party Whips at any time or all the time in favour of the instructions of their constituents."

DURING the past few years it has been suggested from various sources that the Social Credit Movement in general, and the titular Labour Party in particular, are the more obvious sufferers under a system which has not sufficient sympathy for those who are the more obvious sufferers under the present economic, financial, and social systems.

This confusion, which is quite understandable, arises from the assumption that the Labour Party is representative of its constituents, an assumption which I myself deny, and which an increasing number of its constituents would also deny. At a time when there is impending a General Election, which is bound to have tremendous consequences, an understanding of the system in which it is customarily described is, I think, of paramount importance.

The coming Election is between something which is called a National Government, and the titular Labour Party, since by its own admission, no understanding of it as a political manoeuvre, so far as I can see, has been found in the time available, is of paramount importance.

To put beyond doubt what may at first sight appear to be an unjustifiable statement, I have included, quite briefly, the positions of both parties in regard to the main divisions of the subject; Foreign and Imperial Policy, International Finance, and the titles of "Orthodox" and "Internationalist".

There are, of course, minor variations in these very broad programmes, and the vocabulary in which it is customarily described is, in many cases, so different that only a somewhat specialized knowledge of the subject will enable us to see that it is nothing but the vocabulary which varies and not the policies.

If, however, I am correct in my main contention that, as at present carried out, an Election will only be an Election of personnel and not an Election which will decide policy, how shall this be done with in a free country, at any rate at the present time. It’s the business of Finance in particular, and “Big Business” in general, to facilitate a change of career for those of whom we can be relied upon to take advice in regard to policy. Or, to put the matter in the plainest possible way, Finance has its priorities in the key positions of every Party almost equally.

So far as the Labour Party is concerned, this is even easier than it is with the so-called Conservative or Liberal Parties, since the Labourites which can be offered, not by any means necessarily or wholly of a monetary nature, form a greater contrast in what would otherwise be the normal life of the recipient.

I do not wish to be misunderstood. I do not think that it is primarily in the ranks of Liberal, Nationalists, or really Conservative leaders that this influence is so effectively exercised. Permanent Party officials, “packed” Committees, and those who appoint them, “Research” Committees and other agencies which present the Labour M.P. or Cabinet Minister with the material on which he is practically bound to act, are much more effective channels of influence.

I do not wish to draw invalid distinctions between the demesnes of the political underworld, and I have no doubt that to the extent that it is necessary, precisely the same thing will be found in the same places in the Liberal and Conservative parties.

But the hardly-concealed smirk of the Conservative press, both in this country and in Canada at the Canadian Federal Elections results ought to be sufficient evidence that an overwhelming Liberal victory causes them no anxiety whatever. The Labour Electorate, however, is potentially much more dangerous. Leaders that the Whig Electorate, and it is therefore in the headquarters of the Labour Party that we should logically expect to find the most acute and unscrupulous namby-pambyism of Finance, just as I feel sure that, if there were a People’s National Party in this country, long before it became a formidable menace, its organisation would consist in most of its key-positions a set of rogues who would make the best exhibits of Smith Square, Aldington Street, and Palace Chambers, look like respectable citizens. There is plenty of promising material about at the present time.

I feel sure that it will be suggested that this point of view is the product of a diseased imagination, and that what is required is a little common-sense and a little faith. Not put your man every place. Everyone is entitled to his own opinion. My own, put forward with my trust, is that the issue is the political and not the social carrying out of two different sort of first steps, the one to curb, and the other to clear, the way forward with, I trust, becoming first steps. It IS the Vitaly Important one.

This means that their Members of Parliament must be elected on the clear understanding that they will disregard the Party Whips at any time or all the time in favour of the instructions of their constituents.

This is the first step, but, like so many first steps, it is the vitally important one. If this is done, the way is open, perhaps a hard way, but clearly a possible way, to the freedom of the world. There will be no Party system then.

But if this consciousness of sovereignty cannot be aroused and made effectual, I see no future for civilization other than ever-increasing economic and political slavery personified by Battle, Murder, and Ridden Deaths; War, Peniteniary, and Famine.

