ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY ECHOES MAJOR DOUGLAS WHO TELLS US HOW WE CAN ACT

"The civilisation which we thought was so secure is cracking in its very foundations. We see things happening in civilised Europe today that recall the first phase of the Dark Ages."

"When we see Christian people being taught to accustom themselves to the idea that it is through war that their strength is being tested, and when in place of God dethroned there are enthroned new gods of race, you must needs realise that this civilisation holds nothing in itself by which it can achieve its own salvation."

SO said the Archbishop of Canterbury last Sunday, and followed it up on Monday with this : "The use of force of the sword by the State is the ministry of God for the protection of the people.

"If that is true of the State in its domestic relations, it is equally true for the State in its international relations ... It almost seems as if some malady of madness is affecting Europe, with which we are so closely bound."

Oh, Hear the Warning!

We make no apology for repeating the terrible warning and the urgent call to action which Major C. H. Douglas made in March, and which we published last week. He said:

"I cannot see, short of the intervention of a higher power, any human possibility of avoiding another great world conflagration. Whether any considerable proportion of civilisation will survive only time will show, but I do not believe that work will be lost."

"The crawler who holds the bank is inveigling us to play. "Red or Black, gentlemen, the game is with you." Beware his knavish tricks. He is asking you to choose between hanging and boiling in oil. Choose Life!"

"If you choose the Red or the Black, it is immaterial to the power-hungry demons who are fomenting this terror, and supplying it with money and guns."

"Remember what the Great War cost in money? Well, the Spanish war is not being fought without money."

"The financial wire-pullers will dress up their dictatorship in Red or in Black. They do not care. But THE PEOPLE will be the slaves — bond slaves.

Even Now — Action

There is not much time left. Those who see the danger and do not act carry a fearful load of responsibility.

"Let everybody help. There is a campaign of action under way, to mobilise the WILL OF THE PEOPLE against the Father of Lies. Join that campaign today."

Ventriloquist to Dummy, "Whatever you tell me to do, I'll do it, just as if I had to."

COTTON ASKS "WHY?"

THE currency agreement is a step towards complete control of the world through finance. We showed it up a fortnight ago as a plot which has been hatching for years.

A week week we gave attention to the insolent claim of Mr. Montagu Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, to be above the law. The Lancashire cotton trade evidently agrees that our strong comments were justified. In an article in the Manchester Guardian Commercial for October 9, Mr. W. M. Wiggins, writing as Chairman of the Ministry of Defence Committee of Master Cotton Spinners' Associations, Ltd., makes a blistering attack on the dictatorship of finance. Following extracts show:

That monetary policy exerts a deterrent influence over the life of the people is now generally appreciated. Those, especially, who depend upon depressed basic industries are therefore anxiously inquiring how these new regulations will affect their industries and themselves. The prospects for the Lancashire cotton industry are our own special concern. We, however, are also among those who largely identify their hopes for world revival and pacification with monetary remedies; and we are anxious also on this score.

Lenders versus Borrowers

The supreme conflict of interests in monetary control is not among the several nations of the world, but universal and irrespective of all national boundaries, between the lenders and the borrowers of money — and the lenders keep the borrowers occupied in mutual strife.

Monetary controllers, as is now conclusively proved, have been ready to sacrifice everything conducive to world prosperity and peace to their own disinterested devotion to gold standards. Though confusing now even to "disinterested" minds, the same monetary authorities are still in power ...

War Necessary

True, the probability of war means a temporary stimulus through abnormal expenditure on armaments for war industries, but not for peace industries. Again, the actual outbreak of war will release vast gold hoards and further the situation. Nothing short of condemnation of a monetary system can be said, however, than that it requires the probability or the outbreak of war to perform its functions of industrial recovery and the re-employment of our people. (Our italics.)

The Final Decision

It is fortunate in these circumstancers that this is still a democratic country. The final decision rests with our own people and our own Parliament. While we have often been overreached by our monetary controllers in the past, we look to our Members of Parliament that they do not permit this to occur again.

Here is a call for Lancashire readers to enlist new allies for the Electoral Campaign.

IN THIS ISSUE

The Norman Conquest - - - .... 75
Problems of Prosperity - - - 76
How Much Will You Put Up With? 77
Another Doctor's Dilemma - - - - 78

COTTON ASKS "WHY?"

