THE FADING OF THE CITY OF LIGHTS By Richard Miller

Britain knows the score, having been well trained by its elites; but perhaps France is just a little behind, and needs some catching up: <https://www.breitbart.com/london/2018/04/05/off-duty-french-soldiers-arrested-fighting-off-youth-robbing-woman/>

Le Parisien reports:

“A trio of French soldiers on leave was arrested and face prosecution after they intervened to help a woman who was being robbed by a youth on the streets of Paris. Following an investigation by the Railway Network Squad (BRF), the three soldiers and the youth were arrested. ‘At the public prosecutor’s office, they did not agree on what to do,’ a source close to the investigation said and added: ‘Some wanted to give them up to the military. Finally, a prosecutor’s assistant decided to prosecute the soldiers’.”

Ok, that is getting back on track: at all costs allow the criminals, who are the ultimate victims, to achieve self-expression by doing what they need to do. After all, if people did not have property, they could not be robbed, could they? Thus, the roaming gangs of underage migrant gangs are simply an expression of cultural diversity, and should be nothing to worry about. French postmodern deconstructionists should be able to socially construct a solution, which would no doubt entail much more and more immigration:

PS: while France will sink into the sands of history, Eastern Europe, which has not been as subjected to the attack of the multicult, seems determined to put up the fight that Europe is not:

“Hungary’s Viktor Orbán has told supporters he will use his third consecutive election victory as an opportunity to advance into a ‘new era’, with Central Europe becoming a bastion of Christian culture and nation-state democracy as multicultural globalism turns liberal democracies into ‘liberal non-democracies’. Speaking at an event in the predominantly ethnic Hungarian region of Székely Land in Romania, the Fidesz leader said he was looking forward to the end of the present European Commission led by Jean-Claude Juncker, and to elections to the European Parliament in 2019 — which he predicts will for the first time revolve around one common European issue: mass migration. Orbán said these elections would provide an opportunity to block ‘the great goal of transforming Europe and moving it towards a post-Christian and post-national era’ and hand a heavy defeat to ‘the elite of ‘68’ and their liberal democratic system.

“In European politics it is the turn of the anti-communist generation, which has Christian convictions and commitment to the nation— he declared.”

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

to The Australian There is no justification whatever for armed struggle by Aboriginal activist gangs (“‘Unsatisfied anger’ could become armed struggle: Dodson”, 3/8) and it is regrettable that Professor Mick Dodson suggested otherwise when launching Peter Cotton’s novel Dead Heat. There is no “ongoing dispossession” occurring and Australians having Aboriginal ancestry now share the infrastructure and well-being of one of the most livable nations in the world, for which they should be grateful (as most, one suspects, are).

We have, not unexpectedly, been shown the iron fist in the soft glove of the “constitutional recognition” campaign. It provides further reason for resolutely opposing that unjust and divisive approach to indigenous affairs. Nigel Jackson, Belgrave, Vic

THE MEDIA; ENEMY OF THE PEOPLE By Chris Knight

President Trump has not done much, but what he has done is spearhead a much-needed attack upon the mainstream media. In turn, the media have responded that he is aiding those who would want to restrict the freedom of the press. The ethical issues need to be thought through from our perspective, though:

The issue from our perspective is how we should respond to the call for freedom of the press. Yet the present debate is based on false premises. The mainstream media is a monopoly, and pursues an agenda which is in support of the global financial elite who own it. It has never been free, and is a profoundly anti-democratic institution. Therefore, it is not something that should in any way be supported, but needs to be under constant critical attack. Ultimately the people need to vote with their feet and bankrupt the mainstream media.

There are some positive signs of this, in the general sea of negativity that we writers have to chart each day. The wild and woolly Steve Bannon, who once served Trump, is now going to take on George Soros, and it is about time, too:

<https://www.zerohedge.com/news/2018-07-28/bannon-sets-eu-showdown-george-soros>

Trump's former White House chief advisor told The Daily Beast that he is setting up a foundation in Europe called The Movement which he hopes will lead a right-wing populist revolt across the continent starting with the European Parliament elections next spring. The non-profit will be a central source of polling, advice on messaging, data targeting, and think-tank research for a ragtag band of right-wingers who are surging all over Europe, in many cases without professional political structures or significant budgets. Bannon's ambition is for his organization ultimately to rival the impact of Soros's Open Society, which has given away $32 billion to largely liberal causes since it was established in 1984. Over the past year, Bannon has held talks with right-wing groups across the continent from Nigel Farage and members of Marine Le Pen's Front National (recently renamed Rassemblement National) in the West, to Hungary's Viktor Orbán and the Polish populists in the East. He envisions a right-wing "supergroup" within the European Parliament that could attract as many as a third of the lawmakers after next May's Europe-wide elections. A united populist bloc of that size would have the ability to seriously disrupt parliamentary proceedings, potentially granting Bannon huge power within the populist movement."

