Armistice
Hypocrisy
by Mrs. Palmer
Page 3
OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE SOCIAL CREDIT SECRETARIAT LIMITED

Published thence and abroad: FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1937

Social Credit
For Political and Economic Democracy

This Month's Cartoon by Rod—Page 4

Alberta
Bankers
Pass The Buck

Page 7

Fight These New Attacks On Your Liberty

New attacks on the freedom of the individual are being prepared. The Minister of Health is seeking sweeping inquisitorial powers with a new Population (Statistics) Bill under the pretence of finding out why the population rate is falling.

A private members' bill backed by other Members of Parliament seeks to impose penalties from 10s. to £20 on you if you don't vote 'yes'. This is in order.

If local curators are satisfied that they should be levied via rates to pay for armament measures, then what is happening is in order.

On the other hand, if the electorate wish to be turned down because they are physically unfit. "There is still time, if you act quickly. Get going today, or tomorrow."

The Air Raid Precautions Bill, dealt with on this page (col. 1), is being pushed through (in opposition to local authorities) to force part of the cost of national armament measures on to local rates.

YOUR LIBERTY IS BEING UNDERMINED. ALL THIS IS BEING DONE IN YOUR NAME—ACTION BY YOU, THE ELECTORS, IS ESSENTIAL. GIVE YOUR REPRESENTATIVES YOUR ORDERS NOW. YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE!

See page 5

50 per cent. Army Volunteers Turned Down As Unfit

Fifty per cent. of Britain's young men who have volunteered for Army service have been turned down as unfit.

Mr. Duff Cooper, First Lord of the Admiralty and former War Minister, revealed this fact at a meeting in London on Monday.

He said: "If we were to take all the young men who volunteer, we would have no army at all. But the fact is that more than 50 per cent. have to be turned down because they are physically unfit."

According to Sir John Orr, four and a half million of the population of Great Britain suffer from malnutrition. In his report on this subject issued last year, he gave the figures showing that nine million people were living on 6s. a week for food, and another four-and-a-half million on 4s. a week or less.

It is a fact, recognised by all doctors, that malnutrition stunts the growth of children and weakens resistance to disease, of which it is a predisposing cause.

Alberta Facts

The cattle industry estimates for this year show the best results since 1930, the Province (according to a Western financial publication) has enjoyed a fairly good harvest, and the dairying industry shows the best returns since 1930.

Mr. Mackenzie King, the Canadian Prime Minister, has announced that the three Alberta Bills to which the Assent was reserved by the Lieutenant-Governor, were being referred to the Supreme Court to decide whether the Bills were valid. He intimated that the issue would in all probability be carried to the Privy Council.

Mr. Mackenzie King was also emphatic that the Federal Government strongly opposed Mr. Aberhart's proposal that the Bills should receive the Assent and become operative so that test cases to determine their validity could be started in the Court, the Government's opinion being that such a course would be unfair to the people of Alberta.

Mr. Mackenzie King does seem anxious to protect the people of Alberta from the implementing of their own mandate. See Page 7
COMMUNITY

Perhaps you've read these items in your newspapers—our comment will give them a new significance.

Need for the Alberta Press Act

PRESS comment on the Alberta Press Bill, which, it cannot be too often stated, does not meet the press with certain few exceptions, save that it attributes a degree of subsidy to press propaganda which is entirely lacking in that now being published on the Alberta situation.

Says the Archbishop in an address to the General Synod of the Church of Ireland:

"What is called public opinion today is the net result of the working of many minds; public opinion today is organised and mas- shamed by means of the propaganda and publicity methods with which the mass of individuals is becoming familiar.

"Opinion is handed out ready-made; even the very facts which are the material with the aid of which opinion should be formed are rationalised; and what is good is now so good that it is for us to know, with lavish supererogation, if not superfluous falsity (suppression of the truth or involving it).

"And with the useful success of these methods, the indispensable conditions of democratic government viz., intelligent interest in public affairs and sense of indivi- duality interests are becoming increas- ingly absent."

Sweet Reply

SIR JOHN JARVIS, M.P., speaking at West Clandon, Surrey, said in reply to a question about the increased cost of living, that he thought an extra penny a week was a low price to pay for the prosperity we are now enjoying.

 Asked why it was necessary to inflict additional taxation on the people, and that the govern- ment, he said and didn't he said he didn't think one should begrudge a few pence for armaments to make the country safe.

"Is it not the case... that the government have not provided that money?"

"No, sir. The Government has no money at all, except what it gets from the taxpayers.

What the Tests Showed

A cocktail-test on an investigation was made among 777 families. The 396 families whose breadwinners were unemployed were found to be getting 25s. 2d. a week to live on, while the 381 families of the employed group and 53 of the employed group should die if THIS THE CONDITION OF LIVING WERE THE SAME AS THE WHOLE POPULATION OF ENGLAND.

But actually not 54 but 161 of the unemployed died, and not 53 but 112 of the employed.

This proved that neither of the groups were getting enough to eat, but that the unemployed were being starved more rapidly than the employed.

The Starving World

ACCORDING to the recent report on mal- nutrition presented to Geneva, the world is half starved. Millions of natives in India, only pay one meal a day.

The Chinese Government said: "Most Chinese are in a state of malnutrition all the time."

Mass-Production Man

MASS-PRODUCTION Man, mass-production Man, A cog in the machinery, a unit in the Plan-

He goes to work to earn the cash To buy the food to get the strength To go to work to earn the cash—

Provided that he can!

City Entertains Lord Baldwin

Baldwin—Baldwin?—Where have we heard that name before?

And landing after exhausting his petrol supply. Luckily he escaped serious hurt.

"...I was told to do all I could to bring the machine down and avert an accident," he said.

To serve or to rule?

The London bums are still trying to settle the question of who rules in their own union. The disciplinary measures taken against seven men who were prominent in the strike of last May is widely disapproved of by the rank and file.

As one London paper has it— "On all points the executive council is opposed to the delegates. The London bums are really claiming the right to manage their own affairs within the union."

*The only justification for trade union executive councils is the right they implement the will of the majority of members."

Real Damage

ON each occasion when experimenta- tion might do real damage, Baldwin—Baldwin? Where have we heard that name before?—From an editorial on the Alberta situation in the New York Herald Tribune, October 7.

The Cat Peeps Out of the Bag

W ITHOUT financial independence a Man can't take any time off to look for a better job.—Mr. Walter Elliot, Secre- tary for Scotland to the National Savings Movement at Edinburgh.

Board's Vicious Policy

There is no question why the price of milk by special permission in the Rhondda Valley was to raise the number of applicants among expectant and unemployed producers in a year from 386 to 1,379, and among young children from 1,930 to 5,383.

"Hannon" of July 8.

The artificially-heightened price of milk is a check on its consumption by people who now cannot afford it. The milk is abundant, but those who need it mustn't have the buy. The solution is National Dividends.

---

Social Credit

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.

---

Thank You

WE offer our sincerest thanks for the over five of you to read "TITITE," N.Z., with the assurance that it will be put to good use.
Armistice Day

There is no rest in the tomb to-day,
Blind even in its tomb to-day.
We cry from the poppy-laden grave
What is the man who died?
"We died in vain, we died in vain."

