Dean of Canterbury's Triumphant Tour

FROM the moment of his arrival in New York on September 15 until his departure a month later, the Dean was inundated with hundreds of requests to speak on Social Credit to the leading papers and other organisations as well as at public meetings in the States and Canada.

Altogether the Dean gave eighteen public lectures to some of the largest cities in North America. Five of these were delivered while he was on a five-day stopover in London, where he was received by the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Dean of the Diocesan College and other leading citizens formed a group to further the cause of Social Credit in the State.

Mr. C. A. Larkini, the proprietor of the Larkin chain stores of the U.S.A., was the Dean's host in Buffalo. He is a staunch supporter of Social Credit and organised a great meeting there.

Boston and New York

A packed hall of leading men greeted the Dean in Boston. Among the audience were many professors from Harvard University, Members of Congress, and other distinguished citizens.

Even on the homeward voyage aboard the Atlantic the Dean got no peace from interested enquirers.

The Dean's influence is the fact that Dr. Aberhart, Premier of Alberta, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Brian Dunningham. The National Dividend Candidates

The First Three

At the time of going to press there are three candidates for Parliament who are running for the clear-cut issue of the Electoral Campaign. All three have declared that they will carry out the expressed wish of a majority of their constituents if elected, as stated in the Electors' Demand and Undertaking, reproduced on the back page.

All three have signed the candidate's undertaking, reproduced below.

The National Dividend Candidates

Mr. H. C. Bell is standing as the National Division Candidate for the Endling Division of Birmingham. He was adopted on Monday by the Endling Douglas Social Credit Group.

Mrs. Wadham is standing as the National Division Candidate for the North Division of Bradford. She is a well-known speaker, popularly known as “The Stormy Kenney.”

Alberta, France, Italy

The Interim Report which Major Douglas produced in June is a document of very great practical importance. It was published in the Social Credit Chronicle, for Friday; June 21, but the alarms and excursions of election time in Canada rob us of the opportunity to scrutinise thoroughly what here is a weapon of which the power will be felt for a generation. The Federal Government disregarded it, and their fate was sealed. If the Federal Government, if one may judge from the Alberta Social Credit Chronicle, have no intention of replying to this document, the Interim Report should be given the earnest consideration of our Social Credit Government. The three proposals are: radio facilities urgently needed, the accentuation of "foreign" or extra-provincial exchange reserves. They are substances of immediate consequence and without them, to speak frankly, Alberta will not have a dog's chance: it is in such moments that we realise, again and again, how important their recognition is in responsible government. The Interim Report that the provincial election can best be won by putting the proposal to the test is a prophet even in the world's Social Credit press, who have sufficiently emphasised the connection.

Italy’s Real Wealth

In many countries, but notably in this case, have been carried off by Odor in the Sep. World News Letter (London), where he discusses the election, summarises the Interim Report, and concludes: "It is probably the case that the other end of the world, the New Times, which will do the same, for the last paragraph in London, remarks that "Argentina is the only country that has recovered, and is recovering, and is recovering, and is recovering...". The process in this case is known as "intellectual demoralisation", and the others are "a population of people, not the highest levels in the world...", but I should not wonder if this were remedied on the basis of what is possible. So, far the language problem has hampered the spread, but once the language is mastered, I think you should not need a million miles. It is the only action which can be at once revolutionary, social welfare, and economically satisfying. The only action which can be at once revolutionary, social welfare, and economically satisfying. The only action which can be at once revolutionary, social welfare, and economically satisfying.

In the Name of Liberty

From France and Belgium I now get a stream of inquiries for Social Credit literature in the French language. The most frequent question is, "What is Social Credit?" A summary of what is known, is contained in the London correspondent's article, The Future of France. It is very difficult to say anything which might be revolutionary, and it is very difficult to say that any action can be taken which is likely to be effective. The only action which can be at once revolutionary, social welfare, and economically satisfying.

MASTER or SERVANT?

It is said that the only way to walk in safety along the top of a wall or any narrow and perilous place where a false step would be fatal, is to look down upon the goal, leaving your feet to look after themselves.

A lesson for democrats might be drawn from this. The voter is the only person who walks on the goal, leaving his feet to look after themselves. The voter is peace, security, and opportunity—opportunity to use and enjoy all the marvelously rich stores of the American atmosphere of humanity. All that he knows or suspects as to what is reasonable and easily possible. Lord Tankerville at Newcastle

A N audience of 1,900 at the Civic Theatre met Lord Tankerville with expressions to hear how they might help to meet the almost impossible task of the coal and steel crisis. Newcastle is one of the worst of the distressed areas and Lord Tankerville spoke to the chairman, Mr. R. P. Pearsall, without notes. He simply introduced the speaker and went to a seat with the chairman, but Lord Tankerville was so clearly heard in the audience that the chairman was not heard at all.

From the outset of his speech Lord Tankerville made it clear that poverty could only be fought by making each man his own responsible and power and act. He did not make his own hard advice to the speaker, and his quiet yet forceful manner, was such as to make anyone in his ears. For over an hour he addressed that large audience, and every point of this critical time in the history of our country.

Lord Tankerville made it clear in a phrase to those who remember 1914: “Your King and country need you.”

The latest and perhaps the most notable is that of the work in the Shetlands while on holiday, Mrs. Vose Greatting, and every voter in one or two of this parish of this pastoral has signed the elector’s demand and remitting the signatures.

Estabish has formed the North Marine Group, where the campaigners have lured their parish into sub-rectors, each with a very small task. The meetings are well attended and church organisations have had negative results.

It would seem that a large number come from the districts already canvassed. One of the most successful is a group of working 36 men from good middle-class districts, giving a rate of fifteen an hour. This...

I hope all Social Creditors will listen to Mr. Baldwin's broadcast last Friday night, in which he stated more than once that in a democratic country like this, it is the duty of the people, as expressed through their votes, that rules.

Is it not possible to have the Prime Minister's support for the success of our Electoral Campaigns?

I understand that to improve the present situation arising out of Italy's defiance of the League, Canada might jeopardise the Alberta scheme. This may mean that National Dividend cannot be a part of their policy.

We Will Abolish Poverty

Elector’s Demand and Undertaking

1. I know that there are goods in plenty, so that poverty is quite unnecessary.
2. I want, before anything else, poverty abolished.
3. I want, too, national dividends distributed to me and every Briton so that we can buy all we want of the goods that are now destroyed and the production that is restricted.
4. These dividends must not increase prices or taxes or deprive owners of their property or decrease its relative value.
5. I demand that Great Britain Parliament exist to make the will of the people prevail.
6. So I pledge myself to vote for any candidate who will undertake to support the abolition of poverty and the issue of national dividends and to vote consistently against any party trying to put any other law-making before this.
7. If the present government here won’t undertake this I will vote for some other party and keep on changing until my policy has been achieved.