Anne Coulter needs to do the same in the US. If only Pauline Hanson could join up the dots as well. Losing that great man Graeme Campbell was a national tragedy. Hopefully a young version may emerge in the future. ***

CHRISTIANS NEED NOT APPLY By James Reed

First things first:

"The British government has admitted that no Christians were taken among the Syrian refugees flown into Britain recently, with the Home Office rejecting the handful of non-Muslims selected for resettlement by the United Nations. Despite the persecution of Christians at the hands of Islamic extremists in Syria having been declared genocide by the U.S., the European Union (EU) and even British MPs themselves in a 2016 parliamentary vote, the 1,112 Syrians that Britain resettled in the first three months of 2018 consisted only of Muslims. The Barnabas Fund, an aid agency which supports Christians persecuted for their faith, obtained the figures via Freedom of Information requests after

'a protracted tussle with the Home Office', The Sunday Times reports.

<https://www.breitbart.com/london/2018/07/29/syrian-muslim-uk-rejects-christians/>

So, with the official narrative about the need to save the lives of desperate refugees, a point made strongly by the scores of Left women pro-migrant protesters (refugees not racists), how is all of this squared? It seems like there is a strong Muslim bias in the refugee lottery. Could there be an agenda to make the West Islamic? No, that would be conspiratorial. Hence, the goal must surely be to bring in the next generation of rocket scientists who will provide pension and health care money via tax revenue to an ageing boomer population, who did what they could to "give peace a chance." Just "imagine" that. ***

VIDEOS, RESURFACING FROM THE MEMORY HOLE By Mrs Vera West

For all our anti-vax friends, you will be pleased to know that lots of formerly banned anti-vaccination material is being uploaded to REAL video. This presents suppressed evidence about ill-health and side effects from vaccinations. Readers should therefore check this:

<https://www.naturalnews.com/2018-07-25-world-mercury-project-video-banned-by-facebook-now-available-at-real-video-see-epidemic-the-science.html>

As the mainstream goes full censorship, rather than to stand their ground and debate, alternative information sources in the health area are more important than ever. In fact, intellectual suppression first occurred in the health field given the vast fortunes of money tied up in it, so alternative avenues of information are not as isolated as we see in other political areas.

A PEEP AT THE OPEN BORDERERS By James Reed

We have heard a lot about George Soros and his drive to end the Western nation state and create open borders, leading to a vast tragedy of the commons and universal misery and tyranny, and the creation of not open but closed, if not dead societies – but who else follows the doomsday cult of open borders? Why, more of the super-rich, of course:

<https://www.breitbart.com/big-government/2018/07/30/>

charles-koch-trump-tariffs-ridiculous-unfair-foreigners/

“Pro-mass immigration GOP mega-donor billionaire Koch brothers are threatening to support Democrats who push for open borders and multinational free trade in the upcoming midterm elections.

During a conference with millionaire and billionaire donors, officials with the Kochs’ network of organizations said that they would gladly put funding in the pockets of Democrats so long as they support aspects of their agenda, which include promoting mass immigration and job-killing free trade deals.

‘I know this is uncomfortable,’ Americans for Prosperity CEO Emily Seidel told donors, according to CNBC. ‘If you are a Democrat and stand up to Elizabeth Warren to corral enough votes for financial reform that breaks barriers for community banks and families, you’re darn right we will work with you.’”

The magic of the election of Trump is that it has brought it all out in the open for the final showdown, Armageddon if you like, is rapidly approaching. ***

100 PERCENT CONCENTRATED EVIL By Chris Knight

Coming face to face with 100 percent evil is, to say the least, a very disturbing experience. Typically, people think about mass murderers who do grisly things to individuals. But, the real people to be scared about are the elites, who can bring down the curtain of the civilised world. I do not exaggerate, and US politics is exposing levels of rot and corruption that have not been aired in public before:

<https://www.breitbart.com/video/2018/07/27/>

dershowitz-even-if-cohens-claims-are-true-its-not-a-crime-its-a-political-problem/

“Fox News Channel legal analyst Gregg Jarrett, author of The Russia Hoax: The Illicit Scheme to Clear Hillary Clinton and Frame Donald Trump, described the “Trump-Russia collusion” as “an effort to undo the election.” He offered his remarks during a Wednesday interview on SiriusXM’s Breitbart News Tonight with Breitbart News Senior Editors-at-Large Rebecca Mansour and Joel Pollak. Jarrett said, “There was scheme to clear Hillary Clinton and frame Donald Trump. Top officials at the FBI and the Department of Justice were threatened by Trump; this guy is going to come in there and drain the swamp, and that threatened their jobs and their positions. There is nothing that will motivate people more than power forfeited, so people like James Comey, Peter Strzok, Lisa Page, Andy McCabe, people at the Department of Justice decided that they were going to clear Hillary Clinton of the many crimes she surely committed. To do that, they had to twist the facts and contort the law.”