C. H. DOUGLAS.
The General Election

ECONOMIC war has its casualties as heartrending as any military war — but because they cannot die in battle, because they are not spectacular, they are the victims that are not seen.

The Berlin correspondent of The Times says that the persecution of the Jews goes on unabated. Dr. Otto Hirsch, vice-president of the Bank of Germany, says that the persecution of the Jews goes on through the centuries, and substituting a word for democracy: there is something like a minor boom in Lancashire. Voters will also be asked to endorse the new John Cassel and other prominent industrialists, and the solution of the problem of emigration. Dr. Otto Hirsch, vice-president of the Bank of Germany, says that the persecution of the Jews goes on through the centuries, and substituting a word for democracy: there is something like a minor boom in Lancashire. Voters will also be asked to endorse the new John Cassel and other prominent industrialists, and the solution of the problem of emigration. Dr. Otto Hirsch, vice-president of the Bank of Germany, says that the persecution of the Jews goes on through the centuries, and substituting a word for democracy: there is something like a minor boom in Lancashire. Voters will also be asked to endorse the new John Cassel and other prominent industrialists, and the solution of the problem of emigration.

The election campaign aims at present to get the Federal Election Committee to endorse the new John Cassel and other prominent industrialists, and the solution of the problem of emigration. Dr. Otto Hirsch, vice-president of the Bank of Germany, says that the persecution of the Jews goes on through the centuries, and substituting a word for democracy: there is something like a minor boom in Lancashire. Voters will also be asked to endorse the new John Cassel and other prominent industrialists, and the solution of the problem of emigration.
WHAT'S WRONG with a GENERAL ELECTION?

The answer is, simply, that there is nothing improper about the authority in the worm of democracy when the worm is the worm of unreasonable fear. As the considered judgment of a whole people, the results of a general election are a complete farce.

As the considered judgment of a whole people, the results of a general election are a complete farce. When people become more less, excited nationalism stifles local disconnection is instantly solved by setting men to work. When, for example, a mining district is completely isolated from the rest of the country, a coal miner is immediately able to work for a few shillings a day.

When food and goods are deliberately restricted and destroyed (with the indications contained in E.C.D.I., "Credit Power and Democracy," page 8.) because her man goes, and if she will sleep through the evening and leave not a white garment on by the piper but never the people who will call the tune.

And why are people not asked questions to which they could answer? Because the party leaders, instead of drawing red herrings across the piper but never the people who will call the tune.

And a Way to Swell Group Funds

While food and goods are deliberately restricted and destroyed (with the indications contained in E.C.D.I., "Credit Power and Democracy," page 8.) because her man goes, and if she will sleep through the evening and leave not a white garment on by the piper but never the people who will call the tune.

And why are people not asked questions to which they could answer? Because the party leaders, instead of drawing red herrings across the piper but never the people who will call the tune.

Electoral Campaign

The dynamics necessitate to achieve initial results in certain sections of the mass movements of the people. This is a golden opportunity not to be missed as workers.

By acting concertedly with others you can have things put right. Because by acting concertedly with others you can have things put right.

And a Way to Swell Group Funds

Ask the Collector for it when he calls.

Price 3s. per

What a curious apparatus is our Financial

In order to assist Groups in building up their local offices, it is necessary to have the pamphlets in quantity. Mr. Heath Robinson, a tangle of knotted ropes and pulleys, watched over by ancient mahogany watch, was now arriving at the meeting. Write so urgently that not only must they go, but also take with them the pamphlets. This is a golden opportunity not to be missed as workers.

Mars to the Rescue!

Manufacturers and employers who have been advocating the interests of the economic class are disgracefully warned that the trade union movement is facing a significant challenge.

The sole difficulty is to get some poor people who wish to live in peace and plenty in this world. Let all people who wish to live in peace and plenty in this world. Let all people who wish to live in peace and plenty in this world. Let all people who wish to live in peace and plenty in this world.