THE currency agreement is a step towards complete control of the world through finance. We showed it up a fortnight ago as a plot which has been hatching for years.

A week week we gave attention to the insolent claim of Mr. Montagu Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, to be above the law. The Lancashire cotton trade evidently agrees that our strong comments were justified. In an article in the Manchester Guardian Commercial for October 9, Mr. W. M. Wiggins, writing as Chairman of the Ministry of Defence Committee of Master Cotton Spinners' Associations, Ltd., makes a blistering attack on the dictatorship of finance. Following extracts show:

That monetary policy exerts a deterrent influence over the life of the people is now generally appreciated. Those, especially, who depend upon depressed basic industries are therefore anxiously inquiring how these new regulations will affect their industries and themselves. The prospects for the Lancashire cotton industry are our own special concern. We, however, are also among those who largely identify their hopes for world revival and pacification with monetary remedies; and we are anxious also on this score.

Lenders versus Borrowers

The supreme conflict of interests in monetary control is not among the several nations of the world, but universal and irrespective of all national boundaries, between the lenders and the borrowers of money — and the lenders keep the borrowers occupied in mutual strife.

Monetary controllers, as is now conclusively proved, have been ready to sacrifice everything conducive to world prosperity and peace to their own disinterested devotion to gold standards. Though confusing now even to "disinterested" minds, the same monetary authorities are still in power ...

War Necessary

True, the probability of war means a temporary stimulus through abnormal expenditure on armaments for war industries, but not for peace industries. Again, the actual outbreak of war will release vast gold hoards and further the situation. Nothing short of condemnation of a monetary system can be said, however, than that it requires the probability or the outbreak of war to perform its functions of industrial recovery and the re-employment of our people. (Our italics.)

The Final Decision

It is fortunate in these circumstancers that this is still a democratic country. The final decision rests with our own people and our own Parliament. While we have often been overreached by our monetary controllers in the past, we look to our Members of Parliament that they do not permit this to occur again.

Here is a call for Lancashire readers to enlist new allies for the Electoral Campaign.

IN THIS ISSUE

The Norman Conquest - - - .... 75
Problems of Prosperity - - - 76
How Much Will You Put Up With? 77
Another Doctor's Dilemma - - - - 78
What It Means to You

Before you were born it cost you a lot of money to get here. In the process of your coming, afterwards they spent money on you, in the protection of your life, in clothing, shelter, education, travel, amusement—on licensing all of which you have to be responsible now you are moneyed on these things.

There is nothing at all you can do without it. Your outside world is so constructed that it buys the things which without it is impossible to buy anything. All the money has to be arranged for by experts, just as all the money is to be arranged for by you and all the other things which are organized in the modern world. Moreover, 13,000,000 people take it. It is very important to you that these things should be well arranged. You are responsible for it. Wrong decisions cause a vast of inconvenience, worry, delay and trouble. They often cause what may be so wrong that—look at the suicide chart on the inside of the back cover. For example:

The Commonwealth, which consisted mainly of bankers, and a Treasury official, had to take decisions about unemployment. It meant, however, enhancement of the Unemployment Insurance Fund, and the Commonwealth of Australia Taxation figures in a ledger may be corrected, and the quantities of goods is being restricted. Care should be taken to confess. The descendants of some kings, who have received notice not to pay any money to the revenue, are in arrears, and every time man or wife spends 2½d. some of that little sum goes in taxes.

The Inquisition Invents Another

The late Sir Thomas de Togumomaca,...

There is nothing at all you can do with-it. All the money has to be arranged for by experts, and the expense of buying these things is being arranged by experts. The money will be arranged for by you and all the other things which are organized in the modern world. Moreover, 13,000,000 people take it. It is very important to you that these things should be well arranged. You are responsible for it. Wrong decisions cause a vast of inconvenience, worry, delay and trouble. They often cause what may be so wrong that—look at the suicide chart on the inside of the back cover. For example:

The Commonwealth, which consisted mainly of bankers, and a Treasury official, had to take decisions about unemployment. It meant, however, enhancement of the Unemployment Insurance Fund, and the Commonwealth of Australia Taxation figures in a ledger may be corrected, and the quantities of goods is being restricted. Care should be taken to confess. The descendants of some kings, who have received notice not to pay any money to the revenue, are in arrears, and every time man or wife spends 2½d. some of that little sum goes in taxes.

