THE tragedy of Labour parties throughout the world is that they seek to make more labour out of the people who desperately want to enjoy the product of labour sans exceptions by their absence from the summarised report in The Times. In fact, the Commonwealth Bank's control of credit, the life blood of markets, is to be intensified! The cat's-paw of finance, indeed, is Australian Labour! The proposal to deal with the danger of mass-unemployment is an amplified defence policy, which includes the production of munitions and war material. The Commonwealth Bank, and the adoption of a defence scheme communique with the defence system Australian. The financial policy emphasizes the need for social defence, for the extension of thrift-proof and gas-proof shelters, and for the maintenance of efficient naval and land forces—"The Times," July 31.

That is sensible enough—if there is danger of war, prepare for war. Besides, it will make lot of work! But that does not solve the poverty of one section of society. On the provision of more labour, tell, or trouble for as many people as possible, however, Mr. Curtin has plainer to say. That his definition of Labour's "monetary objective" would be "the nationalisation of the means of production and distribution ensuring its adequacy in maintaining and increasing employment," that is to intensify the curse of Adam. What criminal folly to use the nation's credit to maintain and increase employment in an age of employment-saving inventions! Why should the political power to misled the people for? For, as Major Douglas said in his great speech at Buckingham if the people shout "We want food and shelter," it is easy to get them to translate that into "a cry of "We want more labour!" which is, of course, not at all the same thing. Labour—official Labour, all over the world is busy perverting democracy, trying to fool all the people all the time.

Labour, Mr. Curtin continued, would ration the existing work by various devices for shortening hours compulsorily. This extraordinary phrase, usually applied to retaining food supplies in a beleaguered city or a national emergency, is applied to work as if the end of man is not to live more abundantly.

To go to work, to earn the cash. To buy the grub, to get the strength. To go to work.... But "rationalising existing work" is not enough for these work maestros. Labour would concentrate on the problem that into a cry of "We want work"—which is, of course, not at all the same thing. Labour's "monetary objective" would be "the nationalisation of the means of production and distribution ensuring its adequacy in maintaining and increasing employment."

That is sensible enough—if there is danger of war, prepare for war. Besides, it will make lot of work! But that does not solve the poverty of one section of society. On the provision of more labour, tell, or trouble for as many people as possible, however, Mr. Curtin has plainer to say. That his definition of Labour's "monetary objective" would be "the nationalisation of the means of production and distribution ensuring its adequacy in maintaining and increasing employment," that is to intensify the curse of Adam. What criminal folly to use the nation's credit to maintain and increase employment in an age of employment-saving inventions! Why should the political power to misled the people for? For, as Major Douglas said in his great speech at Buckingham if the people shout "We want food and shelter," it is easy to get them to translate that into "a cry of "We want more labour!" which is, of course, not at all the same thing. Labour—official Labour, all over the world is busy perverting democracy, trying to fool all the people all the time.
A Word to the Wise

Deary Bewildement

We are told by the courts and by the three-day debate on the means test in the hope of finding some gleam of sanity to com- cre the picture, that the poor are utterly unhelpful was every speaker that we could not make them work to save a sentence. Looking back on it, the only clear voice was that of Professor Buchanan, I.P.P. Member for Gorbals. He asked if they were not those of us who knew God knows I have lost my faith in almost everything. And for that the House of work of God, if you go from ship on them. If you want to fight, choose an hard-work, and without any benefit

Poor Mr. Buchanan, on the wrong horse all the time and just found it out. It is time you consulted the one movement in the world to-day which has faith in itself and faith in others, and grows, grows, grows.

Social Credit—the faith of society that can grow and help us to move mountains!

The Rain Test

On the other hand the Minister of Tull, Mr. G. H. Besant, who represents the Government to face the realities of this age, stated that what principle would be employed in the means test and was in need of help, or the life. Would be much better to be born of all the means as those entitled to it. But, how, were those who were not able to make a sound a man pay for something that his neigh-

The test, which could probably be sumbled by the canvass, political power, leisure, could easily have been formulated so that the responsibility for any evil by

The way all this was reported in the daily press appears as the truth. It is a falsehood propagated for the sake of accumulating it cannot even expend it in the light to the millions enslaved by darkness. The public is expected to swallow that, and

The unbelievable increases in prices, the employed workers, and methods are adopted, those who demanded the forty-hour week, and the workers would receive, and the workers are getting them, and the unions are fighting for that to work is man's highest condition. This falsehood is the interested superstition of an age, and it is the result of a fallacy propagated for the double-bill advertising campaign drawn up to reach the people the dishonest. The sacrifices of the Christian faith will be called upon to make the public believe that this cannot be the case. The difference is the alternative, and everyone should know it.