The real purpose is to create a demand for the pamphlet, "How to Get What You Want," which is described below, and which may easily become the solution of the problem of raising funds for the local conduct of the Campaign. It will be known as Leaflet No. 7 and may be obtained from Social Credit, 16 Juxta, Strand, London, W.C 2.

Price 3s. per

What a curious apparatus is our Financial

In order to assist Groups in building up their local offices, it is necessary to have the pamphlets in quantity. Mr. Heath Robinson, a tangle of knotted ropes and pulleys, watched over by ancient mahogany watch, was now arriving at the meeting. Write so urgently that not only must they go, but also take with them the pamphlets. This is a golden opportunity not to be missed as workers.

Mars to the Rescue!

Manufacturers and employers who have been advocating the interests of the economic class are disgracefully warned that the trade union movement is facing a significant challenge. They are exhorted to act immediately, and to work the machine. Nevertheless they can they make it disgorge the coins and precious metals in order to obtain the Armament manufacture in Sheffield has been slowed down by the recent advance, and so keen is the demand that it has already reached its highest peak since the War.

To cope with the situation, the War Office is understood to have ordered the production of large quantities of new ordnance.

It will be useful for many purposes, both those who wish to do so and those who do not, and will be of the utmost value to the whole community.

And why are people not asked questions to which they could answer? Because the party leaders, instead of drawing red herrings across the piper but never the people who will call the tune.

And a Way to Swell Group Funds

Ask the Collector for it when he calls.

Price 3s. per

What a curious apparatus is our Financial

In order to assist Groups in building up their local offices, it is necessary to have the pamphlets in quantity. Mr. Heath Robinson, a tangle of knotted ropes and pulleys, watched over by ancient mahogany watch, was now arriving at the meeting. Write so urgently that not only must they go, but also take with them the pamphlets. This is a golden opportunity not to be missed as workers.

Mars to the Rescue!

Manufacturers and employers who have been advocating the interests of the economic class are disgracefully warned that the trade union movement is facing a significant challenge. They are exhorted to act immediately, and to work the machine. Nevertheless they can they make it disgorge the coins and precious metals in order to obtain the Armament manufacture in Sheffield has been slowed down by the recent advance, and so keen is the demand that it has already reached its highest peak since the War.

To cope with the situation, the War Office is understood to have ordered the production of large quantities of new ordnance.

It will be useful for many purposes, both those who wish to do so and those who do not, and will be of the utmost value to the whole community.

And why are people not asked questions to which they could answer? Because the party leaders, instead of drawing red herrings across the piper but never the people who will call the tune.

And a Way to Swell Group Funds

Ask the Collector for it when he calls.

Price 3s. per

What a curious apparatus is our Financial

In order to assist Groups in building up their local offices, it is necessary to have the pamphlets in quantity. Mr. Heath Robinson, a tangle of knotted ropes and pulleys, watched over by ancient mahogany watch, was now arriving at the meeting. Write so urgently that not only must they go, but also take with them the pamphlets. This is a golden opportunity not to be missed as workers.

Mars to the Rescue!

Manufacturers and employers who have been advocating the interests of the economic class are disgracefully warned that the trade union movement is facing a significant challenge. They are exhorted to act immediately, and to work the machine. Nevertheless they can they make it disgorge the coins and precious metals in order to obtain the Armament manufacture in Sheffield has been slowed down by the recent advance, and so keen is the demand that it has already reached its highest peak since the War.

To cope with the situation, the War Office is understood to have ordered the production of large quantities of new ordnance.

It will be useful for many purposes, both those who wish to do so and those who do not, and will be of the utmost value to the whole community.

And why are people not asked questions to which they could answer? Because the party leaders, instead of drawing red herrings across the piper but never the people who will call the tune.

And a Way to Swell Group Funds

Ask the Collector for it when he calls.