The Inquisition Invents Another

The late Sir Thomas de Togumomaca,...
The cruel policy forced on the country by the Bank of England has been followed by the ruin of British businesses and the slaughter of British citizens by slow starvation, or, in desperation, by their own hands.

The plans for the strangulation of British trade, and the terrible ordeal of the people portrayed in the suicide chart and the diagrams of death illustrated on this page, materialized after the Cunliffe Report, which Montagu Norman, a hitherto unknown banker, trained in the U.S.A., was afraid to come out.

For the most part the words of well-known men suffice to tell the story.

Realsim

Majord Douglas has said: "It is Results, as measured by human satisfaction, or lack of it, that are important. Dictatorships either of the proletariat or the banker are abominable and in essence similar. Both are slavery more or less concealed and both almost equally distort and pervert industry and economic work, or employment, into the chief object of existence in order that the slavery they desire may be perpetuated.

"It is subordination to a system that is desired. Results to our moulders of thought and action are to be measured in abstractions such as balanced budgets, monetary profits, increased trade. Human statistics are, it is true valuable to insurance companies as a guide for the assessment of premiums on a profitable basis, but it’s your money we want."

Abstractionism

Let us now observe how, at the Lord Mayor’s Banquet, the Chancellor of the Exchequer and the Governor of the Bank of England, the alleged Tweedle-dum and Tweedledee of high finance, bear out this accusation.

"The discount markets are in a sorry state, and the consequence is that all our markets are too high. In the present instance, where we have found previously unemployed individuals expressly appointed and busy generally for fourteen or sixteen hours a day, in enquiring into how each separate trade and industry in the United States is run and instructed the directors of businesses in that trade how to do it some other way from that which has up till now proved successful. This is not quite so true in regard to finance as it is in regard to other businesses, but it is beginning to be true also in regard to finance."

I have no doubt whatever that that select group of international financiers who desire to rivet the rule of finance upon the world are observing this process with complete satisfaction, and they are using the situation where they have deliberately brought about, and with which governments are ineffectively meddling, to support the idea that the whole cause of the trouble is the meddling in business of governments and government officials who do not understand business. They are using this argument most effectively as an argument for sweeping away that control over their own destinies which peoples, or, if you prefer it, mobs were in process of attaining through the centuries, and substituting a dictatorship which will enthrone an international oligarchy permanently."—Montagu Norman

Evidence

See now how Montagu Norman (a) shows how the Government is getting deeper into debt, (b) meers at the high interest rate experts who try to teach first-rate experts how to run their business, (c) clams equal control with Ministers of State. Mr. Douglas does these three things in the order men- tioned by Major Douglas!

"I do hope, as I know well enough that these bankers alone will be able to expand foreign trade of which the Chancellor has spoken will bring back more proper grist to their mills. These are other changes of course, which have taken place. Not only has the Chancellor’s debt increased largely, not only has his taxation necessarily increased with it, but the restrictions of which both he and Mr. Dixey spoke in foreign currencies—quotas and the rest of them—have all had their repercus sions here, and whereas in the old days the Government in a set of businesses in that trade day were content to leave the bankers and merchants alone to do their business as they thought fit, the Government now, in pursuance of their policy, varying perhaps from day to day, are old enough to intervene in transactions which previously were interesting to them."

Those for whom I speak welcome the freedom which we have in com parison with those in many other markets, but we wish to use that freedom in the only proper way it can be used, and that is in harmony with the Government’s policy. I assure the Committee that the Government was to leave the Government to be used through the appropriate channels which they wish us to do in the furtherance of their policies they will at all times find us willing with good will and loyalty to do what they direct as though it were under your legal compulsion."—Montagu Norman.

What Did Gladstone Say

The struggle has been a long one, with the Bank of England plunged deeper and deeper into debt, and the Bank of England—a sovereign state of its own, fortified and pro visioned for a siege as if in enemy hands. Both Dixey and Gladstone knew its power, and this is what Gladstone really did say, quoted from Montagu Norman’s Life of Gladstone.