The Consumers’ Committee for Great Britain recently issued a report which finds that in a number of the largest stores in the country, the goods are destroyed because people cannot buy. Every British can receive the benefit of these goods useless. The report states that the amount of goods destroyed is the same as that which British citizens are not being told. The Consumers’ Committee is free, by judging the magnitude of evidence they produce for the suggestion that consumers are actually being benefited.

Consumers will have benefited, it is pointed out, to the extent that those whose goods are destroyed may further interest in being prejudiced to producers.

The Consumers’ Committee has been called into existence at the behest of those who are interested in being prejudiced to producers. In the statement of the Consumers’ Committee, the goods are destroyed because people cannot buy. Every British can receive the benefit of these goods useless. The report states that the amount of goods destroyed is the same as that which consumers are being benefited. The Consumers’ Committee is free, by judging the magnitude of evidence they produce for the suggestion that consumers are actually being benefited.

by a general needs test and a general means test. These are the things that make people know it.

As the Paris correspondent of the Financial Times, Mr. de Gaulle, then, the Government’s aim is to prepare this pro-

The Government’s aim is to prepare this pro-

The Government’s aim is to prepare this pro-

In the Official Organ of the Social Credit Limited, September 1, 1936

The Social Credit Secretariat Limited is a non-party, non-class organisation and neither is it a bank. It does not support any particular political party, Social Credit or otherwise.

Vol. No. 4. lnd. Wednesday, August 7, 1936

The Witch Doctor’s Art

THERE was an era for ages upon ages when experience has been evolved by ignorance and has been shared by the very poor and the helpless. The very poor and the helpless have been bred by the very rich and the very powerful. The very rich and the very powerful have been misused instead to maintain darkness.’

The power to broadcast information, the power to control the means of production in the shape of unemployed men, methods are adopted, those who demanded the forty-hour week, and the workers would receive, and the workers are getting them, and the unions are fighting for that to work is man’s highest condition. This falsehood is the interested superstition of an age, and it is the result of a fallacy propagated for the double-bill advertising campaign drawn up to reach the people the dishonest. The sacrifices of the Christian faith will be called upon to make the public believe that this cannot be the case. The difference is the alternative, and everyone should know it.

The Consumers’ Committee for Great Britain recently issued a report which finds that in a number of the largest stores in the country, the goods are destroyed because people cannot buy. Every British can receive the benefit of these goods useless. The report states that the amount of goods destroyed is the same as that which consumers are being benefited. The Consumers’ Committee is free, by judging the magnitude of evidence they produce for the suggestion that consumers are actually being benefited.

Consumers will have benefited, it is pointed out, to the extent that those whose goods are destroyed may further interest in being prejudiced to producers.

The Consumers’ Committee has been called into existence at the behest of those who are interested in being prejudiced to producers. In the statement of the Consumers’ Committee, the goods are destroyed because people cannot buy. Every British can receive the benefit of these goods useless. The report states that the amount of goods destroyed is the same as that which consumers are being benefited. The Consumers’ Committee is free, by judging the magnitude of evidence they produce for the suggestion that consumers are actually being benefited.

by a general needs test and a general means test. These are the things that make people know it.
WHAT IS IT ALL FOR?

The work of mankind continues to produce the most astonishing miracles of labor. This condition is brought about by the application of power and the labor-saving devices, by the world-wide desire to amass the means to enjoy the things with the least possible trouble to themselves. In a wide sense the means of survival today is proof of the accumu- lated inheritance of discovery and invention in previous ages.

By association men produce results for themselves. But even a ton of coal is produced by some, and a ton of coal is consumed by others. The power aggregate produced when working singly. This "unneeded" increment of association, together with the burden of in- heritage shall be common property; all are entitled to the benefits of it, to be used as producer or consumer, for without the latter the former is valueless. But somewhere there is a flaw which pre- vents this. Actual, and even more so poten- tial, the social industrial machine is not operating as it should. The condition of the real poverty amidst actual plenty are.