We bear the heat on our graves to-day,
Of marching feet on our graves to-day.
Of whose life is death, since first beat,
"We died in vain, we died in vain."

Our blood cries out from the stones
Even our mourning tombs—they only,
Let all the world now see it means
"It is a poppy and two minutes' silence, then."
"We died in vain, we died in vain."
ELLEN WHITE

How would you like to be dependent on charity?
I can hardly bear to think of anything but charitable things. I can see that they are the symbol of the powers of evil.
For it is solemnly maintained by those whose mania it is to "make work" that poppy only provides employment for many ex-servicemen all the year round.
Just think of it. Every day, except Saturdays and Sundays, for seven or eight hours, you sit on a chair picking hundreds upon hundreds of little bits of scarlet cloth with green wire, and sticking a little black button on top, bearing the letters H.F. (some other is genuine, you know).
Is this work fit for heroes? Is it work even worthy of an ordinary, intelligent man?
It was not so tragic it would be funny, to live foreversince the agony of the trenches and then come home and spend the rest of your life in making poppies to commemorate it.

* * *

THERE was a man once who was condemned to spend the whole of his time in rolling a stone up a hill. No sooner did it reach the top than it went down to the bottom again.
There are people in this country (and I like to think that most of them are men) who would rather set us all to the task of Surplus than allow us to enjoy anything without working for it, despite the fact that we are living in the power age, and that every day there need be less and less work for us to do.
As long as we stand by and see them in their power. Rather than lose their power they'd see us in the hell of the next war.
We must show the way to peace by demanding the dividend of the machine, to be paid to each and all, so that each one can be free to live the life and do the work that nature intended him to do.
Only a National Dividend in a worthy offering to those men who have given so much in vain.

CHILDREN MURDERED BY SOUND FINANCE

A sociologist posted a note that as long as there is one mother in this country who is afraid to have a child because she thinks they are unable to keep the peace in it, so long are we criminally responsible for that fact. It is not that our state in Great Britain, and Infants Murder by SOUND FINANCE can be proved by any Medical Officer of Health. In the face of these facts we are completely told that things are better here than in other countries, as if that altered the awful distress of those who suffer in the dismal distressed areas. We are told that our Financial Structure is balanced, and the face of these facts for the Churches to talk about a change of heart.

We are supposed to be honouring the glorious dead who died for their country.

We were not those who lived as valuable as those who died.
Many of them are now living, poor, broken, and forlorn.
A strange thing it is to honour a man who died of wounds, and forget him if he recovers.

And did they die fighting for their country? They joined up at the beginning in their thousands because the newspapers told them that the Germans had been committing atrocities in Belgium and France—love they joined because they had to.
Men can’t fight for a mere abstract idea—such as a pacificated Britannia. They can fight to save the lives of their wives and children.
Or they can be bamboozled into fighting to save the lives of at least temporarily money-changers if there is a next war, will be responsible for it, as they were for the last.
I beg of women to be realists, and not allow them-

*I HATE Armistice Day now, and I believe that many of those who have vivid memories of November, 1918, must feel as I do. What a wild, glad day that was! As soon as the people were stopped all presence of work, dashed out into the streets, and boarded the last food and drink, but who cared? We believed that at the picture lives of the hundreds of thousands of were for less.
Perhaps this is what is intended.
Cenotaph service my heart would beat and my senses from dawn till night.
For the proper celebration of Guy Fawkes’ Day there must feel as I do. What a wild, glad day that was!

* * *

A NOTHER phase of rising food prices is hitting travellers on the Southern Railway who have a new system of charges in the restaurant cars has been introduced, having the effect of passing on increased costs to the consumer.
Fifty years ago, when our ability to produce was at its zenith, we had no need to pass on increased costs to the consumer.

Progress in Prices

A NOTHER phase of rising food prices is hitting travellers on the Southern Railway who have a new system of charges in the restaurant cars has been introduced, having the effect of passing on increased costs to the consumer.
Fifty years ago, when our ability to produce was at its zenith, we had no need to pass on increased costs to the consumer.

Buying a Car?

ERNEST SUTTON

Can supply you with new or second-hand cars for cash or credit.

AUSTIN MORRIS FORD
SINGER FIAT OPEL

The finest and largest stock of immaculate used Rover cars.
CALL OR PHONE MAYFAIR 4748
We do a large used business and often have real bargains at very low prices. Everyone knows the lucky man who “picked it up” for £20.
It was probably at Ernest Sutton’s

SUTTON LIMITED
24 BRUTON PLACE, W.1.

NEWSPAPER'S ORDER

To Mr._
Please supply me weekly with a copy of SOCIAL CREDIT.
Name ___________________________ Address ___________________________
For 12 months I enclose 10/6
For 6 months I enclose 5/-
For 3 months I enclose 2 1/2

SUBSCRIPTION ORDER

Send SOCIAL CREDIT to Name ___________________________ Address ___________________________
For 12 months I enclose 10/6
For 6 months I enclose 5/-
For 3 months I enclose 2 1/2

FREE THIS COPY OF SOCIAL CREDIT, 163A STRAND, LONDON, W.C.2
The Future?

The love some individuals show for making plans for other people, thereby betraying a lust to dominate rather than to serve, is a common danger. Such persons invariably assume that Institutions are more important than people, and under this hypnosis are capable of condemning others wholesale to sacrifice.

The appalling state we see everywhere is due chiefly to this blind fanaticism, which, whilst unbridled, is liable to rush us on to greater chaos.

In 1922 the Institute of Public Administration was founded, with the alleged object of enabling the servants of the public to study the technical and philosophical problems of their profession.

The new President is Sir Josiah Stamp, and in his inaugural address he drew attention to what he considered the requirements of the future.

"I am quite clear that the official must be the mainspring of the new society, suggesting, promoting, advising at every stage."

The qualifications required by this new kind of official of the future before high promotion can safely be given to him are peculiar: he "must have the ability to subordinate his activities to their proportionate place in a larger whole."

In other words, he is to be a "mainspring" in a larger "watch," and we, suspect Sir Josiah had his tongue in his cheek all the while he was talking—to remind himself not to let his hearers get the slightest glimpse of the possibility of who or what the larger "watch" is.

Much better refer to it vaguely as the larger "whole."

"...Those benighted people who are under the impression that public servants, from Permanent Secretaries downwards, are employed at public expense to carry out the will of the people as made known by them to Members of Parliament, should know at once that Sir Josiah Stamp has a better plan."

So many undertakings are coming under public control, Sir Josiah Stamp points out, that it cannot be expected that Members of Parliament can cope with the millions of technical details. Leave it to the "new specialist expert," says he to the people and Parliament.

Which looks reasonable, at first glance—but only at first glance.

For the expert himself, while taking charge ably of the myriad technical details must "subordinate his activities to their proportionate place in a larger whole."

Who decides what the larger whole is to be? Ah, Sir Josiah knows, but he won't tell, and one of the qualifications of the "right type" of the "new official" will be not even to think of asking such a treasonable question.

SIR JOSIAH is President of the Institute of Public Administration. Does he agree that the first thing all members should know is that the only justification for public office is that those employees who fill them are paid to serve the policy of the public as decided by popular mandate?

Or does he think the people ought not to decide policy?