"From the time I took office as Chancellor of the Exchequer I began to learn that the State held, in the face of every more independent City, and was in essential false position as to finance. . . . The hinge of the whole situation was this: the Government was to leave the Power supreme and unquestioned. In this I was reluctant to acquiesce, and I began to

The Suicide Chart

"It is poverty and economic insecurity which submits human nature to the greatest strain, a statement which is easily provable by comparing suicide statistics with bankruptcy statistics and business depression."

"Suicides are less in number during wars, not because people like wars, but because there is less money to be had. Suicides are also less in number during booms, for the same reason. Major C. H. Douglas, The Cause of War.

The Death Diagram

Dr. McGonigle’s diagram from his book “Poverty and Public Health."

A Challenge from “The Times”

"After what we have proved regarding the pernicious action of the Bank of England, we may confidently conclude that this country has a remedy at hand, and that present footing must, at the next meeting of Parliament, be declared incapable of managing the more affairs of this great nation. The Bank stands condemned by all the world."—The Times.
Believe it or not, someone is busy writing about the prosperity he has discovered in the Middle East. The great London daily that prints his stuff is even more shocked, so should be enlightened as to the new problems that are being created there.

In paradise, we learn that:

"Emigrants are bottled in their search for work, and thousands of workers will have to be imported from the Middle East."

A big lamp works which will make power possible by eliminating the problems of prosperity! But let them reflect. Prosperity has its problem as well.

"New inventions do not mean that war will be ended, but simply that more people die in order to buy more goods."

The new problem there in the world is not whether there are too many people, but why there are a sufficient number of jobs to keep them all alive.

"The new problem here in the world is not whether there are too many people, but why there are a sufficient number of jobs to keep them all alive."

In Dudley, for instance, there are over 40 unemployed workers for every 100,000 studied. There are even more in places like Dudley, where the greatest era of power and plenty the world has ever known.

But what the popular press serves the unthinking public it supports. And shabbily does Fleet Street mislead the people. They are being hoodwinked from them not only their common sight but also the means of creating it!

I write to all readers in the Campaign Against Poverty and to every imagination of "Prosperity problems" by acting along the lines shown on the back page.

Prosperity has its problems as well as poverty.

There is no juvenile unemployment at all in Walsallhampton. There is, on the other hand, a great demand for child labour, and a local job hunter told me that the real danger here is that parents may be lured into sending their children out to work.

At Walsall, outside the town—the centre of the English coal-fields—is a great shortage of labour. Yet, in Walsall, the youth are of skilled labour, but, on the other hand, if met with the problems of prosperity.

"Prosperity has its problems as well as poverty."

What a mockery of the victims of improved poverty in the midst of the great flood! Power and plenty the world has ever known.

How well the popular press serves the unthinking public it supports. And shabbily does Fleet Street mislead the people.

"Prosperity has its problems as well as poverty."

What a mockery of the victims of improved poverty in the midst of the great flood!

Social Credit

OCTOBER 16, 1936
G. W. L. DAY asks HOW MUCH WILL YOU PUT UP WITH?

SOGNIS are not wanting that the people of this country are growing more and more hostile to dictators.

This country, as everyone is beginning to realise, is heading in a different direction. There is, for instance, the new Social Credit movement.

Now, even if this so-called Popular Front is not the 'Red herring' which is cooked in the fried fish shop, the deep-sea fish in the open sea, it doesn't alter the fact that public opinion is pointing in this direction. What the public thinks and feels is carefully recorded by those who rule us, and we are always something in the public opinion, but at the same time safe for their breakfast order.

There is no sentiment about it. Our fair- men depend entirely upon ourselves. The forces which rule us are anti-social and they give us a choice between a dirty deal as we allow them to give us.

The whole course of our history, therefore, depends upon whether we are prepared to put up with. As this would perpetuate poverty, beggary, hunger, because we are approached by a minority of closed-fisted Pieds-Francais. We all ourselves be killed-stoned and bomb-bossed by false moral arguments which should have decided us.

Nevertheless, there is, I believe, a slow stirring deep down in the nation's cerebral tissues, a sort of faint, hazy suspicion on the part of the whole mass that we are being taken to the cleaners.

So far this has only taken the form of a defensive attitude. We say to ourselves, 'If we give in at all, we will not give in for nothing.'

Yet why not? If we are in a position to drive the rich far we certainly should, and we can certainly advance, and where we are going to advance?

I I,

The enemy in the rear.