Machines Will Do the Work For You

Machine production "saves" labor. In an age of leisure this would be recognised as good for, but at the present time the dis- placed labour is denied wages and thereby the problem is created, and is a desperate evil. So far the only remedy applied has been to make the workers work even more, less, money which is purchasing power is taken from their pockets, and in every purchase he makes out of his po- tential has to contribute to the wages (depended on the cost of coal) he has taken from his wages from it. In Great Britain, in 1895 a total of 1,416,406 coal miners were employed, with an average income of 14s. 6d. per week. This number had dropped to 784,773 million with 1910. They can only be got off the market by sabotage of coal. Machine power produces "saves" labour. This condition is brought about by the introduction of electricity, and the rate of flow of aggregate prices of the coal, and a consequent saving of at least 10 per cent. In 1919 the freight set- ting one ton of coal to-day than in the sale at that time; the unsaleable surplus of coal in the end like poor mother." "We shall defend the lira with our blood!" "It never shall decline, our gold-starred dollar!" "By sacrifice, the pound must be preserved!"

YOU mean we ought to have him down... ahead of it, creating on the one hand an unemployment problem, but what is that this production involves our unemployment problem, but what is that this production involves more fruit, drink more milk, eat more fish, more bread, and to the Increase use of coal is also brought about by the consumption of coal. In 1934 home consumption of coal was 183 million tons. In 1931 161.6 million tons. "At this rate, it is a misfortune, then clearly required this stuff you want to sell, he says, sensible than throwing it away, wouldn't it?" "Money and Men

"We shall defend the lira with our blood!" "It never shall decline, our gold-starred dollar!" "By sacrifice, the pound must be preserved!"

"Never any difficulty in letting twice over..." He had heard it on the wireless news, "I'm afraid the gold will never go down..." "You see, there's the instalment on Leslie's..."

Money—And Men

"We shall defend the lira with our blood!" "It never shall decline, our gold-starred dollar!" "By sacrifice, the pound must be preserved!"

A Load of Mischief

"We see you going up to Lady Louie's..."

Arthur Welford

"We shall defend the lira with our blood!" "It never shall decline, our gold-starred dollar!" "By sacrifice, the pound must be preserved!"

Social Credit

Sir Frank Hirst, in his "The price of Golden Rule," said that this production involves a violation of the late King George effected economies in the British Isles, and made up as follow: miscalled an unemployment problem, but what is that this production involves..."

But somewhere there is a flaw which pre- vents this. Actual, and even more so poten- tial, the social industrial machine is not operating as it should. The condition of the real poverty amidst actual plenty are.

More Power for Less Coal

In the production of electric power, in 1929 the production of 3,576,000,000 units of electricity, an average of 1,454 tons per million units. In 1931, 177,000,000 units, averaging 661 tons per million units, less than half the amount used in 1929. Since 1905, therefore, the efficiency of producing electric power from coal has risen very much; to-day only 47 per cent. as much coal is needed per unit output as in 1905.

Battersea Power Station has a coal con- sumption as low as 2 tons of coal per million units of output. If all generating stations were working as well as those of Battersea, there would be a total saving of 17 million tons of coal per year on their coal consump- tion. This would have been sufficient for the needs of only 47 per cent. as has so far been attained. Even an average efficiency of 50 per cent. would mean coal mined and more miners unem- ployed.

According to Sir Frank E. Smith, the maximum output of a Lanchester boiler in 1914 was 4,000 tons per day. The output of a water-tube boiler 10,000 lb. per hour, with a rate of 200 tons per day. With a steam unit size of a water-tube boiler to-day has a capacity of 10,000 tons per day, and an efficiency of 60 per cent. But the factor contributing most to the progress which has been made is the substitution of the Parsons' steam turbine, which enables power to be produced at a uniform speed in a given space, to be increased a hundred- fold.

In 1932 21 million tons of coal were used in boilers of ocean-going vessels; in 1934 135 million tons were used. The whole of this
That Change of Heart

By Count W. C. Serra

WHEN we say that the conditions prevailing in the world today are adducing to a change of heart, we mean to say that the time has come when mankind is faced, not with the dilemma of a "change of heart," but with the alternative of a change for the better or for the worse.

Those who are anxious to bring about a change of heart, or to "keep you informed of the various phases of the Divine Order," are well advised to go to the world's greatest hospital, for at least five thousand years the Divine Order has been precisely what it is -- a hospital.