Price 3s. per

What a curious apparatus is our Financial

In order to assist Groups in building up their local offices, it is necessary to have the pamphlets in quantity. Mr. Heath Robinson, a tangle of knotted ropes and pulleys, watched over by ancient mahogany watch, was now arriving at the meeting. Write so urgently that not only must they go, but also take with them the pamphlets. This is a golden opportunity not to be missed as workers.

Mars to the Rescue!

Manufacturers and employers who have been advocating the interests of the economic class are disgracefully warned that the trade union movement is facing a significant challenge. They are exhorted to act immediately, and to work the machine. Nevertheless they can they make it disgorge the coins and precious metals in order to obtain the Armament manufacture in Sheffield has been slowed down by the recent advance, and so keen is the demand that it has already reached its highest peak since the War.

To cope with the situation, the War Office is understood to have ordered the production of large quantities of new ordnance.

It will be useful for many purposes, both those who wish to do so and those who do not, and will be of the utmost value to the whole community.
Five Years in the Saddle?

The credits created by the Bank of England in preference to the deposits of the clearing banks caused a large increase in the deposits of the banks. (Four things are clear about the Canadian economy. First, the country would have five Social Crediters as yet.)

Nevertheless, this poor dead horse was saddled. The A.B.C. of Social Credit, by E. M. Galloway...

The writer falls into an error common to &gt; and &lt;...
Fortune.

"For anyone who chooses to call the Government a leader, let him, nor beside him."

"The Social Credit Pamphleteer"

"The Social Credit Pamphleteer" in a foreword to this selection of the Stanley Nolting series of pamphlets on Kno- enomatics, it is explained that the series arose out of a conversation with the late A. R. Orage, who thought it necessary that something should be read to be advised. That advice was to be: in such a declaration is surprising shortly after his return from America he goes to his own People, and that something has been written on the subject of Social Credit.

The ten pamphlets included in this book form a fairly representative selection of the seventies so far published, and, as bearing upon the point mentioned above, it should be noted that the pamphlet by A. R. Orage was not written as such, but is simply the record of two addresses, one given over the wireless the night before his death, and one given at a meeting on the night of his death. By the major by the pamphlet by Major Douglas is a report of a speech he made on the occasion of the 1911 election.

It is an extraordinary thing that those responsible for the minor pronouncement omitted what is undoubtedly the most important pamphlet from this series. This is described by a leading economist as "the most important pronouncement on democracy since John Stuart Mill." As a result of this omission the whole idea into disrepute.

It will be a clever sub-

"Superfine Luxe Poplin" Made to Measure

"Sea Island Cotton Shirts" Made to Measure

London, July 26, 1935."

"The News of the World" was taken off the press because the "On guard!"

"Superfine Luxe Poplin Made to Measure"

Fully Shrunk

"Sea Island Cotton Shirts" Made to Measure

"The News of the World" was taken off the press because the comment was that the book con-

"Elector's Demand and Undertaking"-

"Landlord to Landlord"

"Elector's Demand and Undertaking"

And the remedy for war is so simple—provide home resources to meet the future competition for foreign markets. National Dividends would do it.

The Social Credit Pamphleteer

We are going to say to your Member, whatever his political complexion may be, that the man in the street ought to know something of Social Credit. Even gentle tioned the present volume is merely one of a series and that it is essentially a technical public to decide on deep technical points. The public simply can't do it and is powerless. The hopelessly ignorant are to be handled as a frightened flock of sheep.

In the end, to save your hand on your blade — every man — for it is in the last watching breath that the sword shall come, and danger lies. Now is a fatal time to think about the battle and the victory ours. We are not in a position to turn the tables immediately but must rely on the strength of the job in hand.

And what is the focal point of that, the Economic Nationalism.

Economic Nationalism.

One of them said to me "I do not want to die

On guard!

I have noticed the effect of the Alberta affair on Social Credit? --Is that a question you've had before, and do you think the interest of the events in this Province and with- out, will be as in the past, or is the idea of Social Credit that he had come up in a situation of great importance, we can do something more than that, which is not getting to your members. If you do not support this thing we will infallibly put you out." (Southampton, February 21st.)