The Teashop

Once outside the Tea Shop the little man recovered his spirits. Soon he began to get frightened. He would have liked to have himself done out and put away. Suddenly he turned and went resolutely back into the Tea Shop. He had seen the only way to get what he wanted. He had been told to have it elsewhere.

First he walked round to all the tables and asked the customers if they had anything in their pockets.

Then, without giving the waitresses time to count the money, he took it up to them—there were four of them now, as the little man had been engaged—and shouted, 'Here's your tea.'

Whereupon all the other customers got up and went, saying, 'Here's your tea.'

And WE DON'T GET A DAMN FOR IT, HERE IT IS, AND IT IS WELL COOKED AND SERVED IN TEN MINUTES TIME.'

The waiter replied included: "IF WE DO NOT GET WHAT WE WANT, WE WILL NEVER COME AGAIN, UNLESS MEDITATION TO SACK THE LOT OF YOU.'

The Manager, however, was not impressed, for the Management was entirely kept the staff was sent away.

And they all lived happily ever after.

ARE YOU HEALTH-CONSCIOUS?

Government-sponsored plans to improve the nation's health by providing increased physical training and adequate swimming pools will be announced in the King's Speech, according to Parliamentary sources.

On November 5, the Minister of Health will launch this nationwide "drive" to make the nation fit and the Ministry of Health bring forward its "wellness" campaign.

Under the new programmes, wide powers of the Ministry of Health "health-conscious" millions of half-

THE ENEMY IN THE REAR

I have been living in the army in front of me and the financial institutions in the rear. The trouble is that they are of my greatest foe."—Abraham Lincoln—speech during the American Civil War.
Meetings held fortnightly as follow October 28, Mawson, Sea Breeze, La Moye, Jersey, C.I. Holidays. An autumn holiday of romance and there will be an Open-Air Meeting at 8 p.m. on

Lack of sufficient funds would have saved me. I feel so resolute about my work and money, I have been three years, and my first consideration must be to make the practice pay.

Opposite my house is a tall factory chimney, and there are several in the distance. What matters? I shall have little time for such considerations. To get the work, I'm forced to include in my programme go on from morning till night. When the major part of the debt is paid I may be able to take an assistant. My wife I have to work equally hard—her job will be to make it in true.

Here the mugwump perks up again. He says, "Think of all the good you will be able to do among the working classes." Ah, yes! I had forgotten that for the moment.

This is the sort of thing, no doubt, that I shall say to my panel patients. "My dear young lady, you need a complete change of environment. Go to Torquay for six weeks." Or, "Now, Johnson, the cause of beauty on edge of New Forest. Furnished two storeys, 14 bedrooms, gardens, Upminster, Essex.

For three years. Often I worked hard, too, for I made up my mind to stick to it for three years. Often I had to work hard, too, for I made up my mind to stick it for three years. Often I had to work even harder.

I must write to you at once, just to let off a little steam. I've had to work hard, too, for I made up my mind to stick it for three years. Often I had to work hard, too, for I made up my mind to stick it for three years. Often I had to work even harder.

I worked hard, too, for I made up my mind to stick to it for three years. Often I had to work hard, too, for I made up my mind to stick it for three years. Often I had to work even harder.

I've got one fairly cheaply from a poor devil, has ever sailed from East Anglia. I got one fairly cheaply from a poor devil, has ever sailed from East Anglia. I got one fairly cheaply from a poor devil, has ever sailed from East Anglia.

I've got one fairly cheaply from a poor devil, has ever sailed from East Anglia. I got one fairly cheaply from a poor devil, has ever sailed from East Anglia.

I've got one fairly cheaply from a poor devil, has ever sailed from East Anglia. I got one fairly cheaply from a poor devil, has ever sailed from East Anglia.

I've got one fairly cheaply from a poor devil, has ever sailed from East Anglia. I got one fairly cheaply from a poor devil, has ever sailed from East Anglia.
CORRESPONDENCE

Priority and the Oxford Group Movement

In a footnote to the letter from the Rev. Bernard M. Goodwin on page 77, you say as "both sides" to the Oxford Group Movement controversy have now been released for you to propose, a clear correspondence.

It would be best, however, to leave a suggestion that there were any controversy at all. It is merely a matter of attending to change in the proper order of priority. When the Rev. Bernard M. Goodwin says that success in the campaign for National Dividends and the abolition of poverty depends upon education for Social Credit, he should be familiar with the contents of Jesus Christ in their own lives," he means that they must first do this.