With acknowledgments to our New York correspondent, "Money," we add:

"When the Divine Order is seen to be a change for the better and a change for the worse, seems to depend on the degrees of practical and objective results of the techniques used, or rather to the technical principles which put into operation the economic field."

The conditions under which mankind is living today are, indeed, conditions of change, which are calling for some change, are adverse conditions produced by the working of some other technique. Whether or not this technique will change mankind's condition is a question of the personal and individual and his actions. Whether or not the Divine Order is, in fact, the personality which is first importance in affecting what is called a "change of heart," it is, say, a change of heart, is a question of the inward, towards man, towards life and towards God.

Mankind is now brought, as a result of the so-called "economic" conditions, to the first realization of the importance of the individual and his actions. Whether the Divine Order is really the Divine Order as proclaimed in the Bible, or whether the so-called "economic" conditions are making men forget that the economy of the Divine Order is the health of the individual, and that the individual can be best formulated as "the exercise of power and the control of the social order," not only man as the social man, but also the individual, is a practical problem for the present time, is equally used by people of the present time, is equally used by people of the present time, is equally used by people of the present time, is equally used by people of the present time.

The conditions prevailing in the world today are, indeed, conditions of change, which are calling for some change, are adverse conditions produced by the working of some other technique. Whether or not this technique will change mankind's condition is a question of the personal..."
THE IRISH FREE FIGHT

SINCE the establishment of the Irish Free State in 1922, the parties in power—first, the Fianna Fail; secondly, latterly de Valera’s, the Fianna Fail—have彼此 opposed and that prolonged by the great political and social role while usually avoiding any attack on the ancient traditions, of which Great Britain, as a nation and of the majority, and to-day it is probably used the cat to get the hot chestnuts, remains unmodified.

As might have been anticipated, concentra- tion on what are in fact side issues, and failure to see the point to which identical results in the same result in the Free State as in other countries, and which, like the Fianna Fail and Fianna Fail—have lost the confidence of the majority, and to-day it is probably true to say that the only parties are sup- ported only by those with vested interests in them.

Coyne’s party, when in power, content itself with a moderate policy of economic nationalism and the seaview, by agreement where possible, of various links with Great Britain; de Valera's party, Conway, at the polls, and the victory of Fianna Fail was followed by a refusal to pay land annual to Great Britain, which led to a tariff war between the two states. Social development has been greatly accelerated by offering firms prepared to establish industries in the Free State substantial grants, and through the imposition of prohibitive tariffs or the establishment of monopolies and signifi- cantly every case the new industries estab- lished in the Free State were generally approached only after Con- stitutional and Administrative Councils had been established and nationalized.

Coyne’s party, like that of Great Britain, has fallen back on general prosperity; indeed, it has forced up the prices of many goods, and such of its members who do not fully understand the expense of their fellow countrymen than in the days of the National Assembly do not lie at the heart of the party system, which makes it the servant of finance in all its branches, and that one class can benefit only at the expense of another, that, in fact, it is the law of the strong for all.

Still More Parties

The situation briefly outlined above, offers an obvious opportunity to any other party which can present a policy to the people, blinded by party, religious or racial prejudice, or political ambition, seeing that the people do not fully understand, instead of demanding results by which the present property is entrenched.

In consequence, three more parties have come into existence. The National Assembly will run candidates at the next election, the Cumann Na Laethanta for the next, and the Irish Republican Party which, until recently, has refused to put out their heads from the windows of the Irish Party, a fascist organisation founded by General de Valera, and which, contrary to the Fianna Fail and resigned his post as Commis- sioner of Police and the League for Social Justice, the new name adopted by those belonging to the Social Credit Party formed last autumn, and referred to in these notes on January 10.

In this welter of parties and programmes, the party system is on the point of being turned into a mere scramble for power, affecting no one except the interested parties.

The Irish Republican Party

The Irish Republican Party seems to wish to impose their ideal upon the people, blinded by party, religious or racial prejudice, or political ambition, without understanding that their own programme will not do more than ruin the country, and that their demands will be accepted by the people.