What would happen if a railway company refused to carry passengers where they wanted to go, but decided for them, meanwhile trying to hide their dictatorial policy under a widely advertised scheme for allowing passengers to choose freely by which door they should enter the train?

There is no doubt that such a policy of creeping dictatorship would raise new problems, not the least of which would be to find station-masters with just the right and peculiar official qualifications.

A wonderful plan—which might work if it weren't for the problem of the passengers!
STATE BLOWS AT YOUR LIBERTY

WHAT I am telling you is that either you are the State and you can change what you do not like, or else the State is your enemy; and that all the powers of the State derive from you and have been usurped from you to the extent that they have been separated from you.

New Powers For Bureaucratic Nosey Parkers

THE Government is promoting a Population (Statistics) Bill, to be introduced this session by Sir Kingsley Wood, Minister of Health, giving practically unlimited powers to the State to investigate private affairs.

Your financial position and that of your family, how much you contribute to your family's support, every detail of your personal history, if you have been convicted of any criminal or motoring offence, any diseases you have suffered from—all these family secrets you will have to divulge in order that the State may arm itself with power to make arrests.

You may be required to disclose your political opinions or your religious faith; reports are in that the Minister intends to investigate the condition of the population, reports the Sunday Express.

A barrister who read it told the Government that while he considered the registration of all confidential particulars desirable in the interests of national security, they should be subject to the scrutiny of a special Commission composed exclusively of experts who are conversant with similar matters.

Parents registering births, or still-births, will be questioned about any previous children, the age, occupation, address, dependants, brothers and sisters, and children by a former spouse.

In the case of death particulars of parents and any former spouse will be listed.

The purpose of this astonishing measure is to discover the causes of the fall in population. A barrister who read it told the Government that he thought this method of inquiry was entirely unsound and that it was desirable to obtain information in this matter in an orderly manner, which Commission he suggested.

The Bill will be empowered to ask young couples registering for marriage about any previous children, the age, employment, occupation, address, dependants, brothers and sisters, and children by a former spouse.

The purpose of this astonishing measure is to discover the causes of the fall in population. A barrister who read it told the Government that he thought this method of inquiry was entirely unsound and that it was desirable to obtain information in this matter in an orderly manner.

Oastler, a sincere, courageous, and determined character, was, more than any other man, responsible both for the passing of the Act and the beginning of the Creeping Dictatorship. Oastler, a sincerely, courageous, and determined character, was, more than any other man, responsible both for the passing of the Act and the beginning of the Creeping Dictatorship.

In 1830 the industrial conditions of the North were scandalous. In 1830 the industrial conditions of the North were scandalous. In 1830 the industrial conditions of the North were scandalous.

"She trudges onward in the rain and on the snow; what does her face reflect?" said Oastler, "only the misery of the poor."

The Social Credit Movement has engaged in a war that will continue to be waged until it is won, and then in England we shall be free from wage-slavery, from debt-slavery, from fear of the Means Test, the workhouse, the rent, the rate, the income tax collectors, the tyrants who worship the devil of Mammon; and we shall have, having gained the victory, be able to enjoy its fruits of peace, security, and the joy of freedom.

THE Government is promoting a Population (Statistics) Bill, to be introduced this session by Sir Kingsley Wood, Minister of Health, giving practically unlimited powers to the State to investigate private affairs.

Your financial position and that of your family, how much you contribute to your family's support, every detail of your personal history, if you have been convicted of any criminal or motoring offence, any diseases you have suffered from—all these family secrets you will have to divulge in order that the State may arm itself with power to make arrests.

You may be required to disclose your political opinions or your religious faith; reports are in that the Minister intends to investigate the condition of the population, reports the Sunday Express.

A barrister who read it told the Government that while he considered the registration of all confidential particulars desirable in the interests of national security, they should be subject to the scrutiny of a special Commission composed exclusively of experts who are conversant with similar matters.

Parents registering births, or still-births, will be questioned about any previous children, the age, occupation, address, dependants, brothers and sisters, and children by a former spouse.

In the case of death particulars of parents and any former spouse will be listed.

The purpose of this astonishing measure is to discover the causes of the fall in population. A barrister who read it told the Government that he thought this method of inquiry was entirely unsound and that it was desirable to obtain information in this matter in an orderly manner, which Commission he suggested.

The Bill will be empowered to ask young couples registering for marriage about any previous children, the age, employment, occupation, address, dependants, brothers and sisters, and children by a former spouse.

The purpose of this astonishing measure is to discover the causes of the fall in population. A barrister who read it told the Government that he thought this method of inquiry was entirely unsound and that it was desirable to obtain information in this matter in an orderly manner.

Oastler, a sincerely, courageous, and determined character, was, more than any other man, responsible both for the passing of the Act and the beginning of the Creeping Dictatorship. Oastler, a sincerely, courageous, and determined character, was, more than any other man, responsible both for the passing of the Act and the beginning of the Creeping Dictatorship.

In 1830 the industrial conditions of the North were scandalous. In 1830 the industrial conditions of the North were scandalous. In 1830 the industrial conditions of the North were scandalous.

"She trudges onward in the rain and on the snow; what does her face reflect?" said Oastler, "only the misery of the poor."

The Social Credit Movement has engaged in a war that will continue to be waged until it is won, and then in England we shall be free from wage-slavery, from debt-slavery, from fear of the Means Test, the workhouse, the rent, the rate, the income tax collectors, the tyrants who worship the devil of Mammon; and we shall have, having gained the victory, be able to enjoy its fruits of peace, security, and the joy of freedom.

THE Government is promoting a Population (Statistics) Bill, to be introduced this session by Sir Kingsley Wood, Minister of Health, giving practically unlimited powers to the State to investigate private affairs.

Your financial position and that of your family, how much you contribute to your family's support, every detail of your personal history, if you have been convicted of any criminal or motoring offence, any diseases you have suffered from—all these family secrets you will have to divulge in order that the State may arm itself with power to make arrests.

You may be required to disclose your political opinions or your religious faith; reports are in that the Minister intends to investigate the condition of the population, reports the Sunday Express.

A barrister who read it told the Government that while he considered the registration of all confidential particulars desirable in the interests of national security, they should be subject to the scrutiny of a special Commission composed exclusively of experts who are conversant with similar matters.

Parents registering births, or still-births, will be questioned about any previous children, the age, occupation, address, dependants, brothers and sisters, and children by a former spouse.

In the case of death particulars of parents and any former spouse will be listed.

The purpose of this astonishing measure is to discover the causes of the fall in population. A barrister who read it told the Government that he thought this method of inquiry was entirely unsound and that it was desirable to obtain information in this matter in an orderly manner, which Commission he suggested.

The Bill will be empowered to ask young couples registering for marriage about any previous children, the age, employment, occupation, address, dependants, brothers and sisters, and children by a former spouse.

The purpose of this astonishing measure is to discover the causes of the fall in population. A barrister who read it told the Government that he thought this method of inquiry was entirely unsound and that it was desirable to obtain information in this matter in an orderly manner.

Oastler, a sincerely, courageous, and determined character, was, more than any other man, responsible both for the passing of the Act and the beginning of the Creeping Dictatorship. Oastler, a sincerely, courageous, and determined character, was, more than any other man, responsible both for the passing of the Act and the beginning of the Creeping Dictatorship.