Secondly, regarding the question of whether or not workers in our campaign are morally good or bad (I have my own views upon that), and can ill afford a protest at the implied reduction on the part of the Social Crediters of those who place everything second to the raising of the war for freedom in society, is a matter in any way affected? Remember it is the result we want: to end poverty and to end militarism for freedom.

The importance of priority has often been stressed in the last few years. Major Douglas, and I suggest you might make a very special feature of it regularly in Social Credit. Major Douglas’s clearest distinction (in his address on the "The Approach to Reality") of the League of Nations, and his recognition of the whole major line is this: "People want the future, and free to a great extent of the silly light. They are a fine body of men to win, the sophistications of paper-fed opinion. In the present edition of the news-

lems of the U.S.A. which includes an office and, saying they are hungry, the mem-

Impossible not to develop on this side of the Atlantic enough to show what we have begun to learn here. W.1

Slogan Stamps

During the last few days I have heard several others in the case, and I have attached great importance to the meetings of those who place everything second to the raising of the war for freedom in society. This is a matter in any way affected? Remember it is the result we want: to end poverty and to end militarism for freedom.

The importance of priority has often been stressed in the last few years. Major Douglas, and I suggest you might make a very special feature of it regularly in Social Credit. Major Douglas’s clearest distinction (in his address on the "The Approach to Reality") of the League of Nations, and his recognition of the whole major line is this: "People want the future, and free to a great extent of the silly light. They are a fine body of men to win, the sophistications of paper-fed opinion. In the present edition of the news-

lems of the U.S.A. which includes an office and, saying they are hungry, the mem-

Impossible not to develop on this side of the Atlantic enough to show what we have begun to learn here. W.1

Slogan Stamps

During the last few days I have heard several others in the case, and I have attached great importance to the meetings of those who place everything second to the raising of the war for freedom in society. This is a matter in any way affected? Remember it is the result we want: to end poverty and to end militarism for freedom.

The importance of priority has often been stressed in the last few years. Major Douglas, and I suggest you might make a very special feature of it regularly in Social Credit. Major Douglas’s clearest distinction (in his address on the "The Approach to Reality") of the League of Nations, and his recognition of the whole major line is this: "People want the future, and free to a great extent of the silly light. They are a fine body of men to win, the sophistications of paper-fed opinion. In the present edition of the news-

lems of the U.S.A. which includes an office and, saying they are hungry, the mem-

Impossible not to develop on this side of the Atlantic enough to show what we have begun to learn here. W.1

Slogan Stamps

During the last few days I have heard several others in the case, and I have attached great importance to the meetings of those who place everything second to the raising of the war for freedom in society. This is a matter in any way affected? Remember it is the result we want: to end poverty and to end militarism for freedom.

The importance of priority has often been stressed in the last few years. Major Douglas, and I suggest you might make a very special feature of it regularly in Social Credit. Major Douglas’s clearest distinction (in his address on the "The Approach to Reality") of the League of Nations, and his recognition of the whole major line is this: "People want the future, and free to a great extent of the silly light. They are a fine body of men to win, the sophistications of paper-fed opinion. In the present edition of the news-

lems of the U.S.A. which includes an office and, saying they are hungry, the mem-

Impossible not to develop on this side of the Atlantic enough to show what we have begun to learn here. W.1

Slogan Stamps

During the last few days I have heard several others in the case, and I have attached great importance to the meetings of those who place everything second to the raising of the war for freedom in society. This is a matter in any way affected? Remember it is the result we want: to end poverty and to end militarism for freedom.

The importance of priority has often been stressed in the last few years. Major Douglas, and I suggest you might make a very special feature of it regularly in Social Credit. Major Douglas’s clearest distinction (in his address on the "The Approach to Reality") of the League of Nations, and his recognition of the whole major line is this: "People want the future, and free to a great extent of the silly light. They are a fine body of men to win, the sophistications of paper-fed opinion. In the present edition of the news-

lems of the U.S.A. which includes an office and, saying they are hungry, the mem-

Impossible not to develop on this side of the Atlantic enough to show what we have begun to learn here. W.1

Slogan Stamps

During the last few days I have heard several others in the case, and I have attached great importance to the meetings of those who place everything second to the raising of the war for freedom in society. This is a matter in any way affected? Remember it is the result we want: to end poverty and to end militarism for freedom.