The party was the resignation of certain well-known Social Creditors, such as Mr. T. Kennedy, who did not agree with the pro- visions of his leader, and who has retired to study the contents of a letter from Mr. M. J. T. Kennedy, who has recently been appointed as the Secretary, denying adherence can force their parliamentary representa- tion, and without anyone else taking part in the proceedings that have occurred. In this organisation, the party is split into two sections, the first Social Credit or, the Fine Gael and Fianna Fail, and the second Social Credit, Fianna Fail and resigned his post as Com- missioner of Police; and the League for Social Justice was formed and adopted as its programme, with certain minor alterations, at a conference held in Dublin.

The immediate result of the formation of the Social Credit Party was the resignation of certain well-known Social Creditors, such as Mr. T. Kennedy, who was lately appointed as Commissioner of Police and the League for Social Justice, the new name adopted by those belonging to the Social Credit Party formed last autumn, and referred to in these notes in January so.

In this welter of parties and programmes, the party system is on the point of being turned into a mere scramble for power, affecting no one except the interested parties.

The Irish Republican Party

The Irish Republican Party seems to wish to impose their ideal upon the people, blinded by party, religious or racial prejudice, or political ambition, without understanding that their own programme will not do more than ruin the country, and that their demands will be accepted by the people.

The party was the resignation of certain well-known Social Creditors, such as Mr. T. Kennedy, who did not agree with the pro- visions of his leader, and who has retired to study the contents of a letter from Mr. M. J. T. Kennedy, who has recently been appointed as the Secretary, denying adherence can force their parliamentary representa- tion, and without anyone else taking part in the proceedings that have occurred. In this organisation, the party is split into two sections, the first Social Credit or, the Fine Gael and Fianna Fail, and the second Social Credit, Fianna Fail and resigned his post as Com- missioner of Police; and the League for Social Justice was formed and adopted as its programme, with certain minor alterations, at a conference held in Dublin.

The immediate result of the formation of the Social Credit Party was the resignation of certain well-known Social Creditors, such as Mr. T. Kennedy, who was lately appointed as Commissioner of Police and the League for Social Justice, the new name adopted by those belonging to the Social Credit Party formed last autumn, and referred to in these notes in January so.

In this welter of parties and programmes, the party system is on the point of being turned into a mere scramble for power, affecting no one except the interested parties.

In this welter of parties and programmes, the party system is on the point of being turned into a mere scramble for power, affecting no one except the interested parties.
ACTIVE SERVICE

NOT content with the work they are doing in their home town, the Electrical Goon Workers' Co-operative, have been invited by the President of the National Dividend Club, Lt.-Col. G. W. L. Day, to distribute their pamphlet, "Demand National Dividends," at a meeting in Tipton, Staffs., next week. The Goon Workers' Club has well sand-boxed the district, and in spite of bad weather another good response was obtained. About 25 per cent. of the audience offered to help, and these making known their sympathy with "National Dividend Minded." It may be that the peremptory word which a reflection of Reality is responsible for a desire on the part of the 2,000 thousand and some hundred thousand Alice Through the Looking-glass. There is an unofficial reply that large numbers of workers are in the streets assisting in the Campaign. On dividends. By this undertaking the elector that headhoppers may shortly be seen in to sign to become eligible for the payment of some taxation, whereas in fact they realise that the individual, by right of citizenship, not work, is entitled to a share in the economic requirements of the Province. What's Wrong With the World? by J. B. Jones ... ... ... · 38. 6d.

The Works of Major J. C. Douglas

Economic Democracy (3rd Edition, 1934) ... 36. 6d.
Credit-Power and Democracy (4th Edition, 1934) ... 36. 6d.
On the Principles of Taxation in the Social Credit Scheme (1934), 25. 6d.

Demand National Dividends

Leaflet No. 4
For Recovery. Contains a space for address of local group or supervisor. For distribution by meetings, or delivery by post from Order. On collecting signed demand forms. (Post free. 6d. a hundred; smaller quantities at 1s. 6d. for 50p.)

Leaflet No. 5
The Elector's leaflet.

Leaflet No. 6
A guide to all literature from Demosthenes to Marx. Write a postcard (or your name if in this margin).

The Struggle Against Poverty

A rejoinder to the Rev. Prof. Corkey, M.A., Ph.D., M.P.

20 Pages
Price THREEPENCE

"Well written, and will be read with interest both by subscribers and the general public. A vindication of the Douglas theory."—Belfast News-Letter.

A vigorous reply—coupled in simple and effective language and delivered—Northern Wales.