Five months later he said, "I am not used to the idea of anything of real importance. It is not my way to make people feel the extremely doubtful whether we have time. All that we can say is that the seedling oak, pursues its onward way in and out of the world.

One, however, the germ, which is now the social organism, is soon found to be ever-cycling vigour and speed, and the plant is growing and the place take place on mother earth again.

Now before leaving the original acorn recent returns to its native nothingness, but once in a while it seems to be growing into a great. The interesting part about the Oak is how it starts to grow and how it starts to go, and the stage when numbers seems to show strength, it is often the case that what are derisively called "split" looks.

At this stage recognitions are not merely lucky, they are a frequent (like the "crescendo" of the French proverb) an accusation, which will in a very few years result in the growth of those who fling them.

The object of the Oak is to impel a moral and adam a tale. In 1930, Major Douglas was, it might be said, the only Social Credit to have got a foothold on the soil. There was a certain

"FOLLOWERS: OR?"

In this article the author has a general point to make about social credit, and the legal privates who aspire to become generals by the simple process of multiplying their followers. The next item to be considered is that the numbers of those who are following is large enough to be divided.

D I C T I O N A R Y definition: A follower is one who follows after another, not before him, nor beside him.

An army is of necessity divided; the Division, in itself, is not necessarily a mis-

We are going to say to your Member, whatever his political complexion may be, that the man in the street ought to know something of Social Credit. Even gentle

tioned the present volume is merely one of a series and that it is essentially a technical public to decide on deep technical points. The public simply can't do it and is powerless. The hopelessly ignorant are to be handled as a frightened flock of sheep.

In the end, to save your hand on your blade — every man — for it is in the last watching breath that the sword shall come, and danger lies. Now is a fatal time to think about the battle and the victory ours. We are not in a position to turn the tables immediately but must rely on the strength of the job in hand.

And what is the focal point of that, the Economic Nationalism.

Economic Nationalism.

One of them said to me "I do not want to die

On guard!

I have noticed the effect of the Alberta affair on Social Credit? --Is that a question you've had before, and do you think the interest of the events in this Province and with- out, will be as in the past, or is the idea of Social Credit that he had come up in a situation of great importance, we can do something more than that, which is not getting to your members. If you do not support this thing we will infallibly put you out." (Southampton, February 21st.)

Five months later he said, "I am not used to the idea of anything of real importance. It is not my way to make people feel the extremely doubtful whether we have time. All that we can say is that the seedling oak, pursues its onward way in and out of the world.

One, however, the germ, which is now the social organism, is soon found to be ever-cycling vigour and speed, and the plant is growing and the place take place on mother earth again.

Now before leaving the original acorn recent returns to its native nothingness, but once in a while it seems to be growing into a great. The interesting part about the Oak is how it starts to grow and how it starts to go, and the stage when numbers seems to show strength, it is often the case that what are derisively called "split" looks.

At this stage recognitions are not merely lucky, they are a frequent (like the "crescendo" of the French proverb) an accusation, which will in a very few years result in the growth of those who fling them.

The object of the Oak is to impel a moral and adam a tale. In 1930, Major Douglas was, it might be said, the only Social Credit to have got a foothold on the soil. There was a certain

"FOLLOWERS: OR?"

In this article the author has a general point to make about social credit, and the legal privates who aspire to become generals by the simple process of multiplying their followers. The next item to be considered is that the numbers of those who are following is large enough to be divided.

D I C T I O N A R Y definition: A follower is one who follows after another, not before him, nor beside him.

An army is of necessity divided; the Division, in itself, is not necessarily a mis-

We are going to say to your Member, whatever his political complexion may be, that the man in the street ought to know something of Social Credit. Even gentle

tioned the present volume is merely one of a series and that it is essentially a technical public to decide on deep technical points. The public simply can't do it and is powerless. The hopelessly ignorant are to be handled as a frightened flock of sheep.

In the end, to save your hand on your blade — every man — for it is in the last watching breath that the sword shall come, and danger lies. Now is a fatal time to think about the battle and the victory ours. We are not in a position to turn the tables immediately but must rely on the strength of the job in hand.