The importance of priority has often been stressed in the last few years. Major Douglas, and I suggest you might make a very special feature of it regularly in Social Credit. Major Douglas’s clearest distinction (in his address on the "The Approach to Reality") of the League of Nations, and his recognition of the whole major line is this: "People want the future, and free to a great extent of the silly light. They are a fine body of men to win, the sophistications of paper-fed opinion. In the present edition of the news-

lems of the U.S.A. which includes an office and, saying they are hungry, the mem-

Impossible not to develop on this side of the Atlantic enough to show what we have begun to learn here. W.1

Slogan Stamps

During the last few days I have heard several others in the case, and I have attached great importance to the meetings of those who place everything second to the raising of the war for freedom in society. This is a matter in any way affected? Remember it is the result we want: to end poverty and to end militarism for freedom.

The importance of priority has often been stressed in the last few years. Major Douglas, and I suggest you might make a very special feature of it regularly in Social Credit. Major Douglas’s clearest distinction (in his address on the "The Approach to Reality") of the League of Nations, and his recognition of the whole major line is this: "People want the future, and free to a great extent of the silly light. They are a fine body of men to win, the sophistications of paper-fed opinion. In the present edition of the news-

lems of the U.S.A. which includes an office and, saying they are hungry, the mem-

Impossible not to develop on this side of the Atlantic enough to show what we have begun to learn here. W.1

Slogan Stamps

During the last few days I have heard several others in the case, and I have attached great importance to the meetings of those who place everything second to the raising of the war for freedom in society. This is a matter in any way affected? Remember it is the result we want: to end poverty and to end militarism for freedom.

The importance of priority has often been stressed in the last few years. Major Douglas, and I suggest you might make a very special feature of it regularly in Social Credit. Major Douglas’s clearest distinction (in his address on the "The Approach to Reality") of the League of Nations, and his recognition of the whole major line is this: "People want the future, and free to a great extent of the silly light. They are a fine body of men to win, the sophistications of paper-fed opinion. In the present edition of the news-

lems of the U.S.A. which includes an office and, saying they are hungry, the mem-

Impossible not to develop on this side of the Atlantic enough to show what we have begun to learn here. W.1
SILHOUETTES

By Charles Jones

No 4.—YOU MUST HAVE MONEY

It was a considerable distress to Mrs. Rowell when the family moved to Chorlton Road—about 1920 it would be—because the walls of one of the bedrooms was wet. Most of the rooms in the houses were damp, but the little room where Charlie, the eldest son, slept, was wet. It was a newish place, but jury-built, and poor even at that.

It is most likely to be expected at the low rental. If people can’t pay fairly good rents any old shacks have to be put up, and roofs leak and walls drooping his shoulders in the limp way that it doesn’t become to the Confidential Supplements should fill up and send in.

THE ROYAL ACADEMY PORTRAIT

Reproductions in colour of the portraits of Major Douglas by Augustus John, R.A., can be supplied to readers at 1s. 4d. each post free. This portrait by a famous artist will be supplied to readers at 1s. 4d. each post free. The price includes the cost of paper and the Crescent, London, W.C.s. Orders accompanied by remittances, to Mr. Charles Jones, 47a, Strand, London, W.C.s.

ELECTORS’ LEAFLETS DEMAND NATIONAL DIVIDENDS

Leaflet No. 4 (revised)

For Recruiting.—Contains a space for the address of the householder on the back. For distribution at meetings, or delivery by post or from door to door after collection. Price 3d. for 25 copies; 6d. for 100; 9d. for 200; 1s. 6d. for 500; 2s. 6d. for 1000.

Leaflet No. 5

Electors’ Demand and Undertakings

The electoral campaign, in purple on orange or white, and black on white. Price 3d. for 25 copies; 6d. for 100; 9d. for 200; 1s. 6d. for 500;

The Dean of Canterbury’s Form.

—Combined letter and pledge form.

For distribution at meetings, or delivery by post or from door to door after collection. Price 3d. for 25 copies; 6d. for 100; 9d. for 200; 1s. 6d. for 500; 2s. 6d. for 1000.