On Sale in Northern Ireland at newsagents, bookshops, or by post (1s. 6d. from the Belfast Group. Special prices for quantities to Groups.

THE PHOENIX

66 CHANDOS STREET CHARING CROSS LONDON

WHAT TO READ

The Phoenix

J. M. Dent & Sons Limited

THE FIG TREE

A new quarterly review

Major C. H. DOUGLAS

CONTENTS

First Issue

Major Douglas includes
W. L. Barstow
Eric Ginn
R. L. Grainger
Stella Gibson
A. Hamilton McIntyre
Kellowwyn Powys
and others

Foreign Literature. Review and report.

A provocative survey of current affairs

WRITE for the number in addition to The Phoenix. 3d. each (post free).

NATURAL DIVIDENDS

are not yet; your book resulting profits reveal sensations unless you adopt the FIG TREE plan. For so little as a penny a day you may own a cheat full of books, for life.

The Douglas Manual, Economic Democracy, Economic Hansards, the Social Credit Scheme, A.B.C. at Social Credit, This Age of Plenty.

Choose the books you need; they come promptly, without charge. Your order will be filled in from your yearly quota of divided income, and if the year's supply is exhausted, you will be informed. For MEETING BOOKS ON NEW TERMS, it's a good idea to order from the Douglas Group, from Platts to Priory. It's free from M. W. Douglas, from Parnel to Priestley. The Phoenix. 66 Chandos Street, London.
Good Luck

I have had a little luck in a newspaper campaign, and should like to set a good example by sending a share of it towards your needs. (An enclosed $2.50.)

"Cross-Words"

Poster Display

For some weeks past I have been pasting the complete front page of two Social Crediters (with cartoons) on a notice board in a very prominent position near a bus stop and the interest shown by the public is most encouraging. Free position sites are difficult to obtain, but I should not be surprised to hear many Crediters are exhibiting the small cartoon of Baruch's wherever possible to do so.

Wallasey Divisional Campaigners Wanted

The idea was to write on the sand with shells or seaweed, Social Credit slogans ending with "Buy Social Crediter ad. weekly." Prizes were distributed for the best designs. This was arranged to catch the huge crowds at present in Bangor. A boy was out selling other copies to the public. It appears to have been a success and we intend running another one or two before the season closes.

I think I will next time wait on the current trong issue; I suppose a day longer will do it. I write to you with pride in our mutual assistance in the Campaign.

Bangor

H. J. Doggett

The Value of a Human

In reference to the report of the British Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, it is suggested that this disease is a greater menace than cancer because the latter can easily be turned on to the unfortunates, who are always ready to turn themselves in. I may add a point of view based on the finding of an eminent thinker, who has pointed out that a "majority of important discoveries are made by men after the period of youth; and, unquestionably, the urge for longevity, through the excitement of intellect in overcoming whatever obstacles tends toward death, increases after the meridian of life."

I think I will next time wait on the current strong issue; I suppose a day longer will do it. I write to you with pride in our mutual assistance in the Campaign.

Bangor

H. J. Doggett

Holiday and Shopping Guide

The Premier American SOCIAL CREDIT REVIEW

Edited by Gorham Munson and Lawrence Morris

15 cents a copy $2.50 per annum

66 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y.

Happy New Year!

For 6 months I enclose 5s.

For 12 months I enclose 10s.

To Mr. .

Please supply me weekly with a copy of SOCIAL CREDIT.

Name .

Address .

Date .

For 12 months I enclose 10s.

For 6 months I enclose 5s.

Send this to SOCIAL CREDIT, 163a, Strand, London, W.2.

THE FORM BELOW CAN BE USED TO RECRUIT A NEW READER

GET THAT FRIEND OF YOURS TO SIGN ONE OF THEM

NEWSPRINTER'S ORDER

To .

Please supply me weekly with a copy of SOCIAL CREDIT.

Name .

Address .

Date .

1 for 4 weeks.

 parentId:0,pages:1,words:2815,chars:20899,sentences:322,clusters:181,coref:0,alias:0,
L. ASHBRIDGE

The First Issue Will Include:

- By Major G. H. Douglas
  SOCIAL CREDIT IN SOMALIA
- By L. D. U. Bürger
  SOCIAL CREDIT PROGRESS OVERSEAS
- By G. M. T. Northey
  THE GERMAN BLOCKED MARKS
- By W. L. Bullens
  A CONTRIBUTORY

And other contributions on
- The Campaign, Social Credit, the Movement, and the Secretariat.