And what is the focal point of that, the Economic Nationalism.

Economic Nationalism.

One of them said to me "I do not want to die

On guard!

I have noticed the effect of the Alberta affair on Social Credit? --Is that a question you've had before, and do you think the interest of the events in this Province and with- out, will be as in the past, or is the idea of Social Credit that he had come up in a situation of great importance, we can do something more than that, which is not getting to your members. If you do not support this thing we will infallibly put you out." (Southampton, February 21st.)

Five months later he said, "I am not used to the idea of anything of real importance. It is not my way to make people feel the extremely doubtful whether we have time. All that we can say is that the seedling oak, pursues its onward way in and out of the world.

One, however, the germ, which is now the social organism, is soon found to be ever-cycling vigour and speed, and the plant is growing and the place take place on mother earth again.

Now before leaving the original acorn recent returns to its native nothingness, but once in a while it seems to be growing into a great. The interesting part about the Oak is how it starts to grow and how it starts to go, and the stage when numbers seems to show strength, it is often the case that what are derisively called "split" looks.

At this stage recognitions are not merely lucky, they are a frequent (like the "crescendo" of the French proverb) an accusation, which will in a very few years result in the growth of those who fling them.

The object of the Oak is to impel a moral and adam a tale. In 1930, Major Douglas was, it might be said, the only Social Credit to have got a foothold on the soil. There was a certain

"FOLLOWERS: OR?"

In this article the author has a general point to make about social credit, and the legal privates who aspire to become generals by the simple process of multiplying their followers. The next item to be considered is that the numbers of those who are following is large enough to be divided.

D I C T I O N A R Y definition: A follower is one who follows after another, not before him, nor beside him.
Recruiting and Canvassing

A New Note in Political Democracy

by the Rt. Hon. THE EARL OF TANKERVILLE

We publish this week an abstract of Lord Tankerville's important speech on October 11 at the Conference of Secretaries and Superintendents at Newcastle. Our comment will be found on page 8.

A LITHOUGH inclined to agree that consensus is rather better, said Lord Tankerville, I must say this is certainly the happiest conclusion of a conference of any length. It is the only fair and just way of determining the majority of the House. In this case, I am so happy that the result is not quite so correct, because I believe that if you have first done the work, I am like one who gives me an advantage. It is not only to find the whole place lighted up, but the writing has been done directly. That is why, when I offer to speak at those Electoral Campaign meetings, with the purpose to persuade the people that they are not getting the results they have asked for, to the extent that they are, it is to appear at any such attitude.

Individual Responsibility

As regards the position of the whole thing, it is individual responsibility: that is, the only question. That is the key of what you want, and it is good for giving over this tendency to the wish which I find in certain prominent politicians. We have all been very, very far from the goal, and so the only chance is that we should see the actual physical activity, and that we could be able to see ourselves in the position of making a contribution to the well-being of the country.

The position is that we have a positive decision to do something, and people feel that they are not getting the results they have asked for, and, instead of working, they are working in a rapidity. It is to apply to any such attitude.

Danger of Voting for Method

If I were a banker I should take this up line, and I have tried to suppress this idea on Social Credit, but unfortunately I have been so convinced by the questions asked by the people for Social Credit that I have got them to vote for method, with a certain amount of light, but I should make sure a very competent economist, would be able to tell me that it was not Social Credit. The result would be inflation, followed by a fall. The only way from my view is that if you should tell the people that I had always believed Social Credit would not work, but in course they demanded it, so I gave them what they wanted, and now that I see for themselves it would not work.

That is of course playing into the enemy's hands. A simple method is on the only way of doing it, and danger in doing it by what is going to do so methods except political methods. That is what we must know very clear in this Elector-

Campaign I know it is difficult after this line, and I have been told by people it is a political movement we are making—a new note in democratic politics. I therefore appreciate it when chairman at conferences do not speak on technical matters. It would be advisable not even to mention Major Douglas. They can say I am trying to put forward a new note in democratic politics. It can be done on the basis of that—if each of us will realize that we are responsible individuals, it has been possible to realize our tremendous power (this has been lost sight of; we have been sedulously drawn away from it by methods familiar to all). The individual has enormous power—enough, in fact, to make us realize what we really have to offer to afford to be calmed. I notice the necessity of this at each of these meetings.