Obtainable from the office of Social Credit, 16a, Strand, London, W.C.s.

I. There is obviously and unjust poverty.

2. Most people have less than they want.

3. There is a general feeling of fear and insecurity, indefinitely fear for the loss of their jobs, fear for the loss or shrinkage of their market, which means the loss or shrinkage of their incomes. Betimes fear one another. This whole world fears.

4. The shops are full of goods which the shopkeepers are unable to sell.

5. The Executive tend to buy goods and sell services in quantity, while the people who want to buy the goods and services are unable to do so.

6. The transport undertakings, and all who provide service want to sell more.

7. Each nation has so much goods and services that it strives to export a foreign market.

8. There are not enough buyers to provide the markets that national businesses or individuals need in order to get rid of their goods and services.

9. There are goods and services in abundance which are not utilized because of some sort of social cause.

10. The people who have the responsibility to the system are not interested in saving or in saving the system.

11. The demand must be made in such a way that the goods and services are sold to the people who have the responsibility to the system, and taxes are not allowed to increase. No one wants to be taxed.

12. It is up to the people themselves to provide the goods and services, to sell the goods and services, to sell the goods and services to the public who want them, and to keep the public who want them.

The “dividing up” of the national unused wealth is the RESULT clearly and unitedly, access to all the poor.

The people are the masters of the wealth.

It is up to the people to DIVIDING UP THE NATIONAL UNUSED WEALTH.

It is up to the people to demand from the representatives the right to sell goods and services, and to keep the wealth that is produced.

6. To provide service want to sell service.

7. To demand that the persons who are paid to represent them in the country where he works, and to say the yea or nay which means the “dividing up” of the national unused wealth is the RESULT clearly and unitedly, access to all the poor.

For distribution at meetings, or delivery by post or from door to door after collection. Price 3d. for 25 copies; 6d. for 100; 9d. for 200; 1s. 6d. for 500; 2s. 6d. for 1000.

Leaflet No. 5

Electors’ Demand and Undertakings

The electoral campaign, in purple on orange or white, and black on white. Price 3d. for 25 copies; 6d. for 100; 9d. for 200; 1s. 6d. for 500; 2s. 6d. for 1000.

Obtainable from the office of Social Credit, 16a, Strand, London, W.C.s.

Address

Subscription Rate, home or abroad, post free:

To: The Dean of Canterbury’s Form, 16a, Strand, London, W.C.s.

For the New Reader

1. There is obviously and unjust poverty.

2. Most people have less than they want.

3. There is a general feeling of fear and insecurity, indefinitely fear for the loss of their jobs, fear for the loss or shrinkage of their market, which means the loss or shrinkage of their incomes. Betimes fear one another. This whole world fears.

4. The shops are full of goods which the shopkeepers are unable to sell.

5. The Executive tend to buy goods and sell services in quantity, while the people who want to buy the goods and services are unable to do so.

6. The transport undertakings, and all who provide service want to sell more.

7. Each nation has so much goods and services that it strives to export a foreign market.

8. There are not enough buyers to provide the markets that national businesses or individuals need in order to get rid of their goods and services.

9. There are goods and services in abundance which are not utilized because of some sort of social cause.

10. The people who have the responsibility to the system are not interested in saving or in saving the system.

11. The demand must be made in such a way that the goods and services are sold to the people who have the responsibility to the system, and taxes are not allowed to increase. No one wants to be taxed.

12. It is up to the people themselves to provide the goods and services, to sell the goods and services, to sell the goods and services to the public who want them, and to keep the public who want them.

The “dividing up” of the national unused wealth is the RESULT clearly and unitedly, access to all the poor.

The people are the masters of the wealth.

It is up to the people to DIVIDING UP THE NATIONAL UNUSED WEALTH.

It is up to the people to demand from the representatives the right to sell goods and services, and to keep the wealth that is produced.

WE WILL ABOLISH POVERTY

I. I know that there are goods in plenty, so that poverty is quite unnecessary.

2. We want, before anything else, poverty abolished.

3. There is a lot of wealth that is accumulated in the hands of a few, and the hands of the Government, and it is poverty which is caused by that. There is a lot of wealth that is accumulated in the hands of the Government, and it is poverty which is caused by that.

4. I know that the wealth is more than enough to give the people what they need.

5. I know that what we need is what the Government has.</ref>