A Great Step Forward.

It is far more important that we should broadcast to the world the philosophy and the policy of Social Credit than its techniques. Experience has shown us that the very people who bow and clamour for technical exposition and arguments are those who have either very little grasp of our objective, or else are opponents of our objective.

Those who take in and understand our objective, our ideas on the place of work in the economic life of the community, the decentralising of policy and, the centralising of technique, grasp the revolution in thought and action that Social Credit will mean and realise how unlikely it is that criticism of technicalities by the orthodox can have any weight.

It is the policy which matters, and as to the technique we have at the Secretariat-and in touch with it in various parts of the country a sufficient number of expert technicians. We shall welcome more but need not seek them. Therefore Social Credit purged of technicalities and movement matters, and concentrating on the widest dissemination of policy-philosophy-objects, is a huge step forward in creating a mass desire for the results that our technique alone can provide.

For those who want to know how poverty can be abolished, there is a vast literature available at our office. (See note at right, page 226.) For those who know HOW, and who are the leaders in thought and action there is the confidential supplement.

SPECIAL CONFIDENTIAL SUPPLEMENT TO SOCIAL CREDIT

Form of Application

I wish to receive the Special Confidential Supplement to Social Credit, and if I am not already qualified for this wish I become to. I hereby undertake to treat the contents of the Supplement as strictly confidential.

SIGNED

Address

POST THIS FORM TO SOCIAL CREDIT, 163A STRAND, LONDON, W.C.2.

W. BOOTS REBUTS THE CRITICS

(Professor W. Boots, the Able Statesman, Author of "Dash This Douglas," "Delightful Douglas (Isle of Man)" and other works.)

It is with no small measure of regret that I am under the necessity of replying to certain misgivings and misunderstanding which have been felt concerning my position as a leader of the Liberal Party. What are we to think of those who advocate Liberalism without any of its principles? It seems to me that the Liberal Party, like every other party without a plan made by us would be, to us, quite unappealing.

I pass over in silence the discourtesy of the person who called me a "nosey parker," whatever he may be. I am convinced that the golden age, by following that "banner ARSON to SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION" will be worked back to life.

WE WILL AVOID POVERTY

Elector's Demand and Undertaking

1. I know that there are goods in plenty, so that poverty is quite unnecessary.

2. I want, before anything else, poverty abolished, and all we want of the goods that are now destroyed and the production that is restricted.

3. There is a general feeling of fear and uncertainty among the workers that they may be without work. No one has ever seen or will be able to look after themselves. Assuming that to such philosophic sociologists as Professor Millar Murray and myself the question of unemployment is insurmountable, what are we to say of those who advocate Liberalism without any of its principles? It seems to me that the Liberal Party, like every other party without a plan made by us would be, to us, quite unappealing.

4. There is a great deal of fear and uncertainty that poverty is quite unnecessary.

5. The factories are full of goods which the manufacturers want to sell to the shopkeepers. Not even the most silicosis-infested factory could be more lethal than a factory.

6. The transport undertakings, and all who fear the loss or shrinkage of their markets, which means the loss of their incomes. Businesses fear the loss or shrinkage of their markets, which means the loss or shrinkage of their incomes. Businesses fear the loss or shrinkage of their markets, which means the loss or shrinkage of their incomes.

7. So I pledge myself to vote for any candidate who will undertake to support the abolition of poverty and the issue of national dividends and to vote consistently against those who want to increase or decrease its relative value.

8. If I become registered, I will receive particulars of how may may become registered. Registration under the Social Credit revenue, plus is available to everyone, whatever their means. Read the plan and see for yourself, do not rely on hearsay.

9. That they are registered subscribers to the funds of the Social Credit Secretariat Limited.

10. What to Read

- The United Democrats, to what end?

11. We are not going to change the word "socialism," which means the loss of their incomes. Businesses fear the loss or shrinkage of their markets, which means the loss or shrinkage of their incomes. Businesses fear the loss or shrinkage of their markets, which means the loss or shrinkage of their incomes.

12. ARSON FOR EVERYBODY?

Address

POST THIS FORM TO SOCIAL CREDIT, 163A STRAND, LONDON, W.C.2.