We have the incredible situation, where the evil mainstream press has been pumping out the narrative that the Russians hack the Democrat emails and damaged their election prospects. Well, if they did, what was exposed? How was damage done if these sods were doing nothing wrong? Of course, the emails exposed wrong doing. Somehow, the contents of the emails just do not get discussed: presumably only exposing the evils doers and is a bigger evil than the initial evil. This is utterly crazy, indicating that the political system has moved to previously unheard levels of insanity. How then could there be any rational resolution of such issues? Surely not, for reason seems to have died in this process, much like the road kill we see when driving in the bush of Oz. ***

LET’S NOT FORGET SOCIALIST NEW ZEALAND. WHO? By James Reed

A big hello to all our friends in socialist New Zealand, who face the same struggles which we do here, with socialist absurdities such as this:

“New Zealand’s most violent and disturbed inmates will soon be able to walk on real grass, take sun baths and practise yoga in their cells as the country opens its first “humane” prison for maximum-security offenders. The NZ$300m prison has just been completed on the outskirts of Auckland and, when it opens, will be the only specialist facility for maximum- and high-security male prisoners in the country. New Zealand has one of the highest incarceration rates in the developed world, with Māori people accounting for more than 50% of all prisoners, despite representing only 15% of the overall population. Some 90% of prisoners have a life-long diagnosis of mental illness or addiction.

Auckland East is partially replacing the 50-year old Paremuremo prison, which was modelled on US “supermax” prisons such as Marion and Alcatraz.

“The old prison was built for staff to be kept away from prisoners and prisoners away from staff ... even though we are dealing with prisoners who display very challenging behaviours, the facilities do not necessarily need to be austere or oppressive,” said Beales, who started his custodial career in Strangeways prison just after the 1990 riot.”

How about a sober reflection on New Zealand’s crime rates? ***

(SMART) MICROWAVE RADIATION AND THE HEART By Mrs Vera West

Ok, we have all heard that microwave radiation is set to turn us all into super-heroes (e.g. The Fantastic Four), no, kill our brain cells, also the gut microbiota, but what does it do to our hearts? I had not thought about that one until now:

<https://www.naturalhealth365.com/smart-meters-emf-2268.html>

“The video (below) shows Warren Woodward, a specialist in smart meter microwave transmission power, connected to an EKG monitor while lying near an Elster smart meter. The Elster is connected to a high frequency analyzer, which measures microwave frequencies. As the HFA alternates between readings of 00.1 and 00.2, the EKG laptop monitor display – which shows the electrical activity of Woodward’s heart – indicates a regular, symmetrical pattern. When the meter momentarily spikes to 139.3, there is a corresponding – and drastic – alteration in Woodward’s EKG pattern.

According to Dr. Gilberto Leon, a holistic medicine doctor in Chandler, AZ, the symmetrical pattern represents the characteristic waves of normal heart rhythm.

TARGET FOR THE WEEK

Lauren Southern is an overseas speaker who has advised Australian audiences to be careful of immigration policies. She warns against generous policies which enable big numbers of migrants with a wide cultural diversity, into Australia. Apart from her providing a constructive approach to maintaining our culture, Lauren Southern experienced disruptive crowds near her meetings. We should note that the meetings were orderly whereas the demonstrators beyond were the source of disturbance. Police were required to keep the situation secure and as peaceful as possible. Organisers of the meeting received a bill from the Victorian Government Police Minister for $68 000 for the protection. One would presume this to be completely without precedent! When did anyone have to pay for the police to maintain order? Surely that is their task.

This policy opens the proverbial ‘can of worms’ because either every event will be charged for protection or ‘selected’ groups will have to pay when they stage a function. In the case of the latter; who will determine which groups must pay? Would it be applied to those who wish to save whales or perhaps those opposing compulsory vaccination?

Victorian readers should contact their MP’s and write to papers demanding this $68 000 bill be extinguished. We definitely do not wish to go down such a dangerous road. Extinguish it before it becomes a precedent from which to launch further bills. Readers in other States need to draw this policy to the attention of their MP’s and advise them never to contemplate such a policy. ***

ON TARGET

The sudden irregularity, which he describes as a ‘massive’ change in the pattern, occurs at a time when Woodward’s heart should be resting.

Over time, this type of reaction makes the heart work too hard, causing fatigued cardiac function, Leon says. And, the process is symptomless and “silent” – especially in healthy people, who may not feel the disruption. Describing the bombardment of microwave frequencies as “an unnatural sequence of events that we’re not programmed to respond to,” Leon confirms that frequencies from smart meters have an effect on myocardial function.”

Here is the video referred to above:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=p-aNRQNRtaI>

Could it be that our oh so comfortable technological world will have the unexpected black swan effect of giving us short term gains, but longer term pains, and ultimately annihilate us, from the heart side out? ***