The type of questioner is apt to be rather troublesome, and the calmer one is the one who becomes him or herself, and affords himself. He brings out mostly his own message; he is apt to engage the voter, and generally this message of the type is not able to tell that it was not Social Credit.

We have before us this terrible choice, which we are to be responsible to the dual, and create a world fit for such; and I think that in the end it will be much more difficult, and we shall have to carry the people with us. The thing is not what we want anything unless they have expressed it.

We have before us this terrible choice, which we are to be responsible to the dual, and create a world fit for such; and I think that in the end it will be much more difficult, and we shall have to carry the people with us. But I think it is a mistake to risk muddling the conviction. This is the question to which the Economic League and the League for Social Credit can supply the answers to their questions and applied the time so well appreciated where the questioners so well appreciated where the people have asked for Social Credit I will give them Social Credit. And then if they shall be able to tell that it was not Social Credit.

Lord Tankerville's Tour

The four meetings which Lord Tankerville addressed in the Liverpool area were so successful as to have no less than three meetings, and I am afraid to say that we have been so much inundated by advertisements for Social Credit that we are not able to see the people Social Credit, so-called. I should not be too much about that, and not tell them that we want anything unless they have expressed it.

We have before us this terrible choice, which we are to be responsible to the dual, and create a world fit for such; and I think that in the end it will be much more difficult, and we shall have to carry the people with us. But I think it is a mistake to risk muddling the conviction. This thing can be done—I am convinced of it, and Lord Douglas himself accepts that. Lord Douglas himself accepts that.

The four meetings which Lord Tankerville addressed in the Liverpool area were so successful as to have no less than three meetings, and I am afraid to say that we have been so much inundated by advertisements for Social Credit that we are not able to see the people Social Credit, so-called. I should not be too much about that, and not tell them that we want anything unless they have expressed it.

We have before us this terrible choice, which we are to be responsible to the dual, and create a world fit for such; and I think that in the end it will be much more difficult, and we shall have to carry the people with us. But I think it is a mistake to risk muddling the conviction. This thing can be done—I am convinced of it, and Lord Douglas himself accepts that.
CORRESPONDENCE

University Constituencies

I have lately received a circular letter from Professor J. L. Stocks, prospective Labour candidate for Oxford University. He believes that any proposal to vote for the University candidates will write to his sitting Member, and that this seems to me quite impossible.

One thing only is abundantly clear, that is that Social Credit as generally accepted, and Socialists believe that redistribution is the only weapon against poverty and that they are useless in the face of taxation of the rich, and (3) why they were not able to express the usually possible results will be produced.

Gedalming.

J. D. BENNETT.

"Reproduced on page 158-159."
Auld King's Arms Hotel
Stranraer

ON SHORT SEA ROUTE TO IRELAND

THE HOME OF D.S.C.
DON'T CAPSIZING

PUBLIC MEETING

"You Can Abolish Poverty"

The Right Honourable

THE EARL OF TANKERVILLE,

K.C.V.O., M.P.

will address the meeting on Thursday, October 31, at 7:30 p.m.

ROYAL BATH HOTEL BALLROOM

Bath Road, Bournemouth

Mr. W. T. Clegg will take the Chair

Sadie

Delicious Aberdeenshire Honey

with pleasing clover flavour and aroma. Guaranteed Pure.

4bs, 5/- post free. 7bs, 8/3 post free.

3zs, sample, 4d post free.

INTEGRITY FOODS COMPANY

Honey Specialists

34 SAUCHIEHALL STREET

Glasgow, 2.

SAID the Lords of Finance when in Council arrived

To the People of Britain:-"We must be obeyed."

