THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: WHEN THERE IS NO FARM LEFT TO SELL by James Reed

Another day, yet more Australian farms sold to China. The Australian, March 6, 2017, p. 1.

It could be grain, wool, pig or poultry, the Chinese buy it all. Moreover, the local elites celebrate this as the splendour of the “free” market, even though China will not reciprocate and allow the same economic assault to be done to them, and their economy is protectionist, not “free.” You can see for this reason alone that the standard media justifications of the buy-ups are just more “false news” and deception, propaganda by the globalists, for the global class.

The utter insanity of the “free” trade position is well illustrated by considering the surge in dairy imports into Australia following the introduction of free trade agreements: $ 1.7 billion worth of dairy imports have been dumped on Australia, as part of a global dairy glut, but there is a slump in local production: <http://www.weeklytimesnow.com.au/agribusiness/dairy/dairy-imports-surge-as-exports-stagnate/news-story/1b1354da35d86c7e8da61b586e07f219>. This article says that Australian dairy exports have stagnated at $ 3 billion for the past 17 years, while imports have sky rocketed from $ 337 million in the year 2000 to almost $ 1.67 billion in 2016. We do not need any dairy imports. As I see it, the Australian dairy industry is likely to be destroyed by globalisation, and farms bought at fire sale prices by China.

China has the capacity to buy up Australia’s entire agricultural sector. By the logic, or illogic of “free” (actually “unfree” trade), this is the best thing that Australia could do. Likewise for all infrastructure, everything. Even the parliament could in principle be sold, made a part of China, which is what it now essentially is: <http://www.abc.net.au/news/2016-09-28/former-australia-ambassador-to-china-warns-government-of-beijing/7885140>. There is even a case for the re-introduction of slavery for the dispossessed Australian people within this libertarian framework: http://www.ellerman.org/wp-content/uploads/2012/12/Philmore-1982.scan_.pdf.

The result of free trade and globalisation is the destruction of the smaller society and its enslavement as a virtual colony. Our elites are quite happy to sell us down the river: <https://hbr.org/1986/09/the-folly-of-free-trade>, selling our birthright for a mess of pottage, as Madison Grant once put it: https://www.amren.com/news/2010/07/madison_grant_a/.

THE CHINESE TAKEOVER OF NEW ZEALAND by James Reed

Here is an eye-opening video about the Chinese takeover of New Zealand, which shows that things there may be even worse than in Australia: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=R4BLCu9xvRA>. Here is the summary from YouTube:

“Ron Asher is a New Zealand writer and commentator on current affairs. He lived in Hong Kong when it was a British colony and has become increasingly concerned at the way China, through its state owned companies, is gaining enormous economic leverage over the New Zealand economy, aided and abetted by treacherous politicians who are well rewarded by the Communist regime after they retire from politics. Ron is the author of In the Jaws of the Dragon: How China Is Taking Over New Zealand.

Ron joins us for a conversation on China that is both fascinating and unsettling. To begin, Ron tells us about his book, In the Jaws of the Dragon. We learn that China has been systematically buying up land in New Zealand. Ron tells us about Confucius Institutes, which are used by the Chinese government for espionage and propaganda. We discuss how China, despite being Communist in name, is not Marxist in any meaningful sense. This leads to a discussion on the current state of China, which, as Ron explains, is corrupt, polluted, and has no rule of law. The first hour also touches on the recent increase in Chinese militarism, the difference between mainland Chinese and those in Hong Kong, and the NZ-China Free Trade Agreement.” (continued on next page) and here is the books description:

“China Inc., the business arm of China’s repressive dictatorship, is trying to take over the world by grabbing key sectors of various countries’ economies as part of its strategic plan for global control of the world’s resources. China’s rapid arms build-up suggests that it is preparing to back its ever increasing demands on other countries with force.

China chose New Zealand as the first Western country with which to have a free trade agreement, which is more about colonising and dominating our economy than about free trade. Since then the New Zealand government has bent over backwards to accommodate the interests of China Inc. - often at the expense of the

NO CHRISTIANITY PLEASE, WE’RE ISLAMIC NOW by Peter Ewer

Does anyone remember the film, No Sex Please, We’re British (1973)? You don’t? Me neither. But if I had seen it, rather than just remembering the title, after thumbing through the film section of the newspaper in the 1970s, I would no doubt feel that it represented the West’s plight today, which is becoming a tragicomic theatre of the absurd: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Theatre_of_the_Absurd.

Christianity has been banned from New Jersey public schools, only to be replaced by, guess what...Islam, the emerging religion of the global elites, at least level 2: <http://constitution.com/islam-ok-christianity-illegal-nj-public-schools/>.