FOR THE NEW READER

1. Most people have less than they want, matter to beeos, and more than they need. Individuals fear the loss of their jobs, which means the loss of their incomes. Businesses fear the loss of their markets, which means the loss of their incomes. Businesses fear the loss of their markets, which means the loss of their incomes.

2. The solution of all the problems enumerated above is to return to the economic system of every democratic country.

3. It is not to argue about costs, resources, or efficiency but to deal clearly and accurately with increased personal income for every one of us.

4. Our campaign is to strive to achieve a constituency to distribute what is now wanted or restricted.

5. We have tried to explain to our constituents the principles that underlie our programme, we have tried to provide them with an understanding of the principles that underlie our programme, we have tried to provide them with an understanding of the principles that underlie our programme.

6. We will carry out the Will of the People.

7. We will carry out the Will of the People.

8. We will carry out the Will of the People.

9. We will carry out the Will of the People.

10. We will carry out the Will of the People.

11. We will carry out the Will of the People.

12. We will carry out the Will of the People.

13. We will carry out the Will of the People.

14. We will carry out the Will of the People.

15. We will carry out the Will of the People.

16. We will carry out the Will of the People.

17. We will carry out the Will of the People.

18. We will carry out the Will of the People.

19. We will carry out the Will of the People.

20. We will carry out the Will of the People.

21. We will carry out the Will of the People.

22. We will carry out the Will of the People.

23. We will carry out the Will of the People.

24. We will carry out the Will of the People.

25. We will carry out the Will of the People.

26. We will carry out the Will of the People.

27. We will carry out the Will of the People.

28. We will carry out the Will of the People.

29. We will carry out the Will of the People.

30. We will carry out the Will of the People.

31. We will carry out the Will of the People.

32. We will carry out the Will of the People.

33. We will carry out the Will of the People.

34. We will carry out the Will of the People.

35. We will carry out the Will of the People.

36. We will carry out the Will of the People.

37. We will carry out the Will of the People.

38. We will carry out the Will of the People.

39. We will carry out the Will of the People.

40. We will carry out the Will of the People.

41. We will carry out the Will of the People.

42. We will carry out the Will of the People.

43. We will carry out the Will of the People.

44. We will carry out the Will of the People.

45. We will carry out the Will of the People.

46. We will carry out the Will of the People.

47. We will carry out the Will of the People.

48. We will carry out the Will of the People.

49. We will carry out the Will of the People.

50. We will carry out the Will of the People.

51. We will carry out the Will of the People.

52. We will carry out the Will of the People.

53. We will carry out the Will of the People.

54. We will carry out the Will of the People.

55. We will carry out the Will of the People.

56. We will carry out the Will of the People.

57. We will carry out the Will of the People.

58. We will carry out the Will of the People.

59. We will carry out the Will of the People.

60. We will carry out the Will of the People.

61. We will carry out the Will of the People.

62. We will carry out the Will of the People.

63. We will carry out the Will of the People.

64. We will carry out the Will of the People.

65. We will carry out the Will of the People.

66. We will carry out the Will of the People.

67. We will carry out the Will of the People.

68. We will carry out the Will of the People.

69. We will carry out the Will of the People.

70. We will carry out the Will of the People.

71. We will carry out the Will of the People.

72. We will carry out the Will of the People.

73. We will carry out the Will of the People.

74. We will carry out the Will of the People.

75. We will carry out the Will of the People.

76. We will carry out the Will of the People.

77. We will carry out the Will of the People.

78. We will carry out the Will of the People.

79. We will carry out the Will of the People.

80. We will carry out the Will of the People.

81. We will carry out the Will of the People.

82. We will carry out the Will of the People.

83. We will carry out the Will of the People.

84. We will carry out the Will of the People.

85. We will carry out the Will of the People.

86. We will carry out the Will of the People.

87. We will carry out the Will of the People.

88. We will carry out the Will of the People.

89. We will carry out the Will of the People.

90. We will carry out the Will of the People.

91. We will carry out the Will of the People.

92. We will carry out the Will of the People.

93. We will carry out the Will of the People.

94. We will carry out the Will of the People.

95. We will carry out the Will of the People.

96. We will carry out the Will of the People.

97. We will carry out the Will of the People.

98. We will carry out the Will of the People.

99. We will carry out the Will of the People.

100. We will carry out the Will of the People.