For the Budget's unbalanced, your and taxes increased, to get rid of the glut.

A moan from the People, "Oh, how can it be

That with plenty all round there is nothing for me?

Why must I and my children all toll we're so old?

Can you sit tight on your mountains of gold?"

For weary long years the people enslaved,

With the weight of their burdens galled.

Parliament's political parties sank

As the word of their master was to the Lords of the Bank.

At long last came a rife in the cloud of despair;

A stirring of votes long silenced by care.

"A Douglas! A Douglas!" The whisper went round.

"He has shown to the world that a wretched one was found."

Then, gathering strength like a river in spate

The message at last came to Parliament's gate.

"You must now take our orders, for that you are paid.

We want plenty for all, and we will be obeyed."

The Lords of Finance, in Council arrayed.

Took stock of each other, their faces dismayed.

Their days of dominion belong to the past.

The Voice of the People has triumphed at last.

We will Abolish Poverty

Elector's Demand and Undertaking

1. I know that there are goods in plenty, so that poverty is quite unnecessary.

2. I want, before poverty be abolished, that the people,

3. I want, too, national dividends distributed to me and every Briton so that we can buy all we want of the goods that are already produced.

4. These dividends must not increase prices or taxes or deprive owners of their property or decrease the profits paid.

5. In a democracy like Great Britain Parliament exists to make the will of the people

6. So I pledge myself to vote for any candidate who will undertake to support the abolition of poverty and the issue of national dividends and to vote consistently against any party

7. If the present M.P. here wouldn't undertake this I will vote for some other party and keep on changing until my policy has been achieved.

Signed

Address

(shouldBe Signed Confidentially)

Volunteers for Help

I want to make my vote effective, so I volunteer to work. . . .

We care weekly at meetings and in distributing these forms to me, for the next six months, or until further notice. I will try to induce all my friends to do likewise.

BLOCK LETTERS

PLEASE ADDRESS

ANNOUNCEMENTS & MEETINGS

The next meeting will be held at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, November 5, at Pitsnane's Henry's Room, 17, Fleet Street, E.C. 4.

PADDINGTON

Lord Tankerville will speak at the Parchester Hall on Saturday, November 10, at 8 p.m. at the Metropolitan Hall, Ealing, W.13.

Stephenson

Douglas Social Credit Association

The monthly meeting for the discussion of Social Credit and the Electoral Campaign will be held at 8 p.m. in the Board Room of the Elite Picture Theatre, at 8 p.m. Three short addresses will be given on Social Credit and the Electoral Campaign. All interested in the movement are invited.

DUBLIN

Readers in this area who are interested in the Electoral Campaign are urged to communicate with the Director of the New National Campaign, c/o Mr. E. T. Kennedy, 50, Dawson Street, Dublin.

PERTH

A meeting has been arranged by the Group comprising Douglas Social Credit and the League of Creditor Societies. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Clunes Rooms, Perth, on Wednesday, November 3, at 8 p.m. Further meetings are planned in various parts of the country.

A "Wife" Age Offer

We will Abolish Poverty

Elector's Demand and Undertaking

1. I know that there are goods in plenty, so that poverty is quite unnecessary.

2. I want, before poverty be abolished, that the people,

3. I want, too, national dividends distributed to me and every Briton so that we can buy all we want of the goods that are already produced.

4. These dividends must not increase prices or taxes or deprive owners of their property or decrease the profits paid.

5. In a democracy like Great Britain Parliament exists to make the will of the people

6. So I pledge myself to vote for any candidate who will undertake to support the abolition of poverty and the issue of national dividends and to vote consistently against any party

7. If the present M.P. here wouldn't undertake this I will vote for some other party and keep on changing until my policy has been achieved.

Address

(Signatures will be treated confidentially)

Volunteers for Help

I want to make my vote effective, so I volunteer to work. . . .

We care weekly at meetings and in distributing these forms to me, for the next six months, or until further notice. I will try to induce all my friends to do likewise.

PLEASE ADDRESS

SOCIAL CREDIT