While there has been an active banning of the Christian Bible in schools, US students, notably in New Jersey schools, have been taught about Islam, and given assignments about it, but about no other religion. There is reading and teaching the Quran, reciting the Islamic call to prayer and that Allah is God, and allowing Muslim students to roll out their prayer rugs and pray to Mecca during school hours. A case could be made for all of this if there was an equal treatment of all religions, but the articles on the net indicate that this is not so: <http://beforeitsnews.com/opinion-conservative/2017/02/nj-public-school-teaches-islam-but-no-other-religions-3253635.html>.

The eager embrace of Islam by the Left and the chattering class, at the lower end of the elites (certainly not something done by the higher celestial financial elites), stems from their hatred of Western civilisation a product off being spoilt by affluence, and hence degeneration and decadence: https://archive.org/stream/Decline-Of-The-West-Oswald-Spengler/Decline_Of_The_West_djvu.txt.

It is the same reason why the Left, with its Fanatical passion for globalisation and one world is quite prepared to do the dirty work of global financial capitalism in supporting mass immigration, taking of course, the moral high ground: http://takimag.com/article/whats_so_bad_about_globalism_jim_goad#axzz4aUZTvrpc.

prospects and interests of ordinary New Zealanders, e.g. the refusal to do anything meaningful to halt the unnatural rise in house prices, fueled in large part by Chinese cash, and the unnecessary grants of approval for the alienation of the Crafar farms and the giant Silver Fern Farms co-operative to Chinese interests.

This book should be read by every New Zealander since it affects the future prospects of the country in respect of economic welfare, sovereignty and national security. It is a case of getting a grip on the situation now or sleepwalking to a situation where New Zealanders will finish up as lowly paid serfs in the land that was built by the sweat and toil of the pioneers.”

The Left are the allies of anti-Western terrorists, and happy to be so: <http://newstarget.com/2017-02-17-the-chaos-promoting-left-has-become-a-powerful-ally-of-anti-american-terrorists.html>.

Jennifer Oriel, “New Right Leads the Fight to Reclaim Western Virtues,” The Australian, March 6, 2017, p. 10, has given her take on this, which is excellent for a piece in the mainstream media, and well worth quoting:

“The foundational thesis of the 21st-century left is Orwellian doublethink. Codified inequality that promotes minority supremacy through affirmative action law is rebranded equality. The systemic censorship of conservative thought is called free speech. Consistent with its neo-Marxist creed, the modern left suppresses the silent Western majority; punishes politically incorrect thought; undermines the free world by weakening the nation-state system and vilifying Western patriots; purges conservatives from publicly funded institutions; and imposes punitive taxes on wealth creators and hard workers to fatten the parasite class.

The new right is a counter-revolution whose seeds were sown in the 1970s, the decade neo-Marxism took root within the West. As Roger Kimball wrote in The Long March, the new left’s method of gradualism meant “working against the established institutions while working in them”. By almost destroying the liberal in liberal democracy, the left has prepared the ground for totalitarian politics. But it didn’t see the new right coming, whose members hail from both left and right united by the fight for the West. The new right has come to take our civilisation back.”

That pretty much sums it all up: we want our civilisation back, now! ***

SECTION 18C IS A SYMBOL OF THE COMING NEED FOR SECESSIONISM IN AUSTRALIA

by Ian Wilson LL.B.

There is consensus among conservatives that section 18C of the Racial Discrimination Act, has been, and certainly is now, a threat to free speech, even a very modest version. (The Australian, March 1, 2017, p. 4). This is because, as shown by recent cases, this law makes it unlawful to make public statements that are offensive to ethnic minorities, and the question of offensiveness is decided not by consideration of the standards of the ordinary reasonable person, but by the ethnic community that has been offended. Talk about a conflict of interest!

How could one not get tyranny from such a result? What if the ethnic community in question, call them Martians, had done things, which were bad, harmful to the interests of another community? This, after all, is what ethnic conflict is all about. It becomes impossible to criticise that ethnic community because by definition, someone will be offended, because that is part of having an ethnic interest. So, freedom of speech becomes impossible because the bar of “offense” is impossibility low. What happens then when there is no longer a lawful method of dealing with conflict through words? Take an educated guess.

The Left, progressives and professional ethnics will have none of this, and see section 18C as necessary to hold back a tidal wave of racism, all from Anglo-Australians, whom they racially vilify as racists. Even if this was true, their only explanation for this is that Anglo-Australians are racists who need to be hit hard with the full force of the law to be silenced. No matter, that if they really were racists, they would not be worrying about small measures like the law, to halt their hypothetical racism.

HOW THE POLITICALLY CORRECT COURTS MANIPULATE THE LAW

by Ian Wilson LL.B.

If only I could get before a court and give them my wisdom and reason, why, I could change the world. I have heard this many, many, times, and am sorry to say that it is just not true. On the big questions, courts always come down on the side of the Establishment and Deep State, for the very good reason, that they are part of the team.