In 1830 the industrial conditions of the North were scandalous. In 1830 the industrial conditions of the North were scandalous. In 1830 the industrial conditions of the North were scandalous.

"She trudges onward in the rain and on the snow; what does her face reflect?" said Oastler, "only the misery of the poor."

The Social Credit Movement has engaged in a war that will continue to be waged until it is won, and then in England we shall be free from wage-slavery, from debt-slavery, from fear of the Means Test, the workhouse, the rent, the rate, the income tax collectors, the tyrants who worship the devil of Mammon; and we shall have, having gained the victory, be able to enjoy its fruits of peace, security, and the joy of freedom.
Albertans Are In Guard of The Biggest Little Town Known
by Lieut-Col. J. Creagh Scott
(In an address to the Sheffield Social Credit Group in the City Library on Thursday, last week)

A FAMOUS Chief Justice of this country who lived 60 years ago said: "The issue which has swept down the centuries and which will have the same effect in the future is later in the People, the Bankers." This matter of the people—what does it really mean? People is a collective term—it does not mean a group of individuals or any Party, but it means the community who have the sole control of access, which means and is a better term than—money.

Money merely nothing else than humanity's commonly accepted mechanism of exchange.

Therefore when I talk of Bankers I mean those who have the control of access, there would be no distressed areas, there would be no wars, there would be no poverty, there would be no crime, there would be no disease, there would be no ignorance, there would be no hunger, there would be no unemployment, and there would be no over-population anywhere in the world, because I do, and therefore, the Bankers can operate as they do—be it now that they can produce and can be produced up to the complete satisfaction of human requirements.*

These provisions are not being carried anywhere at all in the world. In that economic action was being carried out now by those who have the control of access, there would be no distress in industry—there would be no difficulty in agriculture, there would be no ill-natured acts among people, there would be no disease among cattle, —there would be no difficulty in distribution—there would be no difference in religion—there would be no difference in politics—there would be no heresy or idolatry anywhere.

Do you believe it is possible for there to be a time when everybody is happy and contented?—because I do. Do you believe there are enough people to make this happen—yes I do, and more abundantly?—because I do.

And we have the most excellent reason for believing this because the greatest Master of the Christians told us it was possible. Now there is one more expansion I wish to define. The State. What is the State? The State is a institution whose wisdom and whose needs are more wisely administered—should be. And in the province of Alberta they are doing now that change the features of human existence—yes, but it is secured, and can be produced up to the complete satisfaction of human requirements.

No great work of literature, with which I am acquainted, dealt so directly with the problems of personal sovereignty, as Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." The story of the play is familiar, easily understood and nothing that I have ever read except the heart, which is expressed in the story, which is a clear light upon the problems of today. The true interpretation of history written with the deepest insight of a great master.

The reader will remember that Prospero, the Duke of Milan, was a profound scholar, a man of such deep learning that he resented devoting time, which he had held of access to the responsibilities of government that he faced—his absence from the action is in virtue than in vengeance."

THE SoVEREIGN People This IS your RESPONSIBILITY

BY A. M. McNEILL

NO great work of literature, with which I am acquainted, dealt so directly with the problems of personal sovereignty, as Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." The story of the play is familiar, easily understood and nothing that I have ever read except the heart, which is expressed in the story, which is a clear light upon the problems of today.

The true interpretation of history written with the deepest insight of a great master.

In order, therefore, that he might give me his love, to me, he allowed his brother Antonio to govern in his name. But as his villainous deed was in the process of being accomplished, "The reader will remember that Prospero, the Duke of Milan, was a profound scholar, a man of such deep learning that he resented devoting time, which he had held of access to the responsibilities of government that he faced—his absence from the action is in virtue than in vengeance."

The SOVEREIGN People--or dictators--Into servants, practically the whole world will come to an end. The whole world will be governed by the idea that the system which is the greatest on earth—will prevail, what our will is, or have we the responsibility and assume our responsibilities?

How can he know, until we express our will, and stand on his own feet if he knew that he had solid backing from the great institutions?

We citizens are, under our constitution, the sovereign power in Canada. Our will, not ours, is to be heard. It is a fight for this to be put into operation, and in accordance with the Divine Will. It is a fight for social religion, and practical Christianity.

Stand by unity for Alberta, where they are fighting for you, and the cause of humanity in the greatest struggle that has ever been known on earth—the struggle for the emancipation of Man from the tyranny which is the greatest on earth.

It is that you will be, and that you are to be, and that you can be. But if it is not you, when you agree with me that Policy is our interest—progress—that the progressive—of the people—and no one else—and it is our dynastic duty to be made, it will be made. Financial policy will be made.

Now the People of Alberta are in the vanguard of that great experiment which has ever been known by the people of this planet. They have started a fight to a finish for the emancipation of Man from the usurious government by Institutions, and nothing that I can say could exaggerate the implications underlying that colossal struggle.

Matters of the highest importance are taking place, and it is essential, and vital, that you in Sheffield should know the Truth, and you will be swept clean of all that you do not want, if you do not know, that the Bankers have the control of access, which means they have the complete control of civilization.

Is that your will? Because if it is I need not waste my time here. But if it is not you, when you agree with me that Policy is our interest—progress—that the progressive—of the people—and no one else—and it is our dynastic duty to be made, it will be made. Financial policy will be made.

The struggle is the People v. the Bankers—that is the big struggle that is going on in this world today, and other struggles will be completely dwarfed by it, and as that great man said—"whence I am—" I am—my device will be too scurrilous, or too shy, in order to deceive you, and thwart you and the citizens of Alberta, who have the complete control of access, will be able to put into operation this tremendous experiment written with the deepest insight of a great master.

You are the sovereign people, it is possible? Of course it is possible, but only in this way.

Therefore when I talk of Bankers I mean those who have the control of access, and the people all over the world who have the sole control of access, are—are they—are they so free?—or says they are?—incapable of making provisions to obviate the special distresses from the famine of the earth.

Now if you take this one to a large audience, they are inclined to have a quiet giggles and they are inclined to be so nice and cultured and refined, and they do not dare to thing that they face it?—Even those who do not dare to think that they face it?

I say get off your knees and stand up for God and the Right and declare what we are here, that our sovereignty is being now taken away from us by the Bankers, who are now using the Bankers' power to destroy the Bankers' will prevails, what our will is, or have we the responsibility and assume our responsibilities?

How can he know, until we express our will, and stand on his own feet if he knew that he had solid backing from the great institutions?

We have to tell our Members of Parliament whose duty it is to see that our will prevails, what our will is, and we will leave him to assume it is whatever he likes to make it.

If we have not told him our will, how can he know it? Perhaps he would be perhaps willing to desert God, and stand on his own feet if he knew that he had solid backing from the great institutions.

He can know, unless we express our will, and assume our responsibilities? If we do so in sufficient numbers, the power of the people will enabled to take a stand, the whole horde of lynch- ing will be dealt with—these are the journalistic who suppress and twist; all the educated ideas, still tends to hide the issue, for goods, but a struggle for access to them. There is no difficulty whatever to-day in the regard to the production of goods.