For example, the US Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit, much like our Federal court, upheld Maryland’s ban on assault rifles, holding that the Second Amendment did not cover weapons “most useful in military service.” The Court concluded that assault rifles are “devastating weapons of war whose only legitimate purpose is to lay waste to a battlefield full of combatants.” See: <http://www.nydailynews.com/news/national/federal-court-assault-rifles-not-protected-amendment-article-1.2979133>.

There are laws against drug trafficking, but plenty of that still goes on.

As it now stands, the parliamentary review has predictably backed only a “process change” to the rules, including replacing the terms of 18C, such as “insult,” “offend” and “humiliate,” with the word “harass.” This is somewhat superficially better than things at present, but I predict that our politically correct courts are just going to redefine the word “harass,” so that it includes “offend” anyway. There will then be a continuing expanding round of cases.

At present, there has been a “blowout” in racial hatred cases: The Australian, February 28, 2017, p. 7. This is only likely to get worse because section 18C has now taken on a life of its own, becoming an ethnic/multicult symbol of power.

All of the cultural war problems discussed at this site indicate that Australia has become so divided that it is desirable for it to now split up: but not as the progressives plan. The division should be between traditional Australia and progressive Australia, if you like, the Californians down under. Why should a marriage producing untold misery continue?

They hate us, and I think we now hate them.

Time for divorce everyone: http://takimag.com/article/is_secession_a_solution_to_cultural_war_patrick_buchanan/print#axzz4a7U7mR80.

This may be the only peaceful outcome of a cultural war. The Left would be free to impose the upper limits of politically correct laws and cultural practices to their hearts’ content. Isn’t that better for us all? ***

The irrationality of this judgment is evident.

“Assault rifle,” is defined, not a fully automatic/select fire military rifle, such as the US service rifle, the M16A4, but to include even sporting semi-auto rifles which look military, such as by adding a flash suppressor. Do that and one has a dangerous military rifle!

The US Supreme Court case of Heller v. District of Columbia (2008), said that the Second Amendment did not apply to “dangerous and unusual” weapons that were not “in common use for lawful purposes.”

Flash suppressors and large capacity magazines are in fact in common use in the United States. Nevertheless, the courts, at least the lower ones, have engaged in law making of their own. As I said, we need to change society first, rather than hope for a change in the law to magically solve everything. ***

THE FREEFALL OF ALL UNIVERSITIES by James Reed

It is not just our Australian universities that are diseased with political correctness: it is a problem seen right across the West, and even Oxford University is subject to this regime: <http://www.thetimes.co.uk/edition/news/christian-accuses-oxford-of-bias-g8mss9w02>.

A trainee Church of England priest at Oxford University, Shahriar Ashrafkhorasani (33 years) who is near completing his Masters of Applied Theology, has accused the University of discrimination and bias, saying that he was told he could not ask a lecturer a critical questions about Islam. The student has filed a formal complaint to the university's proctors' office. He claims the lecturer pointed at him in a seminar and said: "Everybody can ask a question except you." Seems pretty discriminatory to me! What is novel about this case of intellectual suppression is that the student is himself of a Muslim background, so the usual race card could not be played. Nevertheless, no criticism is tolerated, not even a question.

There are a few brave intellectuals who refuse to bow to the cult of political correctness, such as Professor Jordan Peterson of the University of Toronto, who has been critical of aspects of the gender agenda: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=X_Kfm_qWpN0 He sees the cultural Marxists as having invaded the campus....

The Enlightenment has ended and the new Dark Ages, now sweep over the West, like something from the early part of The Lord of the Rings: <https://www.amazon.com/Dark-Ages-America-Final-Empire/dp/0393329771> ***

IMPOSSIBLE MATTER: SUPERSOLIDS by Brian Simpson

The League is always pleased to keep readers up-to-date with exciting scientific developments, well, at least those that I find interesting. Like "impossible" matter.

One recent paper, one of two, shows how to create matter which simultaneously has the properties of both a fluid and a solid is J. Li (et al.), "A Striped Phase with Supersolid Properties in Spin-Orbit-Coupled Bose-Einstein Condensates," Nature, March 2, 2017. Unfortunately, you may not be able to create these weird quantum states in your kitchen, or out the back in the tool shed. Cutting to the chase, Bose-Einstein condensates are a fifth state of matter, where atoms at super-cold temperatures begin to act like waves. Superfluids exist in ultra-cold states, near absolute zero, and have zero viscosity, flowing with no loss of kinetic energy. When stirred a superfluid continues to rotate indefinitely. Cool, eh?

A solid structure that could act like a superfluid could have a revolutionary impact on materials science, giving us "liquid metal," best seen in the Terminator movies featuring killer shape-changing robots. But, there may be more innocent uses. In any case, this example shows that what we take to be a given, that something is either a solid or a liquid, is not necessarily so. ***