Now the fight that is on is not for the purpose of robbing, of pushing, anything, it is not for the purpose of nationalising everybody. It is for the purpose of satisfying access in a manner in which all shall benefit and none shall be injured. The fight is a fight to have this provision, of which we are contented—to consume, utilise, and enjoy the limits of human requirements.

It is a fight for this to be put into operation, and in accordance with the Divine Will. It is a fight for social religion, and practical Christianity.

Stand by unity for Alberta, where they are fighting for you, and the cause of humanity in the greatest struggle that has ever been known on earth—the struggle for the emancipation of Man from the tyranny which is the greatest on earth.

F I N A L L Y, let the same spirit prompt us as promised Prospero, that spirit which, when all his enemies were in his power, he declared "God be praised, and Christ is common. Prospero was the sovereign power of Milan."

We citizens are, under our constitution, the sovereign power in Canada. Our will, not ours, is to be heard. It is a fight for this to be put into operation, and in accordance with the Divine Will. It is a fight for social religion, and practical Christianity.

Stand by unity for Alberta, where they are fighting for you, and the cause of humanity in the greatest struggle that has ever been known on earth—the struggle for the emancipation of Man from the tyranny which is the greatest on earth.

Social Credit Supplement
November
The Policy of a Philosophy
Major Douglas's Speech at the June Conference.
CRESCENDO! By Hewlett Edwards
Matters of the highest importance are taking place, and it is essential, and vital, that you in Sheffield should know the Truth, and you will be swept clean of all that you do not want, if you do not know, that the Bankers have the control of access, which means they have the complete control of civilization.

The SOVEREIGN People--or dictators--Into servants, practically the whole world will come to an end. The whole world will be governed by the idea that the system which is the greatest on earth—will prevail, what our will is, or have we the responsibility and assume our responsibilities?

How can he know, until we express our will, and stand on his own feet if he knew that he had solid backing from the great institutions?

We have to tell our Members of Parliament whose duty it is to see that our will prevails, what our will is, and we will leave him to assume it is whatever he likes to make it.

If we have not told him our will, how can he know it? Perhaps he would be perhaps willing to desert God, and stand on his own feet if he knew that he had solid backing from the great institutions.

He can know, unless we express our will, and assume our responsibilities? If we do so in sufficient numbers, the power of the people will enabled to take a stand, the whole horde of lynch-
The banks are thus saved, for the time being, from appearing in the rôle of opponents of the Albertan people in their struggle for freedom from taxation. In the future, the banks are quite prepared to throw Mr. Mackenzie King "to the wolves" in Albertan elections.

Apart from the evidence of this in their forcing the Federal Government to take action of questionable constitutionality and undesired unpopularity to thwart the Albertan people, it is to be found in their "Booster's" broadcasts in Alberta.

The fifth broadcast of the present series ended thus:

"Let me close on this final note--currency and credit in Canada are not controlled by Canada's Chartered Banks, which are commercial banks--but with due regard to the value of the money you now have, by the Bank of Canada, which is controlled by the people of this Dominion.

This is known as "passing the buck".

To those who have been through it, there is a common knowledge of the situation. I am unable to publish the story "I Am Jacobin" which you published in your issue of November 5, and if someone, from the farm sheds to the comfortable home, are inclined to cast at its author, it will be well for them to remember that the young men and women who went out of the community this century, shipped some years ago had had to fight their daily portion in just such circumstances as are now prevailing.

I was in Toronto that winter when the banks collapsed formed in long queues at the soup-kitchens on Yonge Street, and saw how their faces faded as they passed from the passer-by lest they be recognized by someone who had known them back in those days.

Later, in Vancouver, I saw what had happened in Alberta. I realized that to have the old school tie shovelling snow on Granville Street so that they could eat out. I could not understand that letters to the old country turned off to nothing.

It was in Vancouver also that I met the steamship company's lecturer who advertised that the people of the country were going to Canada to buy the goods they required and which the engine or carriages? I travel but merely left us with the choice of methods.

A new crop of emigration schemes is now being organized, I am advised, whereby, for a small sum, the Canadian steamship companies are again preparing to make the great voyage of life, where there is no insurance as there is at its worst, and the cold blast and the hot sun, that the people of the New World may profit by the experiences of the previous ones, and hold the temperature in Calcutta to what it is now in London, and the animals can as well be kept as free from foot and mouth disease. We have freed from foot and mouth disease, and the board result in a reduction of stock and higher prices. The former leads to destruction and the latter to restriction by birth control.

It is reported that, except for one small section, in the past 14 years, the country has been free from foot and mouth disease.

The Prime Minister, during the past few months when they would receive a very small increase on the downtown streets.

The size and location of the jail camp had not been decided. He said unemployed men arrested in Vancouver who could not be accommodated in the jail would be transferred to the "camp."--Globe and Mail.

Will advertisers please note that for accepting copy for this column is 12 noon Monday.
Belfast Ratepayers Prevent Useless Expenditure of £100,000

Travellers' Grievances

LYNEMOUTH. Following public protests at the bus service between Lynemouth and Jolles, representatives of Lynemouth Parish Council are to meet officials of United Automobile Services.

It is contended that since the United services took over the district services the facilities offered to the public are not adequate.

Failing satisfaction from the bus company, traffic matters may be asked to invite an auxiliary service to operate over the route.

WALLASY. Residents in one district of Wallas had no bus to Wallasea, until the junction of Steel Avenue and Seabank Road; the demand, signed by 150 people, was presented to the Corporation and six councillors were notified and requested to support the petition.

Two replies followed, one disagreeing that it was necessary; one replied that the suggestion would 'receive consideration on its merits'; and the sixth did not reply at all.

Only two out of seven supposedly democratic councillors voted in favour of the will of the people when it is clearly expressed!

For what other purpose have they been elected?

Workers Gain Demand For Milk

THE SUCCESSFUL DEMAND of a section of machine workers for the issue of milk, for the purpose of preparing a milkGalton, has now been broadened to the effect that the workers may have to be coaxed to a party of aircraft engineering apprentices who have just completed a conducted tour of aircraft and motor-car factories as part of their training. . . .

The London Regional Board has met, and the workers have the ratepayers' wishes. A shop premises have been requisitioned for the ratepayers' building scheme, is in course of

ELECTOR'S DEMAND AND UNDERTAKING

Newlyn Cottages

SIR KINGSLEY WOOD, the Minister of Health, has given his decision on the Water Commissioners' building scheme in course of preparation, and that what steps he is prepared to take to carry into effect the decision of the Ratepayers.

LONDON NEWSPAPERS HAVE STATED THAT THEY ARE GIVEN TO BELIEVE THAT THE SCHEME WILL BE DROPPED.

* This vigorous and enterprising action of the ratepayer and elector of Belfast, made through the medium of thetes, has again shown it abundantly clear that people can get what they want when the majority of those concerned unite in insist on the right and responsibilities to get it.

Councils are elected to carry out the wishes of their electors. Belfast ratepayers have shown that when they have a case of red and quite clear, they expect their representatives to attend to them.

They are democrats in Belfast.

The road to vegetarianism, sometimes large, sometimes small, attracted by the slogans and news bulletins. Two men with their forms in hand, the2d., 4d., or 6d. weekly (according to the size of the set) to 5d., 7d. and 8d.

The fixed price light company who increased charges brought into force by the local press. Councils have decreed that owners of property nor decrease its relative value, nor increase the or prices. The road to vegetarianism, sometimes large, sometimes small, attracted by the slogans and news bulletins. Two men with their forms in hand, the

The movement for Northern Ireland, has given notice to the local Minister of Home Affairs and so on.

This vigorous and enterprising action of the ratepayer and elector of Belfast, made through the medium of the

LONDON NEWSPAPERS HAVE STATED THAT THEY ARE GIVEN TO BELIEVE THAT THE SCHEME WILL BE DROPPED.

* This vigorous and enterprising action of the ratepayer and electors of Belfast, made through the medium of the

Workers Gain Demand For Milk

THE SUCCESSFUL DEMAND of a section of machine workers for the issue of milk, for the purpose of preparing a milkGalton, has now been broadened to the effect that the workers may have to be coaxed to a party of aircraft engineering apprentices who have just completed a conducted tour of aircraft and motor-car factories as part of their training. . . .

The London Regional Board has met, and the workers have the ratepayers' wishes. A shop premises have been requisitioned for the ratepayers' building scheme, is in course of

ELECTOR'S DEMAND AND UNDERTAKING

Newlyn Cottages

SIR KINGSLEY WOOD, the Minister of Health, has given his decision on the Water Commissioners' building scheme in course of preparation, and that what steps he is prepared to take to carry into effect the decision of the Ratepayers.

LONDON NEWSPAPERS HAVE STATED THAT THEY ARE GIVEN TO BELIEVE THAT THE SCHEME WILL BE DROPPED.

* This vigorous and enterprising action of the ratepayer and elector of Belfast, made through the medium of the tes, has again shown it abundantly clear that people can get what they want when the majority of those concerned unite in insist on the right and responsibilities to get it.

Councils are elected to carry out the wishes of their electors. Belfast ratepayers have shown that when they have a case of red and quite clear, they expect their representatives to attend to them.

They are democrats in Belfast.

The road to vegetarianism, sometimes large, sometimes small, attracted by the slogans and news bulletins. Two men with their forms in hand, the

The fixed price light company who increased charges brought into force by the local press. Councils have decreed that owners of property nor decrease its relative value, nor increase the or prices. The road to vegetarianism, sometimes large, sometimes small, attracted by the slogans and news bulletins. Two men with their forms in hand, the

The movement for Northern Ireland, has given notice to the local Minister of Home Affairs and so on.

This vigorous and enterprising action of the ratepayer and electors of Belfast, made through the medium of the

Workers Gain Demand For Milk

THE SUCCESSFUL DEMAND of a section of machine workers for the issue of milk, for the purpose of preparing a milk Galton, has now been broadened to the effect that the workers may have to be coaxed to a party of aircraft engineering apprentices who have just completed a conducted tour of aircraft and motor-car factories as part of their training. . . .

The London Regional Board has met, and the workers have the ratepayers' wishes. A shop premises have been requisitioned for the ratepayers' building scheme, is in course of

ELECTOR'S DEMAND AND UNDERTAKING

Newlyn Cottages

SIR KINGSLEY WOOD, the Minister of Health, has given his decision on the Water Commissioners' building scheme in course of preparation, and that what steps he is prepared to take to carry into effect the decision of the Ratepayers.

LONDON NEWSPAPERS HAVE STATED THAT THEY ARE GIVEN TO BELIEVE THAT THE SCHEME WILL BE DROPPED.

* This vigorous and enterprising action of the ratepayer and elector of Belfast, made through the medium of the tes, has again shown it abundantly clear that people can get what they want when the majority of those concerned unite in insist on the right and responsibilities to get it.

Councils are elected to carry out the wishes of their electors. Belfast ratepayers have shown that when they have a case of red and quite clear, they expect their representatives to attend to them.

They are democrats in Belfast.

The road to vegetarianism, sometimes large, sometimes small, attracted by the slogans and news bulletins. Two men with their forms in hand, the

The fixed price light company who increased charges brought into force by the local press. Councils have decreed that owners of property nor decrease its relative value, nor increase the or prices. The road to vegetarianism, sometimes large, sometimes small, attracted by the slogans and news bulletins. Two men with their forms in hand, the

The movement for Northern Ireland, has given notice to the local Minister of Home Affairs and so on.

This vigorous and enterprising action of the ratepayer and electors of Belfast, made through the medium of the
By C. H. DOUGLAS

This is the address given at the Social Credit Conference at the Coral Hotel, London, on Saturday, 24th June, 1933. Tudor Jones was in the chair.

The Perils of Abstraction

The rise of the Protecistas, as, of course, we know, was financed by Manasseh ben Israel; and the first Act of the Abrahamic Covenant, which is said to be the model for all good and sound religion, but it had the undoubted effect of elevating Whiggism, which with one very short interval, that of the Protectorate was to readmit the Jews into England, possibly a very slight difference of emphasis one may place upon policy and technics sounds like a loud noise to things into rewards, and giving them values which don't exist. Often they don't even understand it, and, therefore, what you by which people are kept in their places, and it is done by elevating.

It is difficult to disentangle from its slyness, something which, in a difficult to disentangle, is related philosophically to the adulation of a state of affairs; so that in the narrow penal system, our industrial system, our methods of dealing with the whole of our protestations as to the way in which we govern our country, that there is a great deal more has six ace at prospectivity at the present time, the fact is inadmissible that through remuneration and things of that kind, there is more money being distributed among the people, and it isn't only very large, but at the same time, there is such a state of affairs; so that in the narrow technical sense, I am addressing a school of philosophy which I wish to make it clear. But, in my opinion, it is a very superficial definition of Social Credit that it is merely a scheme of monetary reform, it is not. Social Credit is the policy of a philosophy. It is something, based upon what you profoundly believe—what at any rate, you profoundly believe, and the desire to build a world, or to create a perfect society, is related to the word ligament, and sometimes the word policy is very small, but we have, in my opinion, it is a very superficial definition of Social Credit that it is merely a scheme of monetary reform. It is related to the word ligament, and so forth, and sometimes it does, and these definitions I insisted on come in to the circumstances is, of course, to agree to differ.

Cavaliers and Roundheads

About the middle of the 17th Century we had a Civil War in this country between the Stautes who were the protagonists of a theory of the Divine Right of Kings, and the Roundheads—the Whigs and the Puritans. It is a very unfortunate thing that very often the best causes have the worst protagonists, for there could probably not have been worse protagonists of what in one case was a very sound theory, than the Stautes. It is not going to suggest that there is any reality about the Divine Right of Kings, because unless there have been in ante-diluvian ages, no one would be foolish enough to suggest that there was anything of the sort. It was an outmoded logical proposition to have a civil war about the Divine Right of Kings, and the State Church—the particular sort of church which I have no objection to, but at the same time, there is such a state of affairs; so that in the narrow penal system, our industrial system, our methods of dealing with the whole of our protestations as to the way in which we govern our country, that there is a great deal more has six ace at prospectivity at the present time, the fact is indubitable that through rearmament and people are better off. I think it is very patchy, but at the different point of view—but our actions in this country—our actions allege it to be Christian—as I say, I am not here as a

Free of a Philosophy

FIRST of all, may I express my great pleasure in being able to talk, not to a general audience, but to a company of friends. That is a special pleasure which I have not very frequently, consciously, given myself, but I shall try to do it in this way. It is talking to the converted, and it is a harder and more difficult job sometimes to talk to a slightly sceptical audience. But this in a pleasant occasion, and I am very grateful for the opportunity.

I am not sure that Dr. Tudor Jones has not rather set the pace too hard, for I do not think that, on the whole, the way you, the people who really know anything about what is the position of this Social Credit Movement as a whole was bad, and he wanted ultimately not possibly come a coherent Policy, nor did there.

I am not saying that anyone of them was either right or wrong; I am not saying that any theory has the worst protagonists, for there could probably not have been worse protagonists of what in one case was a very sound theory, than the Stautes. It is not going to suggest that there is any reality about the Divine Right of Kings, because unless there have been in ante-diluvian ages, no one would be foolish enough to suggest that there was anything of the sort. It was an outmoded logical proposition to have a civil war about the Divine Right of Kings, and the State Church—the particular sort of church which I have no objection to, but at the same time, there is such a state of affairs; so that in the narrow penal system, our industrial system, our methods of dealing with the whole of our protestations as to the way in which we govern our country, that there is a great deal more has six ace at prospectivity at the present time, the fact is indubitable that through rearmament and people are better off. I think it is very patchy, but at the different point of view—but our actions in this country—our actions allege it to be Christian—as I say, I am not here as a

I have come to the conclusion, and others in the Social Credit Movement, in whose opinion I place great faith, said he Credit Movement, in whose opinion I place great faith, said he

Now just in case you had to have a mechanism by which you could bring the desires of people to impinge upon the organisation through which things are done—and that is the whole of the social organisation and it has to be done, it has to be done, and it has to be done. It is actually, if you like, governmental action, and has, I think, much the same meaning. The just, original definition, its original meaning, was not merely a scheme of monetary reform, it is related to the word ligament, and so forth, and sometimes it does, and these definitions I insisted on come in to the circumstances is, of course, to agree to differ.

Whiggism, which with one very short interval, that of the Protectorate was to readmit the Jews into England, possibly a very slight difference of emphasis one may place upon policy and technics sounds like a loud noise to things into rewards, and giving them values which don't exist. Often they don't even understand it, and, therefore, what you by which people are kept in their places, and it is done by elevating.

It is difficult to disentangle, is related philosophically to the adulation of a state of affairs; so that in the narrow penal system, our industrial system, our methods of dealing with the whole of our protestations as to the way in which we govern our country, that there is a great deal more has six ace at prospectivity at the present time, the fact is indubitable that through rearmament and people are better off. I think it is very patchy, but at the different point of view—but our actions in this country—our actions allege it to be Christian—as I say, I am not here as a

It is a very unfortunate thing that very often the best causes have the worst protagonists, for there could probably not have been worse protagonists of what in one case was a very sound theory, than the Stautes. It is not going to suggest that there is any reality about the Divine Right of Kings, because unless there have been in ante-diluvian ages, no one would be foolish enough to suggest that there was anything of the sort. It was an outmoded logical proposition to have a civil war about the Divine Right of Kings, and the State Church—the particular sort of church which I have no objection to, but at the same time, there is such a state of affairs; so that in the narrow penal system, our industrial system, our methods of dealing with the whole of our protestations as to the way in which we govern our country, that there is a great deal more has six ace at prospectivity at the present time, the fact is indubitable that through rearmament and people are better off. I think it is very patchy, but at the different point of view—but our actions in this country—our actions allege it to be Christian—as I say, I am not here as a

It is not merely a scheme of monetary reform, it is related to the word ligament, and so forth, and sometimes it does, and these definitions I insisted on come in to the circumstances is, of course, to agree to differ.

I have come to the conclusion, and others in the Social Credit Movement, in whose opinion I place great faith, said he Credit Movement, in whose opinion I place great faith, said he

Now, if you remember, the religious aspect of the Civil War was not very long ago, a very competent member of the Social Credit Movement who was a close relation of mine, and, on the whole, the way you, the people who really know anything about what is the position of this Social Credit Movement as a whole was bad, and he wanted ultimately not possibly come a coherent Policy, nor did there.

I am not saying that anyone of them was either right or wrong; I am not saying that any theory has the worst protagonists, for there could probably not have been worse protagonists of what in one case was a very sound theory, than the Stautes. It is not going to suggest that there is any reality about the Divine Right of Kings, because unless there have been in ante-diluvian ages, no one would be foolish enough to suggest that there was anything of the sort. It was an outmoded logical proposition to have a civil war about the Divine Right of Kings, and the State Church—the particular sort of church which I have no objection to, but at the same time, there is such a state of affairs; so that in the narrow penal system, our industrial system, our methods of dealing with the whole of our protestations as to the way in which we govern our country, that there is a great deal more has six ace at prospectivity at the present time, the fact is indubitable that through rearmament and people are better off. I think it is very patchy, but at the different point of view—but our actions in this country—our actions allege it to be Christian—as I say, I am not here as a

It is not merely a scheme of monetary reform, it is related to the word ligament, and so forth, and sometimes it does, and these definitions I insisted on come in to the circumstances is, of course, to agree to differ.

I have come to the conclusion, and others in the Social Credit Movement, in whose opinion I place great faith, said he Credit Movement, in whose opinion I place great faith, said he

Now, if you remember, the religious aspect of the Civil War was not very long ago, a very competent member of the Social Credit Movement who was a close relation of mine, and, on the whole, the way you, the people who really know anything about what is the position of this Social Credit Movement as a whole was bad, and he wanted ultimately not possibly come a coherent Policy, nor did there.

I am not saying that anyone of them was either right or wrong; I am not saying that any theory has the worst protagonists, for there could probably not have been worse protagonists of what in one case was a very sound theory, than the Stautes. It is not going to suggest that there is any reality about the Divine Right of Kings, because unless there have been in ante-diluvian ages, no one would be foolish enough to suggest that there was anything of the sort. It was an outmoded logical proposition to have a civil war about the Divine Right of Kings, and the State Church—the particular sort of church which I have no objection to, but at the same time, there is such a state of affairs; so that in the narrow penal system, our industrial system, our methods of dealing with the whole of our protestations as to the way in which we govern our country, that there is a great deal more has six ace at prospectivity at the present time, the fact is indubitable that through rearmament and people are better off. I think it is very patchy, but at the different point of view—but our actions in this country—our actions allege it to be Christian—as I say, I am not here as a

It is not merely a scheme of monetary reform, it is related to the word ligament, and so forth, and sometimes it does, and these definitions I insisted on come in to the circumstances is, of course, to agree to differ.

I have come to the conclusion, and others in the Social Credit Movement, in whose opinion I place great faith, said he Credit Movement, in whose opinion I place great faith, said he

Now, if you remember, the religious aspect of the Civil War was not very long ago, a very competent member of the Social Credit Movement who was a close relation of mine, and, on the whole, the way you, the people who really know anything about what is the position of this Social Credit Movement as a whole was bad, and he wanted ultimately not possibly come a coherent Policy, nor did there.
The Policy of a Philosophy (continued)

with powerful reservations, a democracy of consumers. The democracy of consumers is not properly financed, but it is a fact that the producers cannot go on producing against the infallible dislike of all its consumers; to put it plainly, it cannot sell its goods, so it goes out of business.

The Power to Make Decisions

Examinations: for yourselves. It appears to be a stage and it is, in fact, in the nature of things that all producers must be hierarchical, that you must have a grade of precedence in all the stages of production, and it is this, in any decision, so that there is always the possibility of a decision? Anything that can be said or done will probably know as well as I do, and I have some experience of that. If they are not actually primary under the present stage is fast approaching, let us hope well prepared for that.

body of active supporters - Douglas Douglas does not stand still: sitting in the stalls could do it than those who are playing. I Supplement. Let us make sure that Douglas's lead; and 'revenue. Money outstanding needs: an increase in all our friends know that. This phase to. the realities of h~man relations-tions—you have got to have this fundamental relationship by spmt. But beyond this there are, in Examine that statement for yourselves. Does it appear to be, objective strategy is .to arouse this perhaps, some object is gained but is thus increasing revenue. This phase to. the realities of h~man relation-adequately pursued, it is in this way which must, in the end, win that ment of real democracy, although,

true nature of democracy.

perhaps meetings representing the true nature of democracy.

organization does not stand, then I shall be very pleased to re-sition was right but that they believed in it. The trouble now is absolute certainty that they will always succeed if they proceed begin with; make a model of it and see how that works. First self on the Local Objective proposal, then, is in no sense something

We have gone far in this under-

Electoral Campaign; and when you have got a sufficient number

Electoral Campaign; and when you have got a sufficient number

our organisation, the col-

We have reached a position full of hope and possibilities of expansion. W in headlines, pushed home in correspondence and reports in newspapers in accordance. In the first place, it gets something understanding of the need, and it is a sensation to people to the economic process, as we do at the present time, though I hope I shall continue to do so.

an agreement on policy. We have been all over this before and know, therefore, that it is in the region of policy that democracy has its proper function, not in that of method, or, as you might say, production. Now we are getting a little nearer to the Social Credit view.

electronic age. And the whole credit of the system for which we sitting in the stalls could do it than those who are playing. I money, we know what we can make it do, and what we cannot. We have seen the power of the producer, who is not a man of

and is it, in fact, the nature of things that all producers must be hierarchical, have got to have hierarchy combined with the power to make decisions quickly. Now it goes without saying that if you are going to devote a considerable proportion of your time to the study of the life-time of people to the economic process, as we do at the present time, though I hope I shall continue to do so.

Douglas does not stand still: sitting in the stalls could do it than those who are playing. I

The Conference Speech con-

acquainted with the "Local Objective Campaign," he succeeded in per-understanding of the need, and it is a sensation to people to the economic process, as we do at the present time, though I hope I shall continue to do so.

To this end, we have secured the election of some representative of the people; Members of Parliament who have been returned from the people—to abolish poverty and

We have endeavored in this under-

and to go further; to get to grips, at the open stage for its conclusion. That

Events in Alberta have shown the

of money, we know what we can make it do, and what we cannot. We have seen the power of the producer, who is not a man of

The Local Objective proposal, then, is in no sense something

The Local Objective proposal, then, is in no sense something

Let the Sheffielders speak for themselves.

Our power is largely in this fact that we know a little, or believe so forth, you can achieve the millennium. You cannot achieve

Our power is largely in this fact that we know a little, or believe

We have reached a position full of hope and possibilities of expansion. W

All Property Associations fell into line, and have experienced feeling outnumbered by the other groups, the Liberal and the National.

All Property Associations fell into line, and have experienced feeling

The Local Objective proposal, then, is in no sense something

The Conference Speech con-

acquainted with the "Local Objective Campaign," he succeeded in per-understanding of the need, and it is a sensation to people to the economic process, as we do at the present time, though I hope I shall continue to do so.

To this end, we have secured the election of some representative of the people; Members of Parliament who have been returned from the people—to abolish poverty and

We have endeavored in this under-

and to go further; to get to grips, at the open stage for its conclusion. That

Events in Alberta have shown the

of money, we know what we can make it do, and what we cannot. We have seen the power of the producer, who is not a man of

Our power is largely in this fact that we know a little, or believe

We have reached a position full of hope and possibilities of expansion. W

All Property Associations fell into line, and have experienced feeling outnumbered by the other groups, the Liberal and the National.

The account in the next issue up woke a good many people, and offers of

All Property Associations fell into line, and have experienced feeling outnumbered by the other groups, the Liberal and the National.

The account in the next issue up woke a good many people, and offers of

All Property Associations fell into line, and have experienced feeling outnumbered by the other groups, the Liberal and the National.

The account in the next issue up woke a good many people, and offers of

All Property Associations fell into line, and have experienced feeling outnumbered by the other groups, the Liberal and the National.

SECRETARIA T NOTICES

MAJOR DOUGLAS has been given the mandate to carry out such a policy as he thinks fit in his own judgment and at his own discretion.

Mr. C. Howard Jones, B.A. (Agricultural Section), has been appointed Assistant Administrator and will continue in his present duties.

Mr. George Hickling, who is very well known to everyone as a member of the Secretariat, which is the general administrative body acting under a chief of staff (Major Douglas), has been appointed Chief of the Social Credit Movement for England, Wales and Scotland.

The position has been, therefore, freely to give an opportunity to all those who are entitled to vote on the question of the forthcoming Secre-

III. The Mandate: Steps Ahead

A. The one given to Major Douglas was to be Chief Adviser for the achieving of Social Credit, and to carry out his mandate in detail to be carried out by the group voting system.

B. Any general definition of Social Credit, as given by Major Douglas and they are responsible to him, is what is meant by the word "Social Credit".

C. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

D. The mandate for this 1937 election will be in full force from January 1, 1938.

E. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

F. It has been the aim, therefore, of the Secretariat, which is the general administrative body acting under a chief of staff (Major Douglas), has been approved by the general body of Social Crediters, for this support to continue in any time.

G. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

H. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

I. The Special Notice of the Social Credit Movement for England, Wales and Scotland, has been given the mandate to carry out such a policy as he thinks fit in his own judgment and at his own discretion.

J. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

K. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

L. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

M. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

N. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

O. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

P. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

Q. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

R. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

S. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

T. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

U. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

V. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

W. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

X. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

Y. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.

Z. The position has been, therefore, to give every individual who is to do it the ability to carry out the mandate of the election.
IV. General Conclusions on Election Procedure

The minimum subscription is very small, and in certain cases, is waived altogether. It is also as well to remember the point to be made in this connection, that the Social Credit administration, in the sense of administrators, even under its present management, has been steadily supported by Social Crediters under the general management, and is generally esteemed, by those who appear to have no prospect of being able to make any substantial contribution of capital for themselves. In other words, even as a position will be possible, every effort will be made towards training the electors. Even if this is not enough, it will be the world's task to do something other than to go on repeating the old proverb—"the bigger they are the better they can do." The electors will be the voter of the Social Creditor will become the voter of the Social Credit administration, and will be able to decide at this next election whose advice is to be followed. At the same time, if he is to con-

due to the Social Credit Suggestion Box, Flat 8, Lordship Lane, London, N.1 (Tel. Heemstede 163, Post Office Box 195, Bureau of Suggestion Box)